"Pop just can't wait to change when he sees butter on baked potatoes."

Baked potatoes topped with a pat of golden butter — that's a combination like ham 'n' eggs—cheese 'n' crackers. The matchless flavor of butter does so much for the appetite appeal of vegetables, and so many other foods. Butter adds energy, too—it's rich in the minerals and vitamins we all need, especially Vitamin A. That natural golden color of butter comes from golden cream — four pints of pure sweet cream to make a pound of butter. Yes—for downright goodness, for nutrition, for health, Butter is your best buy.

"ALWAYS BETTER THAN NEED BE"

Iowa must recognize its present weakness in order to realize its future strength. That was the comment of Fred K. Schmidt, legislative chairman of the Iowa State Education association, in explaining the distribution of the accompanying chart on state support of schools. Schmidt, who is superintendent of schools at Eldora and immediate past president of the ISEA, pointed to Iowa's low position in the state support picture and said that only in recent years have we moved up from last place to forty-fourth among the states of the nation.

"Every property taxpayer in Iowa should be able to testify", he said, "that we cannot offer an adequate educational program unless we make further substantial increases in the share of school costs borne by the state. Also it is only through such action that local tax levies can be reduced." At the present time, Iowa provides 13.75 per cent of total public school costs from state funds. The national average is 43.3 per cent.

Schmidt pointed to the fact that Governor William S. Beardsley, in his inaugural message, called for state aid equal to one-fourth of the total costs of education. "The Governor's program would greatly improve Iowa's standing," he said, "and it is certainly a reasonable goal for this session of the legislature, when one considers the fact that it would still leave us in the lower fourth of all states in this type of suppor."

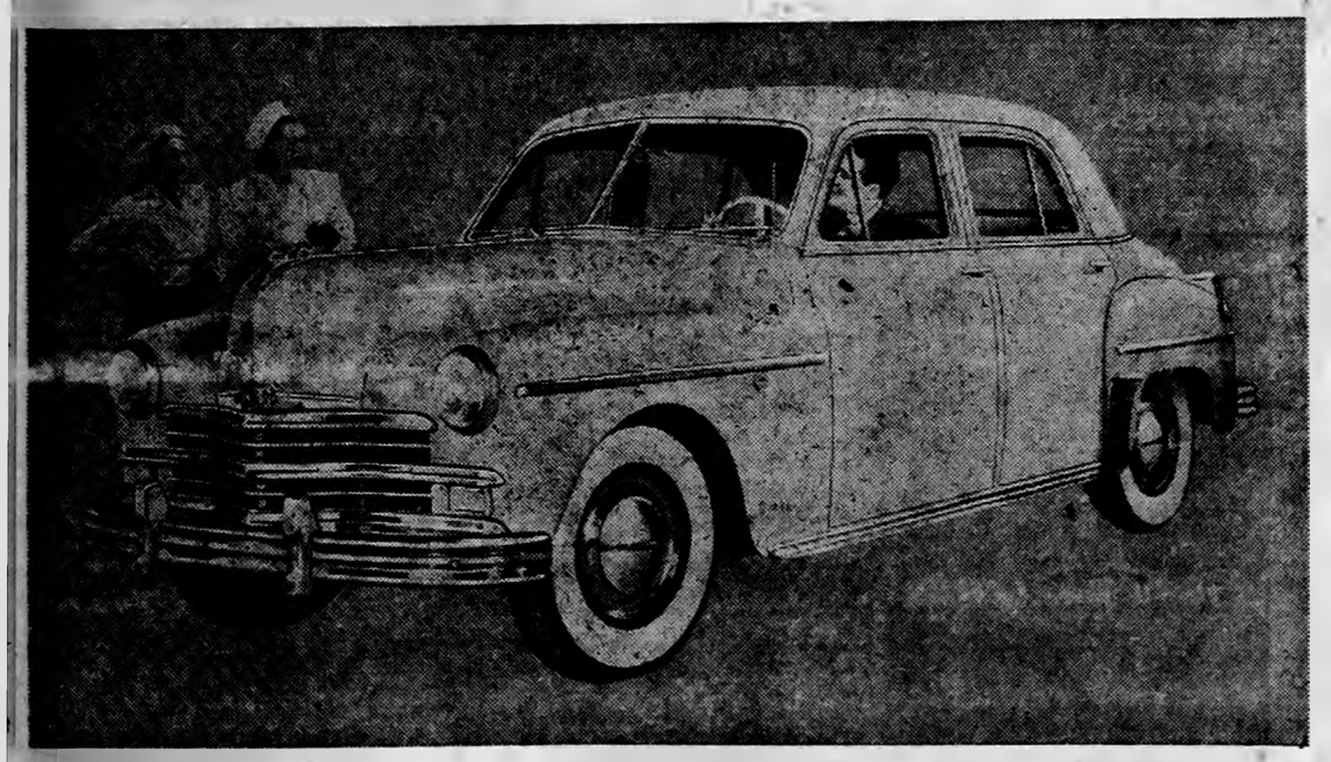
New Plymouth on Display



Plymouth's new special deluxe four-door sedan (above). Throughout the new Plymouth line beautifully streamlined bodies are lower and narrower, seats are wider and headroom greater. At the same time overall exterior dimensions are reduced, but wheelbase has been lengthened to 118 inches and glass area is increased. Horsepower is raised to 97. Although fenders flow gracefully into the body they are detachable for ease in repair.

New Plymouth Features Beauty, Performance, Safety and Comfort

Brilliant new styling is combined with outstanding riding comfort, increased roominess, and sweeping mechanical improvements in the new line of Plymouth automobiles.

Completely redesigned, the new Plymouth has a longer wheelbase for a better ride and more road stability, but less front and rear overhang for easier parking and garaging. While the silhouette has been lowered and the width decreased, there is more head and leg room and seats are wider. Typical of Plymouth's many refinements is the ignition-starter combination, with which a turn of the key starts the engine.

The new Plymouths are sleek in appearance. New rear-end styling provides a graceful balance with the horizontal grille lines which emphasize the broadness of the front. Fenders which blend perfectly into body lines are nevertheless separate and detachable, thus avoiding sheet metal panels so costly to repair or replace.

The new Plymouth line includes nine distinct automobiles. Special deluxe and deluxe types are on a 118-inch wheelbase, one inch longer than last year's. Special deluxe models are: four-door sedan, club coupe, convertible club coupe and station wagon. In the deluxe group are the four-door sedan and the club coupe. In addition, Plymouth will build three deluxe models on a brand new 111-inch wheelbase, a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and a new body type, the Suburban.

The 97-horsepower engine has improved performance and efficiency with a new design cylinder head which increases compression ratio to 7 to 1. A new chrome plated compression piston ring reduces cylinder wear and provides greater protection during the break-in period. There are improved oil rings for greater oil economy, while a newly-designed intake manifold induces quicker, smoother engine warm-up and produces faster throttle response.

Body styling which produces greater passenger room without excessive bulk also increases visibility. V-type windshields have 37 percent more area and provide excellent vision without distortion. Windshield wipers clear 61.5 percent greater area and the rear window is 35.4 percent larger.

"The recent appearance of rabies in several Iowa communities indicates that the disease may be on the increase," stated Dr. Ralph H. Heeren, Director of the Division of Preventable Diseases of the Iowa State Department of Health in a statement issued today. "While certain wild animals as the fox and skunk may act as reservoirs of the disease in this state, the disease is usually brought to us and our farm livestock through the infected dog."

There is no standard rabies control plan, but there are broad basic principles which, if followed, will control rabies in any area. These principles include the impounding and destruction of all stray and ownerless dogs; annual anti-rabies vaccination of all dogs; and registration or licensing of all dogs. These principles apply more directly to control of rabies in towns and cites, but with a little modification can be applied to rural areas as well.

For a successful rabies control program in your community, Dr. Heeren recommends that you consider these points. Vaccinated dogs, properly tagged, may be allowed at large 30 days after vaccination The vaccine is not fully effective until the end of this period. In the face of an outbreak of rabies in the community a strict quarantine should be placed on all dogs which requires that they be kept confined or on a leash when walked out of doors. The permitting of muzzled dogs to run at large during the quarantine period is not recommended, since it defeats the purpose of the quarantine Dogs under six months of age, which are particularly susceptible and and not as readily immunized, should be kept confined. Biting dogs and suspected rabid animals should be impounded for an observation period of 14 days. Dogs known to have been exposed to rabies should be destroyed or kept confined under observation for six months.

In case of rabies outbreaks in wild life, such as foxes, trapping programs should be instituted in cooperation with the State Wildlife Conservation authorities. All cases of rabies in man and animals should be reported to the local health officials.

Cancer Fund Campaign Has No Tieup With Magazine Solicitors

H. B. Hook of Mason City, state campaign chairman of the American Cancer Society, Iowa division, has received reports that door to door magazine solicitors in some parts of Iowa are representing themselves as workers for the cancer drive. According to these reports, the solicitor is telling prospective subscribers that half or some part of the profits go toward cancer research.

Hook made the following statement, "The American Cancer Society wants it clearly understood that no magazine solicitors have any authoritiy to collect funds in the name of the Society, and that no such tieups with merchandise sales have been sanctioned by the Society. Our annual drive for funds will be held in April, which is cancer control month by resolution of the congress. It is conducted in each county by persons within that countly, and in no instance by people from other counties or states."

ADAMS PHARMACY

Hold Weekly Clinics For Both Farm Workers And Farm Employers

All farmers and farm hands are invited to attend farm clinics to be held in the Iowa State Employment Service, Webster City or at the Banwell Implement store, Clarion, on Thursday afternoon (today), March 10 from 1:00 until 4:00. These clinics will continue for several weeks on Thursday afternoons at both places.

Two clinics have been held already with 51 farm employers and 15 farm workers in attendance. Discussion showed that there is an urgent need for both single and married farm hands for steady year-round work. Majority of farmers have two and three-room housing, offer wages of $125 to $140 a month with plenty of extras for married farm hands, $110 to $135 for single farm hands with board, room and laundry.

Married and single farmhands interested in steady year around farm work may contact representatives in this area: Clark McNeal, Courson and McNeal Agency, Belmond; D. B. Swisher, Spahn and Rose Lumber Co., Galt; Richard Bowman, Bowman Tire and Repair, Galt, or the ISES office at Webster City.

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

by Byron Phillips

Spring made its first appearance this year in true fashion, with a light snow on the last day of winter, a typical March day Sunday and to make things complete, a shower on Monday, the second day of spring.

—M-S—

One of the first signs that spring was just around the corner was noticed last Friday when George Kyser discovered that one of his pheasants had laid an "early season" egg. The egg, which is slightly larger than a Bantam's, is the first of an expected 1,000 from his flock of 60 birds.

—M-S—

A member of the Iowa State College staff was much surprised (and probably pleased) last week when a sweet young voice said "so long, Paul" as he was leaving one of the local eating places.

—M-S—

R. E. Lee Aldrich paid the "Independent" office a visit this week, to tell us he would be spending part of the week in Des Moines with the Iowa State Legislature.

—M-S—

I wonder who the little girl was, light hair and standing almost three feet high, that quickly and quietly dropped in at the "Independent" office Tuesday and placed a local item on the counter and then was gone, quick, like an angel.

—M-S—

Main street was an air minded place Saturday night. A poll taken by two reporters showed 18 radios turned into the broadcast of the Boys' State tournament. The 18 radios had a total of 66 listeners.

—M-S—

Belmond Chamber of Commerce President R. W. Courson received the following letter from Forest City this week. "Gentlemen: Forest City and Northern Iowa will never forget the reception and welcome the folks of Belmond gave our Forest City team when we arrived last Sunday. Also the telegrams which were received at Iowa City were certainly morale lifters, they were appreciated a lot.

Forest City thinks Belmond is tops and that they show real sportsmanship as far as Forest City goes. Thanks mnch! Your trul!y, Roy Scharm, Mayor. p. s. Your banner idea is a much discussed topic of conversation in this community."

—M-S—

Henry "the Bachelor" Larsen called at the "Independent" office the other day to see the three girls on the Iowa State staff. He was disappointed to find that Jeanette and Ann were out on assignments and Jan was out selling an ad.

—M-S—

One of Belmond's retired farmers asked George Hansen the other day if he would advertise for a pitchfork with a seat on it. When asked why he wanted such a fork, the retired farmer said, "I thought my hired man might need it."

—M-S—

Herb Thompson, of the Forest City "Indians", commented, the day after the final game of the state tournament, "Belmond's Roger Kinseth was as good as any player I faced in the later tournament games."

Thompson was rated as one of the best players taking part in the state tournament.

—M-S—

With 22 pages of this week's edition off the presses, a count was taken of all the names in the paper. The total reached was 1,560 names. That is not so bad when you stop and remember the old saying "names make news." And this doesn't account for the last eight pages to be run.

—M-S—

The climax to a busy week in the "Independent" office was reached Tuesday night when two members of the staff, Jan and Bob, grabbed a couple brooms and started to "clean house."

It has been a busy week, which we, (the staff) will long remember.

VFW OFFICERS ELECTED

In listing the new officers of Pierce-Zeiger post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for 1949, several names were omitted in the last issue of the "Independent."

Newly elected officers are: Keith Chandler, senior vice-commander; Ted Behrends, junior vice-commander; C. N. Hofmeister, quartermaster; Carroll Bamford, chaplain; Marvin Reinders, surgeon; and Robert Churchouse, trustee.

Journalist To Speak To C of C Members Today

Prof. Rodney Fox, of the Iowa State College Department of Technical Journalism, will be principal speaker at the Belmond Chamber of Commerce meeting today.

The meeting will be held in the Library at 12 noon, according to C. C. Christie, program chairman. Christie urged all members to attend the luncheon meeting to hear Fox's talk.

Belmond Welcomes 'Indians'

Large Turnout Sunday For State Runners-up

Belmond turned out in force to greet the Forest City basketball team with one of the largest parades in the town's history last Sunday. The Forest City Indians had battled their way to the number two position in the state, being beaten only by Ottumwa in the final playoff by a 39 to 27 score.

The parade began at 1:30 near the General Mills plant on Highway 69 when the Belmond fire trucks led the procession, followed by an honor guard truck bearing a large "Welcome home, champs" sign. Next came a truck loaded with the Belmond High basketball team which was followed by two cars of Forest City players. In back of the lead cars came a roaring horde of happy rooters from both towns.

The parade stopped at the east end of Belmond where R. W. Courson officially welcomed the team. During his short speech, Courson jokingly remarked that for a long time the people of Belmond had wanted to meet the Forest City team off the court. Perhaps he had in mind the three defeats the Indians handed Belmond in the past season.

Courson introduced Jim Scott, Belmond's basketball coach, who stated that to him "Forest City was still the Northern Iowa champ." Scott then introduced Forest City's coach Del Mully as "a great guy and a great coach."

Mully came forward with a smile and thanked all those who had helped his boys along with their telegrams and good wishes. He introduced each player on the team and said both Rocky Rye and Herb Thompson should

Belmond Auto Co. Has New Manager

John C. Ubben has joined the staff of the Belmond Auto Company as new manager and shop foreman.

In announcing the appointment of Ubben as manager, Louis Tokman, co-owner, said that he has had 23 years of experience in automobile repair work, at least 15 of them with Ford agencies.

Ubben came here from Algona, where he was employed by the Kent Motor Company for the past 6 years. Before that time he worked for 8 years for the Johnson Motor Company in Iowa Falls. The balance of his 23 years as a mechanic were also spent in garage work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ubben have three children, two girls and one boy. They are now living at the E. P. Tracy residence.

Tokman suggests that everyone come in and meet the newest member of the Belmond Auto Company family.

Business to be taken care of includes election of officers and planning for the coming year.

Every owner of a cemetery lot is a member of the association and is strongly urged to attend the meeting.

Retiring officers besides Mrs. Luick are: A. C. Lieuwen, superintendent; Mrs. Daisy Cameron, vice president; Mrs. Mary Rankin, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Myrtle Trager, Mrs. Mary Fitts, and Ward Martin, trusteees.

Easter Service For New Church

The first service in the new Trinity Lutheran church is to be held on Easter Sunday, according to The Rev. Severseike. Building processes began on April 11, 1948, with the ground breaking ceremony, and the cornerstone was laid September 26.

The church will seat 400 people and will have colored art glass windows, which were given to the church as gifts.

Before entering the ministry, Rev. Severseike worked as a carpenter. He made use of his construction knowledge by helping to build the church during his free evenings, and now he feels that the structure "is really a part of myself."

Plans to build the church were started in 1944, but construction was delayed due to priority difficulties. However, during this time funds were laid aside.

"Not only did the church members contribute, but many of the townsfolk of other faiths presented gifts to the church too," the minister said.

Rev. Severseike was enthusiastic at this show of good will and also praised those who were in charge of purchasing building materials. "It took a lot of good management to keep costs down to a minimum," he said. "We began with a building estimate of $100,000, and we'll finish near that sum.

Education Program Success

Monday Night Classes Cover Variety of Subjects

Belmond parents are going to school again. The Adult Education program has proved successful in its first try in this community.

Over 130 persons, about 50 of them from Belmond farming communities have attended these classes. The twenty-hour courses have been designed to include information about agriculture and even a way to make paper manikins. The classes have been educational as well as interesting, according to comments gathered from the people attending.

The members of the Adult Education program owe a great deal to the Superintendent of Schools, Don A. Faris. Faris sent question-

P T A Sponsors Festival At Belmond High School

Nominations Open For King-Queen

Who will be the King and Queen of the Parent-Teachers Association's gala carnival Friday night? No one will know until all the votes are cast and counted up at a special polling place in the Belmond High School.

Nominations of persons to reign over the carnival have already been submitted from three different places, Main street, General Mills Plant, and Thompson Hybrid, according to Mrs. A. M. Larson, chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bamford will represent Main street, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pals, General Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Friesleben will be backed by Thompson Hybrid.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Nelson reigned over the 1948 Carnival. A real corsage will be presented to this year's queen instead of another carrot, onion, and radish corsage like the one presented Mrs. Nelson last year.

Tickets are now being sold, which entitle the holder to one vote for King and Queen, on Main street, at General Mills and Thompson Hybrid. They will also be available at the carnival.

Children's Sports Fund Will Receive Proceeds From Friday Night Fete

It's Carnival time in Belmond Friday evening at 7:30 with concessions, stunts, and other funmaking scheduled to take place in the gymnasium and on all four floors of Belmond High School.

The second annual Parent-Teachers Association Carnival will be given to raise funds for the group's coming years' activities. The main project will be a summer sports program for children.

The Carnival will start with a program of stunts by some of the parents. Designed to provide fun for everyone and funds for the P. T. A.'s work are the 20 concessions which will be set up in the school, according to Mrs. Cecil Carstens, general chairman.

There'll be a Cake Walk, with cakes for sale, contributed by the women; a Kangaroo Court where a person is lucky is he doesn't get fined for wearing a white shirt, a basketball throw for the more athletic-minded people; and a lunchroom where pies, cakes, and sandwiches will be sold. Other concessions include "Country Store," "Rat Race" originated by the local firemen, "Socko," and "Fish Pond."

High point of the carnival will be the coronation of the King and Queen. Awards for best stunts will also be given at this time.

The stunt program will be a complete change from what was given last year. Instead of having the children perform and the parents watch, the parents will attempt to amuse their children. Bill Mack will be master of ceremonies at the one hour show which starts at 7:30 in the high school auditorium.

Belmond Residents Give Opinion On Forest City Relations

by ANN NELSON

The talk of the town in Belmond last week was the state basketball tournament and the part Forest City played in it. It seems to us that the wholehearted support Belmond gave to one of its arch rivals Forest City will bring about a closer cooperation between the two towns in everything they do.

Since we are only strangers in the town we went out to check on the opinions of many of Belmond's citizens. Our question was this:

"What effect do you think Belmond's support of Forest City in the basketball tournament will have on the relationship between the two towns?"

R. A. Henderson, lawyer: "I feel that the sportsmanship extended by the business men of both cities should be of great benefit to and set a very good example for those engaged in athletics between the schools, and will doubtless lead to a better feeling between the schools."

Dr. A. M. Nelson, president of the Gridiron Club: "I think the rivalry between the two schools will change for the better due to an increase in sportsmanship."

Ronald W. Courson, Chamber of Commerce: "I hope it will make better rivalry between the two schools. I feel there will be better spirit as well as competition."

Beverly Lerdal, Belmond High Soph.: "I think rivalries will increase, but there will be a better grade of sportsmanship."

Frances Palmer, Belmond High Fr.: "In my opinion, the sportsmanship will be better. I don't think there will be as much rivalry as there has been."

Bob Berns, Belmond High Jr.: "I don't think there will be any change in the rivalry of the two schools. The support was a good idea, though."

Dave Pals, Belmond High Jr.: "I think Belmond's support of Forest City was a good idea and will lessen the rivalry between them to some extent.

Mrs. R. Holgate, clerk: "There will be much better feeling than there has been, in my opinion. The idea of the banner was to patch up the differences there always have been between the two towns."

L. M. Green, retired farmer: "I hope there will be cooperation between Belmond and Forest City. I don't know that there has been anything else."

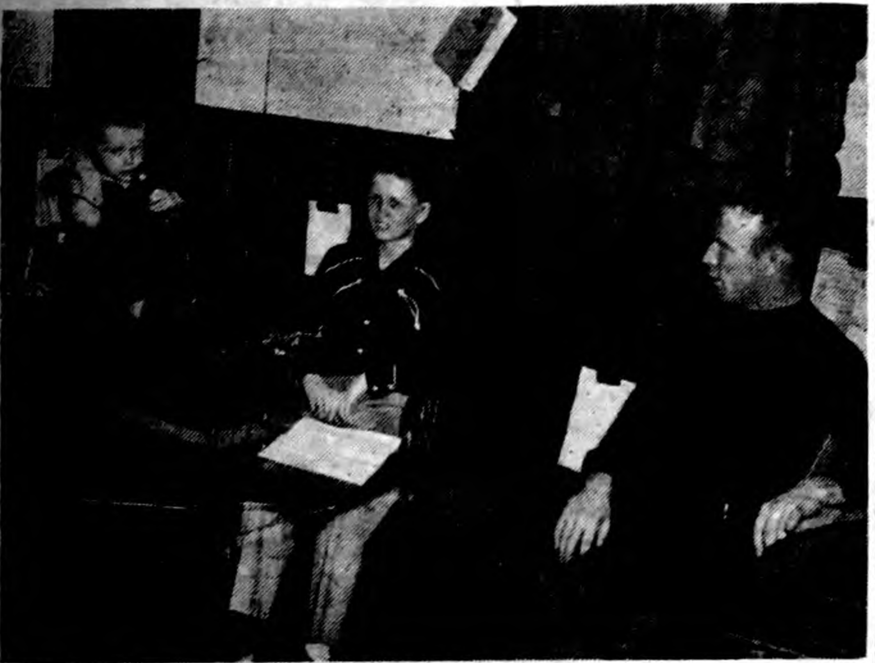
Marilyn Madsen, Belmond High Jr.: "It will lessen the strain between the two schools. There has been quite a bit of competition recently in which Forest City has always come out on top."

Mrs. D. L. Boomer, clerk: "I should think there would be a pretty good feeling between the two towns. The whole-hearted support we gave Forest City should bring about good sportsmanship."

Mr. Merle Bonte, businessman: "I think conditions will be a little better because of our good support of the Forest City team."

Pete English, businesman: "We gave them good support. The sportsmanship between the two towns should increase, because we really showed them good sportsmanship."

Baby Sitting Problem Solved As Mickey Learns Railroad Life



"Now say 'hello' to grandma," Mrs. A. K. Ketchum tells her two-year-old son, Mickey. The Ketchums don't have to hire a baby sitter when they work at the station because Mickey comes down with them. Mrs. Ketchum helps her husband with all kinds of work in the station; they do everything from operating the telegraph key to selling tickets. Ketchum has been a station agent since 1944. —Staff Photo by Al Swenson

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Ketchum solve their baby sitting problem and do their work at the same time. They take care of the Belmond railroad station and their 2-year-old son, Mickey, by bringing Mickey down to the station with them.

All the Kechums are interested in the work around the station. While Ketchum and his wife both take telegraph messages, Mickey is fascinated by the clicking telegraph key.

"It bites'!" Mickey cried one time, when he came close enough to the telegraph apparatus to receive a mild shock.

Mickey seems to enjoy "working" at the station. "He's glued to the window every time a train goes by," Mrs. Ketchum said. "He even lines up his boxes, toy tractors and trucks at home to make a train; then he hollers 'choo-choo, choo-choo!' "

The dispatch telephone saves the Ketchums some work in deciphering code, and also gives Mickey something to do. He listens intently, his mother says, as the dispatches, not received by the Belmond station, come over the wire.

Ketchum started railroad work in 1944 and Mrs. Ketchum began the work shortly after they were married. Because the first type of work which Ketchum did was relieving the regular operators, they stayed an average of 12 days in each town where they worked.

"I didn't have very much housework to do under those conditions," Mrs. Ketchum said, "so to fill my time I started learning the Morse code. Soon I was helping Mr. Ketchum at the station."

Besides telegraphy, Mrs. Ketchum has learned freight billing, and accounting since she was married. She also sells tickets. Ketchum learned the work under the agent at Roland, Iowa.

When the Ketchums first brought him to the station, Mickey was 7 or 8 months old, and a play pen kept him from running around the station. But when Mickey outgrew the pen, the Ketchums had a small problem on their hands.

"We sometimes have trouble finding a pencil because Mickey likes to collect them," Mrs. Ketchum laughed. Mickey is also interested in crumpling up freight bills, but these are always kept out of his way.

Mrs. Ketchum does her house work in the morning or in the evening after the day's work at the station is over. "That doesn't leave a lot of spare time," she said, "but we enjoy the work."

Haupt Receives Degree In Dairy Industry at ISC

Ernest Haupt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haupt who farm near Belmond, was graduated from Iowa State College, in the Division of Agriculture, on Saturday, March 19.

Haupt received a degree of Bachelor of Science in Dairy Industry. He entered Iowa State College in 1942, but his studies were interrupted when he was called into the Army in 1943. He saw service in England and Italy, as well as several parts of this country.

ERNEST HAUPT
Degree In Dairying

Haupt returned to finish his education in 1945. He is married to the former Betty Uhlenhopp, whose home was in Belmond at one time. They have one child.

Future plans indicate that he will be doing inspection or sanitation work for the State Department of Health, possibly in Boone, but the exact location of the work has not yet been determined.

Smudge Pot

Best known frost protector is the smudge pot. This oil burning heater has been used extensively by West Coast citrus growers. Set out in an orchard, it is lighted on nights when frost threatens. It heats the surrounding air which, in turn, passes on the heat, by convection, to the trees.

Cut Flowers

After cutting fresh flowers from the garden, place in water almost to the blossoms. Insert scissors under water and cut off a small portion of the stem. Keep stems under water until flowers become turgid and stand up well for artistic arranging.

Movement of Birds

It has been claimed that the Persians and Arabs compiled portions of their calendar according to the regular movement of the birds, and the only mysterious part of this natural phenomenon to them was the destination of the flyers. During the earliest years of the Christian era, writers believed that swallows hibernated in hollow trees in the winter.

'Broncos' Begin Spring Sport

by JERRY BORUM

You might not have noticed, but Spring has arrived, and with it come the post-winter sports of baseball and track.

Monday, both Belmond track coach Lloyd Patterson and baseball head Jim Scott, began to line up their teams for the coming season. Light showers kept the two squads indoors Monday, as they loosened up with a few brief exercises.

Scott said that perhaps his biggest worries right now are the undependable April showers that always drown out a number of the games on the Spring schedule. He reported that about 20 boys have turned out, and he is especially on the lookout for a good pitcher and catcher.

The only member of last year's team who was graduated is Gene Stoltenberg, and Scott wants another pitcher to fill his place. "We'll have tough competition this spring, from the Kanawha team," he anticipated. "They have a big league high school team, one that usually goes a long way in tournament play, year after year."

A tentative five game schedule has been drawn up for the track squad. The first meet is to be held at Iowa State Teachers College in Cedar Falls. Other mee include the Cowboy Relays a Clarion, the Mohawk Relays a Mason City, the North Iow Conference Meet at Buffalo Center, and the District Track Meet.

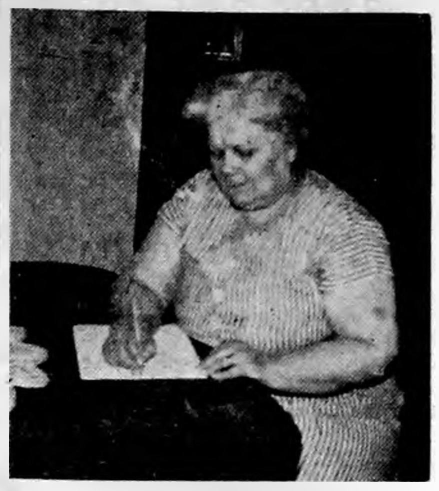
Housewife in Twenty-Sixth Year As Independent Correspondent



Mrs. Amos Hanson, the Independent's Goodell correspondent, writes her weekly column. Mrs. Hanson hasnt missed a column in over 25 years.

Goodell has grown in the past 26 years but life hasn't changed much, Mrs. Amos Hanson observed this week, reflecting on her nearly 26 years of writing "Goodell News" for the Belmond Independent.

"Several new buildings have been built in that time," she recalled, "twelve houses, a fire station, a city hall, and there's a new cabin camp being built here now."

But people are still doing much the same things they were when Mrs. Hanson wrote her first column for the Independent in October, 1923. For over 25 years she has recorded meetings, church affairs, weddings, deaths, Sunday visitors — life in the Goodell community — in her weekly column without missing a single week. Her column has grown from one a few inches long to a recent one nearly 75 inches long.

"People get around more today," she explained. The population has increased in the community, transportation is fast so people have more time to travel."

A long column for a busy housewife to write might become quite a task but Mrs. Hanson has devised a system which is simple and efficient in writing her colums. She numbers a piece of paper from 1 to about 25 and jots down notes as she receives news items. On Sunday evening or Monday morning she writes her column from her notes.

Writing the column shortly before the Monday afternoon deadline gives her time to make any last-minute changes in news or add any last-minute items.

She has always had her column in on time, she added, and has never had any serious misunderstanding as a result of news she has reported.

Gathering news isn't too hard for Mrs. Hanson who knows almost everyone in the community. She gets items by talking to friends and making a few phone calls.

"You just have to keep your ears open," she laughed. Mrs. Hanson enjoys writing her column. "I just like to keep up with the times," she said.

Mrs. Hanson came to Goodell from Dixon, Illinois, with her parents nearly 47 years ago. Mr. Hanson is a welder employed by her father, O. Sandberg, Goodell blackesmith for nearly 47 years.

The Hanson's have one son, Roger, 16, a junior in the Belmond High School.

CARE Seed Packages Now Available In County

A new CARE seed package covering plots of 50 by 100 feet with 28 different kinds of vegetables may be ordered through county extension or AAA offices, Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director, announced.

The packages cost $4 and may be sent to Italy, Austria, Belgium, France, Greece, Poland, Western German and Berlin before April 15, the planting deadline for Southern Europe, Bowman pointed out.

A special package containing 20 pounds of specially adapted hybrid corn may be sent to Italy, Bowman said.

Whole Wheat for Cattle

Whole wheat, which is to be coarsely ground or cracked before feeding, is worth about as much, pound for pound, as shelled corn for feeding beef cattle.

Training In Clothes Making Taught To Belmond 4-H Girls

"I'm learning lots of things myself," said Mrs. E. H. Strait, Belmond township 4-H leader, who is helping the newly formed group of girls with their project for the year, in which they learn how to sew and how to select yard goods.

The members of the group which was organized Oct. 31, 1948, are Mary Lou Baker, Karen Bohning, Nyle Bohning, Marjorie Ann Christensen, Shirley Davenport, Corrine Davenport, Sandra Didio, Connie Hill, Mary Ellen McClure, Sharen Strait, Arlene Slining, Joann Slining, Janet Slining and Ruth Stockseth.

At the monthly meetings, one member gives a demonstration for the others. Girls demonstrate how to make darts and tucks, lay out and cut the material, how to make plain, flat-felled and French seams, how to sew on buttons (with or without shank).

How to choose wisely when buying material is emphasized along with instruction in darning and patching, putting in a zipper, and picking materials and styles to fit individual personalities.

Mrs. Strait attends a training school for 4-H leaders three times a year. She has learned simplified methods for putting in zippers, and for putting in a hem with stitches that won't show on the right side of the garment and that won't rip out easily by accident.

4-H members may start their individual projects after school is out for summer vacation, and may make their new 4-H uniforms themselves. A sailor neckline, cuffed sleeves, and fly front are distinguishing features of the new uniform.

"The new uniform is much simpler to make than the old one," Mrs. Strait said, "because it isn't pleated all the way around. The ties are easier to wear, too, because they just snap on instead of having to be tied every time."

Wise purchasing of material is stressed in the training programs for leaders and in the girls' meetings.

"We've talked about examining the label when we buy material to see if it has been pre-shrunk, is color-fast and fade-proof, what kind of cleaning it should have, and special finishes it has to keep it from crushing, wrinkling, or having to be starched," Mrs. Strait said.

"Even the manufacturer's name on a label is a sort of guarantee," she continued, "and if more people who are buying yard goods ask to see the labels, the sales people will be more inclined to leave them on the bolts of material."

Another thing that the 4-H girls learn to watch for when buying material is to allow extra cloth for matching stripes and plaids.

"There are a lot of materials coming out that I haven't seen before," Mrs. Strait said. "One of the girls chose a sort of sheer white shantung that was new to me."

Several entirely new types of material are now available in Belmond stores along with some of those that are plentiful again after post-war shortages.

Some of the new materials are easier to wear because of their special qualities. A new cloth made of rayon and cotton, but woven to look like linen, will not "sit out" as the old type linen did.

When they start their projects this summer, Belmond 4-H girls may choose materials created especially for sports clothes. Rayon gabardine has been treated to make it color-fast and wrinkle-resistant.

Other new fabrics available to Belmond women who plan to sew this spring are seersucker, which doesn't have to be pressed after washing, and a cotton print that has been treated to give it a firmer surface, and yet make it softer and easier to sew on.

Organdie has been specially treated so that starching is not necessary.

Some materials are new because of the demand from fashion rather than convenience. For example, new peasant-printed broadcloth might be chosen by women making spring blouses or dresses.

Because factories are catching up with consumer demands, Belmond shoppers are able to buy items which were formerly scarce such as pillow tubing and plaid rayon taffeta without standing in line, or having to arrive at the store at the same time the shipment of goods is put on the

Also because supply is meeting demand, women who plan to sew on print cottons will find new low prices on 80-square percale.

Belmond Homemaker Looks For New Fields To Conquer

"They sure are a lot of fun," said Mrs. L. B. Cox, Belmond homemaker, of her year-old twin boys. "I would like to just sit and watch them all the time."

But Mrs. Cox's schedule won't allow this. She keeps house for her two daughters, Mary Lu, 6, and Lucinda Ann, 2½, as well as the twins and her husband.

Because of her work with her family, Mrs. Cox has had to cut down on outside activities. She was president of the Century Club last year, and program chairman for the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church. She has retained membership in these organizations, but is no longer an officer, and has discontinued her membership in one bridge club to which she belonged. Eastern Star and Parent-Teachers Association are her other activities.

At the Progress Club meetings this year, Mrs. Cox took part in discussions of the parts of the United States, the functions of the United Nations, and current world affairs. The topics discussed in the Century Club are chosen by a different member each meeting.

Mrs. Cox plans to go to the Adult Education classes next year, which will add to her heavy schedule. She says she will have time for this new activity because the twins will be a little more grown up then.

"I would like to learn something I don't know," she said, "like woodworking. I taught sewing in high school, so I wouldn't care to take courses in that, unless they were quite advanced."

Knowledge of woodworking might be useful, Mrs. Cox said, when the Coxes add needed rooms to their home, or even build a new house.

Another job which Mrs. Cox has is making her daughters' clothes. "Mary Lu had her first ready-made coat this year," she said. "I make quite a few of my own clothes, tooo."

Baking all the family pastry and bread is one task which Mrs. Cox had to give up. "I didn't use prepared mixes before," she laughed, "but I have to now!"

Canning keeps Mrs. Cox busy in the fall. She puts up peaches, jams and jellies, and tomato juice and string beans from vegetables grown by her hus-husband in their garden.

"I don't know what I'd do without my automatic washer," Mrs. Cox said, "because when the babies were small there was a large washing everyday."

Mrs. Cox does all her own washing, but Mary Lu helps her with the dishes and other household tasks. "She can either wash or dry the dishes," Mrs. Cox said, "but she likes to wash better. I guess all little girls like to get their hands right down into that sudsy water."

Mary Lu also helps her mother by taking care of the twins and playing dolls with her little sister, "Cindy," either outdoors or in their playroom in the basement.

"The twins get along fine together," Mrs. Cox said, "except when they put their hands into each other's mouths and get bitten," she laughed, "or decide that they both want to play with the same toy at the same time."

The Coxes moved into their home in July, 1946, when Cox was discharged from the army.

Boys in the newly established Belmond High School chemistry course, and their instructor, will soon be finding out all about the soil that means so much to Iowa farmers.

Thirty-five students are taking the course which was created by student demand last year. Four of the students are planning to go into professional training in chemistry and their instructor, Clair Hugh, is providing them with special projects outside of the regular classroom work.

"The chemistry laboratory is well-equipped for a high school course," says Hugh. There are new desks with built-in lockers complete with all sorts of equipment in the classroom, which is located on the third floor of the school building. On the desks are 12 sinks, each connected with water and gas outlets. There are also full stocks of the chemicals used in the course.

Laboratory work is stressed in this high school course, which is offered to both eleventh and twelfth grade students. "Students learn much more when they do the work themselves and make their own observations than when an instructor stands and lectures to them all the time," Hugh believes The physics course, which will start next year and alternate with the chemistry course every other year, will also place the accent of the work on student experimentation.

Hugh is well-acquainted with chemistry. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Iowa State Teachers' College at Cedar Falls. During the school day he teaches all the chemistry classes and also two classes in algebra. The students in chemistry spend over 6 hours a week studying the secrets of chemistry in the laboratory. On 3 days of the week they have one period (45 minutes) and on each of the other 2 days they have two periods.

Hugh says that interest in chemistry is high now in the school. Students who plan to go to college want to take this elementary course before taking the more advanced college courses. Hugh reports that "Recently a survey was taken among college professors at Iowa State College, at Ames, which showed that students who had taken chemistry in high school rated above the ones who hadn't had the opportunity."

receive all state honors for their showing this year.

At the conclusion of Mully's speech there was a volley from the honor guard and then the caravan streamed out of town.

A. J. Dorr, who was directing traffic, stated that this was one of the largest and best parades he has seen in Belmond. Although one car did stall, there were no traffic mishaps along the way, as the flow of cars was only held up momentarily by the car's engine failure.

Forest City rooters were favorably impressed by the sportsmanship of Belmond, and several spoke with praise about the Bronco basketeers.

In the parade were two buses from Forest City loaded with Indian fans who had spent their time cheering during the tournament at Iowa City. Spread across the sides, back and front of each bus in bold letters were the names of the players.

As they rolled through the town, the occupants sang Forest City pep songs and also the Belmond fight song. The Forest City band, which occupied one bus, helped keep the tunes going.

In a brief interview Coach Jim Scott said Forest City's "one-two" punch consisting of Herb Thompson and Rocky Rye would be graduated this year Scott described Thompson as "one of the nicest high school players that I've ever seen. He is cat-like in his movements and shoots with either hand."

Thompson set a tournament scoring record of 69 points while helping the Indians up the victory ladder this year.

Commenting on his own team Scott said we will lose three varsity players at graduation this year. They are Roger Kinseth, Wilmer Gibbs, and Dick Crapser.

Red Cross Drive Slated To Obtain $2,000 In Belmond

"100% Red Cross" stickers are going up all over Belmond as business firms and homes give their donations to the 1949 Red Cross Membership Drive.

The goal for the Belmond area in the drive which started March 17 is $2,000, according to co-chairmen, Virgil Smith and A. P. Thompsen.

National goal for the drives is 6 million dollars for the month of March. Individual areas can set their own times for their local drives so long as they take place in March.

Self-addressed, stamped envelopes were sent out from the local headquarters to homes in Belmond and in Pleasant, Norway and Belmond townships to aid in gathering the money. Those who have not as yet returned these envelopes with their donations are urged to do so as soon as possible.

Reports received from sub-chairmen in the chapter area indicate that donations are coming in slowly, A. P. Thompsen, co-chairman of the drive, announced yesterday.

He strongly urged people to "pep it up" and "put the drive over with a bang."

Anyone who has not been contacted either with these envelopes or in persons, may leave his contribution at the Thompsen Clothing Store, the chairmen announced.

Of the money received in the drive, 76% remains in the chapter area to be used in the local program. The remainng 24% is sent to national headquarters.

A total of $2700 was raised in the local membership drive last year and $2300 of this was spent in Belmond, according to Luin Cox, cashier of the First State Bank.

The goal is less this year than last because requirements have been cut, Thompsen said. It is hoped that the record of past years, in which Belmond has always met or exceeded its quota, will be upheld.

The local chapter has sponsored a water safety program for children above the fourth grade for the past two summers and plans to continue this program. Over 300 Belmond children have received swimming instruction at the Clarion pool under this plan.

A health program in the public schools is also sponsored by the chapter. A reserve fund is kept on hand in case any serious emergency should arrive.

Red Cross chapters in the middle-west were recently cited by General Pick of United States 5th Army headquarters in Omaha for their excellent work during the blizzard emergencies this winter.

Education - -

naires last fall through the Parent-Teachers Association, to residents living in and near Belmond. These were used to help determine how many persons would be interested in such a program, and also what subjects would be of most interest to the persons attending.

One month later a trial Adult Education meeting was conducted after the regular meeting of the P. T. A. The entire program was formulated from the comments and ideas of the people attending this meeting. The people first met Jan. 5, and today these adults say they have learned quite a bit in the short time the courses have been taught.

Mr. Faris, superintendent says, "Any subject the parents show interest in, will be included in the next program." He feels that this year's program has been very successful and has developed lots of enthusiasm for next year.

A five man council has met before each meeting. It is composed of Harold Simerson, Mrs. Bert Kalkwarf, Harlan Nassen, Mrs. George Hansen, and Miss Lucille Cramer. They will take over the entire program next year, according to Faris. The council will select the teachers for the courses and decide which courses should be offered.

The Adult Education program is self-supporting. The parents pay $2.50 each for the 10 week course. This money is used to pay the teachers and for any equipment that is used.

T. A. (Dad) Erickson, of the General Mills plant, will speak at the Adult Education Banquet, Monday evening, at the high school. Entertainment in the form of a magician act will be provided by Wayne Sprague from Radio Station KWDM in Des Moines.

The dinner will be served by the Trinity Church Ladies Aid. The musical portion of the banquet will consist of two solos by Mary Lou Baker and Jerry Hanson. There will also be a boys' quartet composed of Jerry Hanson, Odean Severseike, Raymond Mehl and Harlan Nassen.

The agriculture course is leading in persons attending. They have an average of 52 people, with most of them coming from farm areas around Belmond. An agricultural council of nine men was appointed at the beginning of the course. These men selected topics pertinent to farming communities. They also chose speakers for special discussions, such as the farm outlook for 1949, corn borer control, and tractor maintenance.

Those who attend the adult education typing class take speed tests and learn how to write business letters, along with many other things.

Miss Martha Mennenga says she did not know how to type in January, and now has learned the touch system and many of the fundamentals of business and social correspondence.

"I wanted to learn how to type and perhaps, later I may get an office job," Miss Mennenga said.

Mrs. Clarence Kirkendall said she took the typing course because she wanted to help her husband in writing business letters and also for her own personal satisfaction.

William Summers, the only man in the class, said, "I've been working in an office for some time and thought that typing might come in handy."

Most of the people in the class can now type from 20 to 40 words a minute. Their instructor, Miss Lillian Witte, said she enjoyed working with them and looks forward to helping in other similar programs.

Miss Dorothy Dillan, homemaking instructor, spent her time showing the 21 women in her course, special tricks in making dresses, skirts, and blouses. One of the first meetings was set aside for making paper manikins for accurate dress measurements.

The women do not have sufficient time, in the two hours each week to make dresses, but they attend these meetings to get instruction and then do the sewing at home. One woman has completed three dresses during the 10 weeks.

In connection with the physical training portion of the adult education program those enrolled may choose the sports in which they would like to participate each Monday night.

This week basketball took the floor in the high school gym, as members of the physical education classes staged a fast moving game for the dozen or more spectators that had turned out.

Most of the players were very enthusiastic about these Monday night sessions, for they thought it gave them a good chance to keep in touch with a well organized athletic program, something that doesn't present itself often enough to most of them outside of these classses.

George Sharp, Harold Nelson, Ed Gabrielson, Roland Pals, Allen TerHark and the other men who filled the basketball court all expressed approval of their weekly contests. "Good way to keep in shape," they said. "Nice to get together like this once a week and catch up on some of the sports missed since high school days."

There's no mystery about the class that is held in the gym basement on these Monday nights, for the buzz of the saws and the echo of the hammers from the shop work is an easy give away.

Lloyd Patterson heads the shop sections, and is a popular instructor with the men and women in his classses.

Stopping his work on a coffee table for his home, Harold Baker said that the shop class was about to present a gift to Patterson in appreciation for his helpful instruction throughout the course, They gave him a beautiful grey sportshirt and thanked him for his many fine suggestions in connection with their various shop projects.

Mrs. Lloyd Patterson and Mrs. Glen Eccles were seen working on a nut cracker bowl at one of the lathes. The women remarked that the work was very enjoyable and that they would like to enroll again next year.

"There's a lot of satisfaction in turning out a useful article for the home," said Mrs. Patterson. "The work is wonderful, but now I see why my husband didn't make more furniture for our house, it's a slow, patient job—but a gratifying one."

DORCAS SOCIETY HOLDS FOOD SALE SATURDAY

The Dorcas Society will hold a food and bake sale Saturday starting at 1 p. m. at the Wendel Hardware Store in Meservey.

students' parents will take part in a stunt entitled "The Synthesis Milk Machine." They will show an easy way of producing milk without a cow.

Four husbands and wives will demonstrate "Automobile Troubles" including an argument with a back-seat driver. The parents who all have children in the fifth grade are, Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Stoltenberg, and Mr. and Mrs Keith Dunton.

A veil of secrecy has been cast over the other four stunts, according to Mrs. Lloyd Patterson, program chairman. It has been rumored that a band composed of local talent will add atmosphere to the program.

Chairmen of the six stunts are Mrs. Arlo Stoltenberg, kindergarten; Mrs. Russell Tideback, first grade; W. J. Wiegand, second grade; Neil Flanagan, third grade; Mrs. Cleatis Harty, fourth grade; and Mrs A. P. Thompsen, fifth grade.

The prize for the winning stunt will be a week's ticket to the New Belmond Theatre for each member of the stunt.

Admission price for the carnival will be twenty-five cents.

Atomic Energy for Railroads

Atomic scientists tell us that the energy released by splitting the atom will be harnessed for use by the railroads. This may not become practical for another 50 years, but it is certain that atomic energy will be playing a vital role in the transportation of people and goods in 2048.

Telephone Office Building Construction is Completed

CENTRAL TELEPHONE CO.

The Central Telephone Company's new Belmond office building will be headquarters for a new city dial-phone system, and local toll-network. The building features new, modernistic design work, inside and out, and is equipped with a 24-hour service public phone booth.

Improved telephone service is being planned for Belmond and nearby areas, as the Central Telephone Company proceeds with construction work on a dial phone system.

Lloyd C. Bruner, local manager of the telephone company, says that the completion of the new office building is a major step in the modernization of existing phone service. The new building includes a room for dial equipment, business office and a maintenance garage, on the first floor; and cable and power rooms, storage facilities, a furnace room and employee's lounges in the basement.

Phone booths are also included in the building, one of which will be open for 24 hour service.

The construction work featured a modernistic exterior, with thermo pane windows in the offices and glass block windows in the dial room.

Bruner said that dial phones should be available to patrons by next fall, and that construction crews are now working on a cable system for the expanded and modernized installation program.

Work is also underway on an improved toll network with the surrounding communities.

Mrs. McGuire Recalls Happy Past

by JEANETTE FOWLER

The way that Mrs. Charles McGuire, Belmond homemaker for 54 years, feels about her children may make today's young mothers feel better about the disturbances their children create.

"When they were playing around here, I sometimes thought they were making an awful mess, what with jack-o-lanterns, May baskets, and valentines," she said, "but now I certainly wish they were doing it again."

Mrs. McGuire said she looks forward to the times when she and her husband can put leaves in the dining room table and get out more chairs to accommodate all members in their family when they come home to visit.

The McGuires have three daughters: Mrs. John Boylan, Watertown, Minn.; Mrs. Donald Grillo, South Bend, Ind.; and Mrs. H. L. Leslie, Waverly. Two sons have died.

Mrs. McGuire and her husband eat in the kitchen now when all the children aren't at home. "The dining room table is so big that we can't reach across it," she explained.

Speaking of the cooperative dinner they had last Christmas, Mrs. McGuire said, "All I had to do was bake the turkey and watch the boiling water to see that it didn't burn! My three granddaughters and granddaughter-in-law brought cookies and several cakes.

"When we have our holiday dinners," she said, "we have the real, old Irish potato dressing. That's one dish that everybody always likes."

Mrs. McGuire uses the potato dressing in duck or goose. It is made by first boiling the desired amount of white potatoes with the skins on; then the skins are removed, the potatoes are mashed, and a generous amount of butter is added with salt and pepper to taste.

To stiffen the mashed potatoes, Mrs. McGuire adds one cup of flour to about a gallon of mashed potatoes, and the dressing is stuffed into the fowl.

"When my daughters and their families leave after a visit, the house seems so empty," said Mrs. McGuire. "When all the grandchildren were small, they ate on a table of their own, out on the porch or in some other room, and the grown-ups sat at the dining room table. It was more fun for the kids that way, and more fun for us, too," she laughed.

Last Christmas 13 of the McGuires' children and grandchildren were there for dinner. Only 12 sat down at the table because the thirteenth was the McGuires' great-grandchild, who didn't sit at the table with the others.

"Spooky", as the 1½-year-old Michael Finn is nick-named, was a very well-behaved youngster, Mrs. McGuire said. "He didn't touch a thing, but just looked at the different articles."

Family gatherings, when the grandchildren were small, were sometimes interrupted by troubles which the grandchildren got into. Mrs. McGuire told of a time when one three-year-old grandson couldn't be found.

"We were scared to death," Mrs. McGuire said. Grandparents, parents, and neighbors looked all over Belmond for the lost boy, and after several hours of frantic searching, they found him asleep in a car in the McGuire garage.

Another time a lost grandchild, also about 3 years old, came home by himself, dripping wet from falling into a shallow fish pond.

Mrs. McGuire remembered the holidays when her own children were young. "A couple of weeks before Halloween, the kitchen was cluttered with the insides of pumpkins that the children were using for their jack-o-lanterns," she said.

"Halloweens weren't destructive in those times," she continued. "The children in the neighborhood just tried to scare each other a little, or to hide things where they could be found easily."

"One time a lady, a friend of the family, dressed up as a ghost on Halloween and really scared the children," she said, "but the next year they evened things up by scaring her back, and there were more of them to do a good job of it!"

On May Day, Mrs. McGuire said, the children used to fool some of their friends by putting a "snatch basket" by the friend's door, ringing the bell, and jerking the basket away with a long string just as someone reached for it.

"And what a mess there was the day after May Day!" Mrs. McGuire laughed. "The children's candy, flowers, and everything that goes into a May basket were strewn all over the house."

The McGuires' oldest daughter dressed up as Santa Claus on Christmas, Mrs. McGuire said, and handed the presents to the two younger children who were about 3 and 5 years old.

"It was funny to see the expressions on their faces," she said. "They had heard so much about Santa Claus, that they really had awe for him, and they didn't know that it was just their oldest sister dressed up."

At Christmas time, when the youngest boy was 3 years old, he chanted, "Put decorates up. Put decorates up." "That was one of the few things he said that we could understand," Mrs. McGuire said. The youngest daughter, 2 years older than the little boy, had to translate his baby talk to the rest of the family because she was the only one who could understand what he said, Mrs. McGuire continued.

She often had to hide the children's Christmas presents so they would be surprised on Christmas morning. "One July I found some presents I had hidden," she laughed. "I put them away so well that I couldn't find them myself!"

Mrs. McGuire recalled the fireworks shows that the family had on the Fourth of July after driving with horse and buggy to a picnic at Clear Lake.

The McGuire children had several pets, including a pony and two dogs. The boys rode their pony, imitating the riders they had seen in the circus.

"They used to put on their cowboy and Indian suits and ride with their heads down, bare back, standing up, and every other way, pretending they were Jessie James," Mrs. McGuire said.

"When one of their dogs died, the kids had a funeral," she said. "They lined the grave with cheese cloth, and even had singing and spoken services for it."

"All the boys in the neighborhood used to play on the vacant lot next to our house," Mrs. McGuire said. "They were always running and hollering while they played basketball and football. I surely miss it now."

While the boys were playing outside, the girls played with their dolls, and had parties in the summer house with their tea sets,, according to Mrs. McGuire.
sets, according to Mrs. McGuire.

When the girls were a little older, Mrs. McGuire said, they took vocal music lessons, did needlework and decorated china.

All of her daughters painted and fired chinaware, and have given their mother plates, a set of salt cellars, and a sick-room three-in-one set.

The "trinity set", as it is called, combines teapot, sugar bowl, and creamer, each one fitting inside the next, even when filled. Among the other striking pieces of glass and china which Mrs. McGuire has is a set of cut glass which her husband gave her as a surprise.

The furniture in the McGuire home includes some unusual pieces. "Looks just like old Nick himself, doesn't it?" Mrs. McGuire said, laughing at a curiously carved face on the back of one of the chairs.

Mrs. McGuire has had household help in the past few years, but when her family was home, she did all the housework by herself.

"Everyone wanted something different," Mrs. McGuire laughed, "so baking was quite a problem." She did all the sewing for her daughters when they were young, as well as washing, ironing, and other housework.

- Mrs. McGuire found time to do some handwork besides all her housework. She has hooked or braided rugs, crocheted lace for trimming, and crocheted three double lace bedspreads.

"I've made 30 rugs," she said, "and I don't have any of them left. I've given all of them away to my children and grandchildren." The three bedspreads were given to Mrs. McGuire's three daughters.

Infra Red Rays

During the past 10 years infra-red rays have been put to many uses. During World War II, they enabled snipers to see enemy soldiers in the dark. Today they dehydrate fruits and vegetables, dry fresh paint on automobile bodies in minutes instead of hours, germinate seeds, relieve the pains of sinus and arthritis, bake bread and detect phoney Old Masters.

Far Happy Dinners

A good dinner served amid peaceful surroundings and in an atmosphere of security is no small contribution to family life. Keep the table-talk constructive and mix with the baked beans and angel cake plenty of love, laughter, and understanding.

Belmond's Development Told By Former Leading Merchant

When you've lived in one place for 68 years you should know a lot about the people and the history of the town, and that's why we spent part of Sunday afernoon talking to "Charlie" McGuire.

For 54 years a leading Belmond merchant and citizen, McGuire has watched the town and the people build a bigger and better community.

McGuire came here in 1881 from his birthplace in Green County, Wis.; "the banner cream county of the state," he says. Thirteen years later he started a retail clothing store, and operated it under the name of "McGuire's," until 1946 when he sold the store to "Dutch" Thompsen.

"In 52 years of selling clothing in Belmond I've had customers for just that long," he said. "They've grown up right before my eyes, and I could see it so well as they came for new clothes each year."

Calling upon his amazing memory for dates and details, McGuire related some information about the founding of Belmond, and its development in a little less than a century's time. "About 1852 or 1853," he said, "a farm family named Dumond settled here and gave the last part of their name to the, then, small community. There were only a couple of dozen people here then, but the town soon grew and prospered.

"The most important incidents that influenced people to come to Belmond were the building of the railroad in 1882, and much later, the opening of the General Mills Chemical Division, in 1945."

McGuire's memories of the past are by no means limited to local history, for he spoke authoritatively on the fields of baseball, basketball, boxing, and the development of the clothing and hotel businesses in Chicago, where he used to go frequently to buy merchandise.

Again his remarkable memory brought back stories of the great figures of the sporting world of days gone by, as well as famous names in Chicago's past. The first Marshall Field store in the Windy City as well as the reign of the great boxing champion Jack Johnson, brought out pleasant remembrances for him.

"Now that I've retired I just like to relax and spend plenty of time reading the newspapers and catching up on what's doing around Belmond," he said.

Atom Spy Movie Will Be Shown At New Belmond

Two entertaining westerns and a semidocumentary drama about atomic spies are scheduled for the screen of the "New Belmond Theatre" starting on Friday, March 25.

Friday and Saturday the film "Four Faces West" will be featured, with Joel McCrea, Frances Dee, Charles Bickford and Joseph Calleia heading the cast. This is an unusual western with several new twists in the plot, including the absence of gunduels and barroom brawls, as Joel McCrea portrays a bankrobber who attempts to correct his mistake by giving up his chance for freedom in order to help a stricken Mexican family.

"The Man From Colorado" is to be shown on Sunday and Monday, March 27 and 28, with Glenn Ford, William Holden, Ellen Drew and Edgar Buchanan in starring roles. This is a typical western melodrama, filmed in technicolor in the heart of the beautiful Colorado landscape.

The plot centers about a period of American history, after the Civil War, at which time unscrupulous interests try to rob Colorado war veterans of their interests in a gold mine, while the miners take the law into their own hands.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 29-31, will be "Walk A Crooked Mile", a fictional report on FBI investigations against an atomic spy ring.

Louis Hayward, Dennis O' Keefe, Louise Allbritton and Art Baker use the popular semidocumentary style, with little romantic interest added, to show how government agents outwit foreign powers in the race for atomic supremacy.

A new serial begins at the Saturday afternoon performance. "Bruce Gentry, Daredevil of the Skies" brings adventure in the air to the screen each week at the same time.

Wright County Cancer Drive Begins April 1

April is National Cancer Control Month by act of congress and by presidential proclamation, and the 1949 campaign has a goal of $14,500,000, with $301,900 to come from Iowa contributors.

Mrs. Lynn Thompson of Clarion is Wright county fund raising chairman. A cancer campaign meeting was held in Clarion's Legion Hall on Monday of last week, at which time Mrs. Thompson and state chairman H. B. Hook of Mason City reported to campaign workers on the goals and requirements of this year's program.

The expanded drive this year will call for an increase of 10 percent in the amount to be solicited from Iowa residents. This increase is to help avoid the situation which the American Cancer Society faced last year when it was forced to turn down more than a million dollars worth of research work because of an acute lack of funds.

Over 9 billion dollars for research has been spent since 1945, and this includes the money used to support doctors and scientists in all parts of the country who are devoting their time and energies to the search for a cure for this dread disease.

Also included in the society's expenditures is a large sum to be given for grants, scholarships and fellowships in cancer investigation.

Here, in Iowa, a limited number of nurses' scholarships, sponsored by the society, are available to young women who desire to become registered nurses, but do not have the money with which to do so.

The society reports that it was able to supply only a small percentage of the money requested by cancer research institutions last year, and that the need for this work is even greater this year.

FM Sales Good In Belmond Area

"FM has had doubly good reception in the Belmond area." says Ellis Elliott, Belmond radio and appliance dealer, "for both sales and comments on FM equipment have been very favorable this year."

With FM development improving almost every day customers are asking for console radios that feature combined FM and AM reception, Elliott said. He estimated that there are from 200 to 250 FM radios in or near Belmond and that sales would keep on at a good rate.

FM broadcasts can be heard from Mason City, Fort Dodge, Des Moines and Waterloo, with more stations on the way. Iowa State College plans to have its FM service in operation in the near future, and more FM construction is underway in the state.

"After listening to good musical programs on FM receivers most people are pleased with the fidelity and interference-free broadcasting that is available to them through this new medium," Elliott commented.

Predictions by experts in the radio industry indicate that the expected FM boom has not been canceled, but merely delayed by new and enthusiastic national interest in Television.

"Billboard" magazine said in a recent issue that Federal Communications Commission Chairman Coy is considering recommending to the FCC that radio stations owning both FM and AM outlets be required to give equal broadcasting time to both services.

This ruling, if passed, would give FM an opportunity to develop as a broadcasting medium, in its own right, instead of a duplication of regular AM transmission, as is the case with some stations at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth La Velle and family were Sunday dinner guests at the Ervin La Velle home.

Mr. and Mrs. Boelman, Mrs. Jake Boelman and Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Pals went to Marshalltown Thursday.

Painting Of Wooden Objects Is Hobby Of Mrs. M. C. Jensen

"There's something wonderfully satisfying about creative work," says Mrs. M. C. Jensen, Belmond housewife, who has found a hobby in decorating wooden pieces with peasant, Dutch colonial, and nursery designs.

Mrs. Jensen makes useful as well as beautiful presents by painting plates, trays, relish dishes, a jewelry box, and even a "lazy susan" sandwich tray with tempera paints.

When she starts to work on a plate, Mrs. Jensen first sands it with steel wool until it's smooth enough to paint. "I use steel wool on all the things I do," she said, "because it smooths without marring."

After sanding, Mrs. Jensen uses carbon paper to trace the design onto the piece to be decorated. She often picks her designs from pattern sheets sent out by decorating firms and adjusts them herself to fit the plate or tray she is working on.

Mrs. Jensen made a variation on a regular pattern when she decorated a two-sectioned relish dish with a boy and girl wearing heart-shaped clothes. On the prescribed pattern, the two figures were both girls. The heart design is repeated on a matching pair of salt-and-pepper shakers.

Mrs. Jensen uses bright blue, green, yellow and red paints with her peasant and farm motifs, but likes pastel shades for her nursery designs.

For the actual painting, Mrs. Jensen uses brushes made of sable hair, because, she says, they don't lose their hair as easily as camel-hair brushes do. They also hold a point better, which is important in work requiring fine detail.

Applying shellac is the next step in Mrs. Jensen's work. "You have to apply the shellac fast over tempera paints," she said, "because the tempera is susceptible to moisture and may run if the shellac is not applied quickly enough."

Most pieces are given at least two coats of shellac, but Mrs. Jensen puts more on anything to be used with food.

"Shellac brings out the color of the paints," Mrs Jensen explained, "and also keeps the finish permanent." She completes her pieces by treating the wood with a finishing wax.

Sometimes the shellac finish is marred before the pieces are actually put to use. "Once some coffee cups resting on a tray left rings," she said.

"I'd certainly like to know what causes this defect," Mrs. Jensen said, "because using the pieces is half the fun of having them. I've thought of trying a colorless varnish in place of the shellac, because varnish has a harder finish, but I haven't done it yet."

Mrs. Jensen became interested in woodworking by examining a pair of decorated wooden plates which she received as a wedding present. She decided to try woodpainting for herself and bought several unpainted articles in Chicago last summer.

"But I didn't get started on them right away," she laughed. "I let it go until I saw what another lady had done with her woodpainting. That reminded me of the things I had waiting for me to do."

When Mrs. Jensen started work on her hobby, it was just a few months before Christmas, but she finished three plates, a jewelry box, a large tray, and the "lazy susan" sandwich plate in time to give them as Christmas presents.

Most of the plates which Mrs. Jensen decorates are a type of plywood veneer, but she has workd with ones made of basswood. "Basswood is a soft wood, and the paint runs a little when the wood is so soft," she said. "That's why I prefer the other type."

"There's no taking back what you've painted with tempera paints," Mrs. Jensen said. "The paint is practically unremovable once you've put it on."

When asked to pick her favorite piece of all the ones she has done, Mrs. Jensen picked a hand-turned 10 inch plate on which she put her farmer's wife design in red and white.

"The margin on this plate was beautifully rounded," she said, "and the grain of the wood showed."

Mrs. Jensen has interested her Brownies, a junior Girl Scout group, in handicraft. She has helped them make cardboard table mats, decorated with a cut-out magazine picture, and finished with shellac for permanency.

Mrs. Jensen came to Belmond from Chicago two years ago when she was first married. Her husband also has an interest in wood-working. He has built a headboard for a bed which includes shelves and wiring for bedlamps. Mr. Jensen also did the wiring. The Jensens plan to work together and give a blond finish to the headboard.

Cracked Corn Fed To Week-Old Hogs

E. H. Strait, farmer living 3 miles west of Belmond, agrees with E. L. Quaife, extension animal husbandman at Iowa State College, who says it pays to start little pigs early on supplementary feed.

Strait, who raises about 60 hogs a year, creep feeds cracked corn and milk to pigs when they are a week to 10 days old. He puts the feed before them in a shallow pan.

"They soon learn to eat and it doesn't take long for them to put on a lot of fat," he said. "They do well and it's a lot easier to the sows."

Quaife recommends feeding pigs rolled oats and hulled oats which he says, pigs will eat sooner than other feed.

He outlines this plan that may be followed. Build a trough 4 feet long, 6 inches wide and 3 inches deep with cleats across the top, 6 inches apart. Divide the trough into compartments. At the beginning, rolled oats may be fed. When pigs reach 3 to 4 weeks of age, a 35 to 40 percent protein supplement may be fed with shelled corn in a part of the trough.

Rolled oats may be replaced with ground oats when pigs reach 50 pounds in weight. Shelled corn and supplement may be self-fed.

Quaife says that a pig meal mixture containing 18 to 20 percent protein is good. A good mixture consists of 50 pounds of ground shelled corn, 25 pounds of ground oats (or ground oats and middlings mixed half and half) and 25 pounds of a 35 to 40 percent protein supplement.

Quaife says that minerals may be self-fed alone or mixed with the pig meal at the rate of 1 pound of mineral to each 100 pounds of pig meal.

Predictions Of Things To Come By New Belmond Theatre Manager

"We wanted to settle down and do something different, but still keep our contact with show business," Eugene Bradley, owner of the New Belmond Theatre, said, explaining why he and his wife came to Belmond recently.

Show business is an old business to the Bradleys. They inherited their taste for it from their parents, who were on the stage for many years. Bradley met his wife in Chicago while they were playing in the same show, and they decided to stick together from there on.

Although he has managed various dramatic shows, this is the first time Bradley has ever managed a theatre. He plans to bring to Belmond some of the better movies now being put out in Hollywood.

"Family stories, good Westerns and good comedies are the best types of shows for a town the size of Belmond," Bradley said. "The people really like anything that's good as long as it isn't too involved."

The Bradleys appeared in some television shows in Detroit recently and are quite enthusiastic about it. They do not think it will ever replace movies, however. "Hollywood won't let anythink like that happen," Bradley said. "It already has a great interest in television and may some day control it."

In his opinion, television will someday be shown in movie houses. No film will be necessary; the pictures will be thrown on the screen by means of television waves,, Bradley said. "In this way, the same movie can be shown in Belmond, Eagle Grove, Ames and Des Moines at the same time and from the same waves." He concluded "But I'm afraid it will be quite a while before anything like this will happen."

Bradley has an "assistant manager" and an "assistant assistant manager" in Keith and Alan Madsen, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Madsen. Keith is at the theater quite regularly to change the marquee and perform various other duties. When he is rushed, he calls on Alan for aid.

"Dutch" Predicts Men Will Steal Spring Spotlight

Men may take the style news away from their wives this spring, according to A. P. "Dutch" Thompsen ,owner of a men's clothing store in Belmond.

Shirts, hats, suits, sox, and even ties are being shown in more and brighter colors than ever before, he said.

Sport shirts show the greatest range of color, appearing in pastel shades of green, pink, blue, and yellow. The majority of these shirts are made of rayon gabardine, with some being shown in cotton. Dress shirts are also appearing in pastel colors. French cuffs and smoked pearl buttons are also to be seen.

The newest ties have white backgrounds and colorful prints, according to Thompson, to go with the new shirts. Other ties are appearing with louder and more varied prints than ever before.

Not only women are wearing nylons this spring. Their husbands will be flashing nylon sox in many brilliant shades. Patterned sox are continuing in the same loud vein.

"Hey, ma, look at me!"

Suits are not as dull as they have been in past years either, Thompsen said. Light greys, greens, browns, and brighter shades of blue are being featured.

Not to be outdone, hat manufacturers have also brought out their products in brighter shades. The most popular sweaters combine unusual patterns and different color schemes.

The trend is toward more leisure clothes this summer, Thompsen said. Soft-collared shirts, more slacks, sport coats, and T shirts are coming out. Suits without vests are very popular this year.

Gabardines and venetian coverts are still the most popular materials for suits and topcoats, Thompsen said. Even topcoats are lighter and brighter than they have seen, he added. Washable materials are still the best if flopped."

Gray and green are the most popular colors for spring, in Thompsen's opinion. Accessories in these shades are especially "hot."

Thompsen had very little to say about the so-called "Bold Look." "Maybe it will go over and maybe it won't. I think I'll just wait and see before stocking up with it."

Manufacturers are trying to narrow the brims on men's hats this year, he said. "It may not go over too well, either,". Men are pretty particular about their hat styles. "Look at the attempt to get a scoop syle last winter—it flopped."

Women do much of the shopping for men, Thompsen said, although the boys have the final say-so about whether they want the garment or not.

Fire Equipment Is Resting But Ready, Says Fire Chief

by PAUL HACKETT

There hasn't been a single fire in Belmond in 5 months. Since the arrival of the new $11,000 fire truck in the latter part of October, the Belmond Fire Department has been called out on only two fires that were both out of town.

"We've been mighty lucky," M. H. Dillon, assistant fire chief, said, and this was also verified by Fire Chief A. W. (Doc) Johnson. "Especially since Belmond is a city of nearly 3,000 people, and there are 22 wooden buildings on Main Street," Johnson added.

The new International K-10 fire truck brought by the farmers within a 12-mile radius of Belmond was particularly designed by five members of the Belmond Fire Department. They went to St. Louis and made their own specifications which include 1½ inch hose lines on each side of the truck and provisions for all of the equipment to be enclosed.

The Belmond Fire Department now has three trucks: a 500-gallon-per-minute pumper, a 350 gallon pumper, and the new fire truck that will throw out 675 gallons of water per minute. Two of these have been completely paid for by the farmers around Belmond. In the last 10 years they have brought over $18,000 worth of fire equipment. The city maintains these trucks.

Although even 625 gallons of water per minute is "large for a town the size of Belmond," says Dillon, "the old 350 pumper truck has been built over so that now the two trucks can pump 1,000 gallons of water per minute on any fire. Because of this Belmond insurance rates for fire protection have been cut."

"Belmond's 32-man volunteer fire fighting force is also responsible for keeping the fire losses in and around Belmond down to a minimum," according to Dillon. The men come running to the station as soon as the fire siren sounds and are usually on the way to the fire within 1 or 2 minutes, before the siren stops blowing.

Matt Holtzbauer has been with the Belmond Fire Department for 40 years, making him the oldest man on the force. M. H. Dillon is a close second since he has been fighting fire here for 33 years. Fire Chief Johnson has been on the force for 14 years. The department itself was founded in 1880 and is the oldest organization in town.

Johnson has one special warning to house owners: "Don't overload the electric circuits with too many electric appliances. By watching this and following the other rules of fire safety, Belmond and the surrounding farms can keep up the good record."

Children are Chief Interest of Wright County Farm Woman

"My hobby is strictly children," said Mrs. L. B. Oberhauser, Belmond township homemaker. Participating in organizations, doing housework, and taking care of her family of six leave this busy farmwife no time for an outside hobby.

Perhaps, because her favorite interest really is children, Mrs. Oberhauser said she enjoys most her work with the Brownies, a junior Girl Scout group.

"We're trying to help the girls to develop into cooperative members of the community," Mrs. Oberhauser said.

At Brownie meetings on Monday afternoons, Mrs. Oberhauser and three other women conduct folk dances; arts and craft work, and hikes to the woods for nature study.

Judy Oberhauser, 8, went with her mother to a Brownie cookout last fall, which Mrs. Oberhauser termed "highly successful." The other Oberhauser children are Jean, 17; Louis, 16; Sherman, 13; Paul, 12; and Johnny, 3.

Family life forms a large part of Mrs. Oberhauser's activity. By coincidence, both she and her husband have five brothers and two sisters, which makes a sizeable gathering when either side of the house gets together for a family dinner.

Mrs. Oberhauser's family had last Thanksgiving dinner in their newly remodeled home. Forty people took part in the cooperative dinner. "They all came with bulging baskets and roasters," she said, "so there was plenty of food!"

Every 2 weeks, Mrs. Oberhauser attends a meeting of the Progress Club, which is part of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs. The members of the club study and discuss international relationships, music, literature, art, national problems and other cultural subjects.

One of the local problems in which the club is interested is the conservation of soil and other natural resources and beauty spots. Mrs. Oberhauser is the district conservation chairman for the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs.

She is also on the advisory board for the Parent-Teachers Association, which meets once a month during the school season. Church groups, such as Catholic Daughters, St. Ann's study group, and the Rosary Society also take up some of Mrs. Oberhauser's time.

Music plays a prominent part in the Oberhauser household. Jean sings, Judy takes piano lessons, and the older boys took piano lessons at one time, but have discontinued them.

Along with outside activities, Mrs. Oberhauser has many duties at home. With the help of Vera McCormick, who has been with the Oberhausers for 8 years, she does the washing, ironing, and even bakes the family's supply of bread.

"That's just fun, baking bread," Mrs. Oberhauser said. She also does some canning in the fall—fruit from the orchard and tomatoes from her vegetable garden.

"I'm an ardent spring gardener," she laughed, "but when the weeds begin to grow in earnest during June and the later summer months, I get rather discouraged."

No matter how many things Mrs. Oberhauser has to do, she said she still has time to play games with her children. "After all, that's really the most fun I could have" she said.

From our office window we note that the city has placed a bright red bicycle rack in front of the Post Office. This is an excellent idea and we hope that the law enforcing body will make an effort to see that bicycles are parked in the rack now provided for that purpose.

It wouldn't be a bad idea to have a similar rack on the east end of Main street. This could probably be accomplished too. Anyone interested in promoting a second bicycle rack might ask Gerhard Johnson for advice on how to get the job done.

Beginning in the April 6 issue a new column "Iowa State College Campus Chatter" will appear in the Independent. The column will be written by Al Swenson Jr. of Belmond, a Journalism major at Iowa State and will concern students at Iowa State College whose homes are in Belmond or vicinity.

It would be greatly appreciated if the parents of students at Ames would stop at the Independent office and leave the Ames addresses of such students.

Among other interesting and beneficial items of information discussed by T. A. "Dad" Erickson of General Mills, Minneapolis, principal speaker at the adult education banquet last Monday evening, were "10 Rules of Good Health" which he suggested to his audience.

Knowing that if I would practice these 10 rules (or at least a part of the 10) I would feel better and be better, I am pinning up a copy where I can see it often as a reminder. And I am printing the 10 rules here below in case other health-minded readers of the Independent might wish to do likewise.

1. Eat less — Chew more
2. Clothe less — Bathe more
3. Talk less — Think more
4. Ride less — Walk more
5. Go less — Sleep more
6. Idle less — Play more
7. Waste less — Give more
8. Scold less — Praise more
9. Worry less — Laugh more
10. Preach less — Practice more.

Barley First Food

In ancient Greece it was traditionally believed that barley was the first form of food given to mankind by the gods, and most botanists and geologists seem to agree that barley was one of the first plants to be cultivated. In the valley of the Tigris and Euphrates and the Nile ancient straw-lined barley storage pits have been found by archeologists who have dated them tentatively about 20,000 years of age.

IMPORTANT MATTERS BEFORE CONGRESS

The Veteran's pension Bill is now before congress for approval, but many revisions have been made in the bill since congressman Rankin originally introduced it into congress. There is no doubt that some kind of bill will be passed, but they cannot agree on the numerous side issues.

Most people sit back and let the congressmen decide this question. This bill should be important to all the public. It deals with all war veterans. This is not a small issue but will be in affect for many years to come and will determine the destinies of several million men. Every American should take an interest in this matter and strive to do all within their power to help with this bill.

Also before congress is an unusually important bill; that of rent control. This will have a bearing on millions and millions of persons who pay a weekly, monthly, or yearly rent. The bill in effect now will expire in a few days and unless a new bill passed by then rents will jump skyhigh. People don't realize what the lack of rent control bill would mean. It is a known fact that there is a housing shortage. With no rent control, what will stop landlords from raising the rent as high as they like. You cannot refuse to pay the rent because you have no other place to move or live. In short they would have the upper hand in the matter. Congress cannot decide on a definite bill but with the president standing behind this bill strongly, some step should be taken quite soon.

JUNIOR HIGH

In the Franklin Co. Girls' Jr. High Tournament held at Alexander last week, the Alexander girls were defeated 16-15 in their first game. It was an exciting game with a very close score just like the games which followed the next two nights. For only Junior High students, they both showed remarkable ability in playing good basketball. Probably the most serious offense made by the teams was their frequent traveling with the ball. The referees for the tournaments were Cecil Harris and Bob McCormick of Latimer. Trophies were presented to the winners, runner-ups, and the consolation winner by Supt. E. E. Johnson of the Alexander Cons. School. Below the scores of the games in the tournament are listed.

First Round

Chapin 20 — Popejoy 14
Hansell 15 — Alexander 15

Semi-Finals

Franklin 23 — Chapin 11
Geneva 32 — Hansell 30

Consolidation

Hansell 21 — Chapin 20

Finals

Franklin 14 — Geneva 12

The Alexander Jr. High boys will play in the Franklin Co. Boys' Jr. High Tournament held at Hansell on Saturday afternoon, March 19. Win or lose, they will play Saturday night in the consolation of the finals.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The Alexander boys' basketball squad, Coach Renaud Rysdam, and Supt. E. E. Johnson returned from Iowa State Boys' Tournament Sunday afternoon, March 20. They were somewhat tired from their two-day vacation, but they had a good time to tell about. To the surprise of the Alexander folks, a picture of the Alexander boys in the Iowa fieldhouse was in the Des Moines Sunday Register. The boys witnessed four good games in the semi-finals and finals. Most of the basketball squad will be in school for another year and they are waiting to witness another state tournament. Now that the basketball season is over, the Alexander High School boys are turning their attention to the coming baseball season.

HOME ECONOMICS NEWS

We took a day off last Friday to go to Waverly to the Orphan's Mome. Joye Vestweber and Lola Markwardt drove their cars. We left at about the same time the boys left for Iowa City, which was about 9:30. We reached our destination about 10:45 with not a bit of car trouble. Weren't we lucky? There we were greeted by our hostess, who took us through all the buildings occupied by the Orphan's Home.

We found it to be very nice throughout especially in the kitchen where they had the tables set and the food was being prepared. It was pretty tempting being it was getting very close to noon.

After we left the Home we went to dinner at the expense of the Home Economics Club treasury. Early in the day we had made arrangements to visit the Wartburg College. We all spent a very pleasant afternoon, seeing a lot of students and buildings, and also the girls' dormitory.

After our pleasant day we all felt pretty tired especially after that shopping spree. We started home about 4:00 o'clock and we all decided that we would like to do it again. We arrived home safely, even if the girls were thirsty and tired, and with badly bent pocket-books, and a flat tire or two.

Princess Sets Style

A vogue for filigree spray brooches is being stimulated by Princess Elizabeth, according to leading London jewelers. They trace the style trend back to the gift of a floral spray of diamonds and rubies, notable for its filigree design, which the jewelry industry presented to the princess when she was married to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, Duke of Edinburgh.

EASIER ON YOU... EASIER ON YOUR TRACTOR—

JOHN DEERE ROLL-O-MATIC "Knee Action" FRONT WHEELS

Working on beds . . . in deep water furrows . . . along the contour . . . over rough fields—there's hardly a condition you can name where John Deere Roll-O-Matic "Knee-Action" Front Wheels won't make tractor operation easier, smoother, safer than ever before.

Steering is much easier because the load is always balanced between both front wheels . . . riding is greatly improved because up-and-down movement of the front end is cut exactly in half. There's less wear on front tires, less strain on wheels because each tire and wheel takes its full share of the load.

Roll-O-Matic is just one of many exclusive and advanced features that make John Deere tractors today's leaders in modern design, just as two-cylinder economy, dependability, and long life have made John Deere tractors leaders in proved performance for the past 25 years. Come in and see us soon.

38 From Wright County Attended "Corn-Hog Guest Days" At Hampton

Thirty-eight people from Wright County drove to Hampton Thursday to visit the home offices of the Farmers Hybrid Seed Corn Company, Farmers Hybrids and the breeding farm of Farmers Hybrid Hogs.

Farmers Hybrid Hogs is the world's first commercial producer of hybrid hogs and is now producing 5,000 boars for delivery in 1949. Farmers Hybrids is the only statewide cooperative seed corn company in Iowa.

Don Baker of Kanawha, local county manager for the three Farmers Companies, organized the tour, arranged the transportation and made the necessary contacts at Hampton.

Those attending from the Belmond area of the county included high school agriculture instructor, Duane Sandage, Curtis Mennenga, Derl Morris, Joe McLaughlin, Bill McLaughlin, Robert Redmond, Kenneth Lerdal, Ralph Jenison, Loren Kalkwarf, Leonard Johnson and Richard Woodin.

Attending from Kanawha besides Baker were Melvin Halverson, Mosher, Walter Passmore, A. B. Erickson, Olaf Eliason; from Olaf, Lawrence Woodley; from Galt, Van Schroder, H. A. Schroder, John Cux and Bob Tysdal.

While at the Hybrid Hog Farm, comparisons were made between the old style, lard-type hog and the new, meaty-type hog developed through genetic science. Faster gaining pigs with less lard is attracting the interest of farmers throughout the corn-belt Lard is selling at a great loss as compared with live hogs.

U. S. Mailmen

There are more than 97,000 mailmen in the United States.

Removing Onion Odors

A little dry mustard or salt rubbed on the hands and then rinsed off will remove onion odors. To remove onion or fish odors from pans in which those and other odiferous foods have been cooked, wash the pans in hot soapy water to which one or two tablespoons of vinegar have been added.

To Save Curtains

Rough, jagged edges on curtain rods tear too many curtains. To avoid this, try the following plan: When curtains are laundered and ready to be put up, dip one end of the curtain rods in melted paraffin and allow to harden. Then slip the paraffin end of the rod through the curtain and it will prevent sharp edges from snagging the curtain.

Iowa Hawkeye and Norway Rambler 4-H Club Boys Visit Eagle Grove Farmer-Owned Processing Plant

Thirty-one Wright county 4-H boys, members of the Iowa Hawkeyes and Norway Ramblers clubs, got equal doses of fun and education at Eagle Grove, Saturday, March 26, in inspection tours of three farmer-owned processing plants there.

1. At the soybean mill of Boone Valley Co-op. Processing Association, they find that cakes of soybean meal fresh from the cooker taste like hot cereal.

2. Ed Olson received undivided attention as he explains the feed mixing process to the group.

WEAVER

At Clear Lake, Fred Moffett, retired farmer, is now in his 25th year of making baskets as a hobby. Last winter he made about 30 baskets, from 3 trees. Black ash and maples were used and baskets are woven so skillfully that no glue, and only a few small tacks are needed to hold them together.

Farm Project 4-H Clubs Elected County Officers At March 24 Meeting

Willis Muhlenbruck of the Grant Grower's 4-H club was elected president of the Wright County Boys' 4-H clubs by voting delegates at a meeting in Clarion on Thursday evening, March 24.

Other officers elected were: Bill Barz of the Blaine Livewires, vice president; LeRoy Schaumberg of Dayton Dynamiters, secretary-treasurer; and Harlan Poolman, of the Lincoln Leaders as reporter-historian.

Candidates defeated in a close election for county 4-H club officers were Harlan Nassen of Belmond Boosters, Frank Long of Boone Valley Go-Getters, Ronald Larson of Eagle-Liberty and Bernard Norem of Iowa Hawkeyes.

Officers were elected by two voting delegates selected by each club. Candidates for county office were selected by club members and leaders. The county 4-H club committee reviewed the activities of each candidate and selected two for each office.

The new boys' 4-H club officers will take office immediately and act in the capacity for the next year. Each of the officers elected has been active in their local club, maintained a strong project program and have also been active in other fields than 4-H.

BELMOND TOWNSHIP EXTENSION LESSON AT MRS. MIKE LUICK HOME

Mrs. Zuber, extension home economst, completed the series of lessons for Belmond township on Thursday, March 24 at the home of Mrs. Mike Luick. The topic Window Treatment included how to make problem windows attractive, and a most interesting discussion and exhibition of new curtain, drapery and slip cover fabric which are now available.

Lunch was served from an attractively appointed table with Mrs. Otto Hanson pouring. Those on the committee were Mrs. Glen Baker, Mrs. Vernon Swenson and Mrs. Otto Hanson.

Family Council

One way of attaining a more succesful home life is by the provision of a family council. Let all members of the household join in this council and meet once a week to discuss common problems. This will give anyone with a grievance an opportunity to bring it before the group.

Worm Medicines For Foals

Veterinary authorities are not in favor of giving worm medicines to foals at weaning time, because the most dangerous species of internal parasites have not yet reached maturity and are not accessible to the action of drugs in the intestine.

Beef and Dairy Cattle

With a more even distribution of livestock numbers, improved forage and continued consumer demand, officials estimate that the country can support a beef and dairy cattle population of 95 million by 1958.

Cubist Movement

Juan Gris, with Picasso and Braque, was one of the founders of the Cubist movement. Gris, a master of plastic relations, held that it made no difference how elements appeared in shape, color, and perspective as long as a harmonious whole was effected. "My art," he said, "is the art of snythesis, a deductive art."

Storage of Dahlias

A cellar that will keep potatoes in good condition is a good place to store dahlia tubers. Dahlia storage needs a rather high humidity and temperatures of 40 to 50 are desirable. Many place them in shallow boxes and cover them with sand and then place in cool storage.

Grand Canyon Village

One of the world's strangest locations for a settlement is at the bottom of Grand Canyon where the Indian community of Supai, Ariz., is located. A helicopter delivered parts for a quonset hut used as a church there. The community post office is one of the few to which United States mail is delivered by horse and mule.

Breakable Target

A paper target with a printed bull's-eye is the best known rifle target, but most people like to see something happen when they hit a target—have it move or break. Breakable targets can be readily made by sawing a piece of 2" x 2" lumber into 2-inch lengths.

Works Like Mad

When steel sheets were hand drawn by men who used long tongs to grab the red hot metal and chewed their handkerchiefs to save the linings of their mouths from blistering, the very best workmen could produce one ton an hour at most. The continuous rolling mill averages 150 tons an hour.

Lime on the Farm

Lime has two main functions on the farm. (1) It corrects the acid and alkaline needs of the soil. (2) It supplies plant food and brings about many secondary effects which affect the growth of plants such as the immobilization of toxic substances and the increase in availability of plant nutrients. The practice of liming was known before the Christian era.

In recent years such products as sugar, sisal and bananas have been developed largely by foreign capital and under foreign control, but the great crop upon which more than any other, Haiti's many peasants depend for the little money they must have for their purchased necessities is coffee.

Pick New Slogan For Farm Safety

Future Iowa farm safety activities will be tied together by a new slogan, "Be alert, don't get hurt," according to Norval Wardle, Iowa State College extension farm safety specialist and secretary of the Iowa Farm Safety Committee.

The slogan will be brought into action during the coming farm safety campaign sponsored by the state committee in connection with clean-up week April 11 to 16. However, Wardle said that it will be the slogan for all future safety promotion in the state.

The committee selected the slogan earlier this week after reviewing a list of more than 500 that have been used at various times by safety promoters. The new slogan is a combined version of two others.

Commenting on the slogan, Wardle said that it gets to the heart of this matter of farm safety. The big problem is for farm folks to learn how to live safely, according to the specialist. The committee thinks that it farm folks keep alert, they will have fewer accidents.

Analysis of farm accidents supports that thinking. In two counties last year 119 out of 145 accidents reported by farm people were blamed on "not doing the job correctly." The largest share of these, or 87, used an unsafe method. Ten did not use a specific safety device available. Poor training was given as the reason for the other 22 accidents.

Knowing how to do the job correctly would have prevented 82 percent of the farm accidents in the two counties Wardle points out. He says that there is ample evidence at hand that the same situation is generally true throughout the state.

Wardle urged every farm family to be especially alert to cleaning and fixing up around the premises during clean-up week. He said that many accidents are really caused by untidiness around the farmstead or by unhandy working conditions.

He cited an example of an accident that could have been prevented by a few minutes of tidying up. One Iowa farmer was off the job 10 days during the busiest spring season last year because his machine shed was not well organized. Several pieces of machinery were stacked in a corner. While trying to get to a particular machine, the farmer stuck his leg against a tractor axle ,resulting in the injury.

Sanitation Is Key To Control of Fly

Strategy for Iowans to get the jump on flies was outlined this week by Harold Gunderson, extension entomogolist at Iowa State College.

Simple, yet proved effective, the plan calls for the use of sanitation. "If city residents and farmers clean up possible fly breeding places before the first flies show up to lay their eggs the last part of April or in early May, there won't be as many flies this summer,' Gunderson said.

Sanitation is the first and most important step in any effective fly control effort, according to the entomologist. It hits the pests at their weakest point — their need for unmolested places in which to lay eggs. Without access to damp, filthy breeding areas, flies cannot maintain themselves in sufficient numbers to bother housewives, farmers and business proprietors.

Early action was stressed. Gunderson pointed out that from April 15 to Sept. 1 a single pair of houseflies, along with their offspring, can reproduce enough flies to cover the earth's surface in a layer 43 feet deep. Natural mortality and unfavorable living conditions will reduce the number, but the example shows the potential ability of flies to reproduce and the need for care in sanitation.

Common breeding places, Gunderson said, are easily recognized, but often just as important are the unsuspected places. Flies often find good breeding spots even on ground that appears to be barren. Soil in which urine, liquids from manure, milk or greasy dishwater have drained is an example. Places where garbage has been piled and then removed attract flies. Rotted fruits and vegetables in gardens and decaying leaves in orchards and yards are others.

Pet droppings, even in cities, have been found the source of flies when every other logical breeding spot had been destroyed. Improperly handled compost heaps are another often overlooked source.

These, along with conspicuous places such as chicken yards, barnyards and garbage heaps, should be cleaned up this month. Temporary manure piles should be treated with borax to make them unattractive to flies before fly time, Gunderson said.

"Mystery Farm" 28 Is Home Of The Jesse Suntken Family

Mystery farm number 28, located two miles east and one and a half miles south of Belmond, is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Suntken and three daughters.

Suntken purchased the 240 acre farm in 1944, and the biggest improvement he has put on it to date is the laying of 15,000 to 16,000 drain tile. He and his wife, Esther, are anxious to start remodelling on their farm house.

Last year Suntken had 100 acres in corn, 50 in oats and 10 in beans. The remainder of the land was in pasture and hay. He has 48 shorthorn cattle, milks just enough for use of the family and has 21 spotted Poland China brood sows.

The 350 White Leghorn laying hens and 500 chicks are Mrs. Suntken's project. She also raises a large garden and does quite a bit of canning.

Mrs. Suntken spends a lot of time sewing for her three daughters. She has to make two alike of everything for the twins, Donna and Madonna, age 11. Four year old Janet was found sitting on the tractor in the enlargement of the Mystery Farm picture when Mr. and Mrs. Suntken called for the copy at the Independent.

Occupants of Mystery Farms printed in the paper are reminded to call at the Independent office for free copy of enlargemnt and also to give information about farm and family for publication in the paper the following week. Mystery Farm 29 may be found this week in an advertisement sponsored by Ray's Body and Paint Shop.

How Much Are You Worth?

When American fans bought enough fight tickets that Joe Louis received half a million dollars they thought it was worth the money to see the Brown Bomber in action, Joseph Stagg Lawrence pointed out in a recent issue of "Iron Age."

The same is equally true, Mr. Lawrence added, when Bing Crosby gets $5,000 for singing a song, and when a business executive gets a quarter of a million for heading up a corporation.

In other words, Mr. Lawrence explained, under the American system each of us gets about what his fellow-citizens think he is worth.

Mr. Lawrence made his remarks while discussing a statement by Sir Stafford Cripps, top economic planner of the Socialist British government, to the effect that in 1948 only 250 Englishmen "could boast incomes in excess" of $20,000 a year, compared with 11,000 who had such incomes in 1939.

"The greater equality of income which Sir Stafford proclaims should be a warning to Americans and to Congress," Mr. Lawrence wrote.

"The human resources of England, particularly the energetic, intelligent, and courageous leaders at the top, are more important to the British economy than the physical equipment of English industry."

—o—

Choose Men of Wisdom And Heed Their Advice!

The calling from private life of two citizens, Herbert Hoover and General Eisenhower, to bring to the government their special and trained knowledge is a wholesome thing. The government should avail itself of every possible source of information the nation possesses. The next thing is to follow the advice of the two practical trained experts. Unless this is done the calling of them becomes a fruitless gesture.

—o—

Editorially Speaking--

Pension For Veterans

Algona Upper Des Moines: Our position is that the question of a pension for veterans of these two wars should not be brought to a head at this session of congress. The nation is still struggling to break even on its income and expenses, and perhaps reduce the national debt some. Most states, like Iowa, have voted a bonus for their veterans. Why plunge into this gigantic project with its resulting expense at this time?

North Atlantic Pact

Carroll Times-Herald: The United States has everything to gain and nothing to lose. It will be cheaper for us, in the long run, to provide armaments for our North Atlantic neighbors and hope the alliance keeps every outside nation, including Russia, from daring attack than it has been to wait until the expenses get the highest and then jump into European brawls.

Traffic Law

Hampton Chronicle: The present Iowa traffic law is about as near perfect as can be, and no set speed law can improve it. We believe that you will find more states adopting the present Iowa traffic law every year. The rank and file of automobile drivers like it.

Performance Record:

Centerville Iowegian: The effort on the part of Russia to secure Norway's agreement to a non-aggression pact fell flat. One Norwegian paper listed five pacts which Russia had made in the past—all of which it had broken.

Cheap At Any Price

Albert Lea Tribune: A good way to stop the crime is to get to it before it begins.

And that is one of the most worthwhile results of Y. M. C. A. work.

It is difficult to tell just how much crime ever has been prevented in Albert Lea or anywhere else in the nation. And it's difficult to tell just what effect the lack of Y. M. C. A. work has had on banishment of crime in a specific locality. But the United States Department of Justice throws a lot of credit to clean organizations such as the Y. M. C. A. for building character of young people.

We hope that the local Y. M. C. A. gives very serious consideration to the findings of a survey just released here.

Some of this program may take a little extra money. If it does, it's worth it when we hear a report from J. Edgar Hoover that nationally last year a serious crime occurred every 18.7 seconds, including an estimated 1,686,670 major crimes of felonious homicide, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft—an increase, incidentally, over 1947. There was an average of 36 felonious killings each day of 1948.

We would urge the local Y. M. C. A. to extend the program beyond the 16-30 year age class, re-activate the Hi-Y in junior high school, re-establish outposts on the North Side and the South Side is there is need for them and extend the use of Camp Moraine to other youth organizations.

Deer Feeding

Nearly 1,000 tons of alfalfa hay and concentrated deer food were distributed in Wisconsin's deer yards during 1947 to feed an estimated number of only 23,000 deer. The cost of this operation $72,000, along with the required payment of deer damage claims amounting to over $55,000 in 1947, has brought about the general concession by game biologists that deer feeding is a waste of effort and money.

Hessian Fly Again

Wheat jointworm, ranking next to Hessian fly as causing heavy losses to the wheat crop, was present in many fields this past season. The areas most heavily infested were southern Illinois, central and southern Indiana, southwestern Ohio, Kentucky, and several localities in Missouri. The department of agriculture is warning farmers to make use of known control measures to avoid severe and widespread infestations in 1949.

IMPORTANT TAX STORY!

A story appearing in this issue of the Independent relative to the low per pupil cost to Belmond taxpayers to operate the Belmond school system, as compared with other schools in Iowa, is worth the attention and serious consideration of all local taxpayers. Our Belmond school board and superintendent are certainly to be highly commended for operating an efficient school at such a low cost.

—M-S—

It has been reliably reported that Edus Johnson, conscientious head of the fresh fruit department at the Tip Top Super Valu Market, got a spell of jitters over the weekend.

It happened because Edus went to Iowa Falls a week ago Tuesday to spend a few days visiting old friends and making new acquaintances and then missed his transportation back to Belmond early Saturday morning in time to take good care of his perishable fresh fruit and vegetable business during the Saturday rush.

He should have saved his worries, however, because a couple of other boys managed to take care of the fruit business to a fashion.

—M-S—

One of the most embarrassing things that can happen: Go to a public event and discover for the first time that the man sitting next to you, whom you have known for a number of years, goes to the same church as you do.

Well, Ted Behrends was as much surprised as I was! This coming Sunday the two of us have resolved to go to church and ask our wives to accompany us.

Another thing I have been resolving to do for several weeks is visit school, and I promise Superintendent Faris I'll do this and bring Chandler, even if we just get under the wire before the end of school.

Contract Growers Entertained At Thompson Dinner

Nearly 70 contract growers, including landlords and their wives, attended the annual Thompson Hybrid Corn Company growers' dinner last Thursday noon. The dinner was held in the basement of the Congregational church with the Congregational women's circle preparing and serving the food.

R. B. Thompson, president of the company, spoke to the growers and thanked them for their close cooperation. "Close cooperation," stated Thompson, "has made our operation successful. The Thompson company feels very fortunate in having such a fine group of seed corn producers."

Other speakers on the program were William Trafford, general sales manager and Robert A. Johnson, public relations director of the firm. Trafford commended the growers on their excellent seed corn and also talked about the outstanding records made by Thompson corn. Johnson gave a basic course in memory work and was assisted by Charles Wilmarth, research director of the Thompson organization.

During the dinner piano music was furnished by Miss Phyllis Bruner, also of the Thompson company.

92 YEAR OLD FATHER OF E. F. WATTS PASSED AWAY WAS BURIED AT TRIPOLI

Mrs. Wesley Warner and Phillis of Goldfield and Mr. E. F. Watts motored to Clinton last weekend to visit Mr. Watts' 92-year-old father, Mr. Robert O. Watts, who was very ill. After their return Monday, they received word that Mr. Watts had passed away. Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Watts of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Warner of Goldifeld, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Watts of Cornelia, and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Watts attended the funeral at Tripoli, Iowa, Wednesday.

Zuber, county extension home economist. The lessons were given at 15 open meetings. The figure of 371, including 304 rural women and 67 urban women, represents the highest attendance this year. 42 of this number attended an extension lesson for the first time. Legion Auxiliary Is Making Cancer Drive In Belmond

Urge Workers To Finish By Monday, April 11

Wright county is the only county in the state to set a "One-Day Cancer Campaign" for funds. Every worker in the county will go out on Monday, April 11, to canvass his block, school district or business district. If the workers are unable to finish their designated area that day, they may take a second day of the same week to complete work, Mrs. Lynn Thompson, county chairman, stated.

There are a few exceptions to this plan made by the county committee. The American Legion Auxiliary in Belmond is conducting its campaign during the present week and plans to have it completed by Monday, April 11. Some of the rural workers have also asked to have their campaign a little earlier.

There is evidence that 1949 may well be the most important year of our lives in progress against Cancer. If enough funds are made available during April, Cancer Control Month, to push forward the work of research and to bulwark the frontal assault of detection and treatment, we can be most optimistic about the outcome, Mrs. Thompson explains. Advances in surgical and radiation treatment are being discovered and put into practice, resulting in more and more lives saved.

As Dr. Charles S. Cameron, medical and scientific director of the American Cancer Society pointed out, "The prospects of controlling cancer have never been brighter."

"When a worker calls on you, give generously to a great cause so that when cancer strikes, we can strike back!" Mrs. Thompson urges.

Distribution Of Sick Room Supplies Is County-Wide

Cancer Fund Is Financing Loan Closet

A loan closet of sick room supplies, which started back in 1944 as a project of the Clarion Registered Nurses Club, and grew to county-wide usage through the distribution of articles by the county nurse in her trip all over the county, will this year have a $100.00 budget from the County Cancer Fund to help with the upkeep.

Although the project is being financed by the County Cancer Fund on recommendation of the State Cancer Society, it will continue to be administered by the R. N. Club.

Supplies are stored in a basement room of the court house in Clarion which was made available by the county supervisors for this purpose, and are loaned out through the county nurse, Alice Moore. She checks the articles out as they are loaned and again as they are returned. There is no charge, but instructions go with the supplies about their care and indicate a reasonable time within which they should be returned.

The loan closet supplies include: Large rubber rings, small rubber rings, sterilizing pans, ice collar, bed trays, canes, oxygen insufflation unit, female urinal, hospital bed and side rails, emesis basins. hot water bottle with rubber tubing, white enamel pitchers, male urinals, white rubber sheeting.

Back rests, crutches—different sizes, steel crutches—adjustable, adult wheel chair, child wheel chair, colostomy bag set, male rubber urinal set, wash basins, bed pans, ice bags, bed tables, enema cans and equipment, child bed pan.

The American Legion Auxiliaries of the county have a complete hospital bed and wheel chairs; and the Clarion V. F. W. Auxiliary has hospital bed, hot pack machine and baby scales which are also loaned through loan closet.

Centervile	127.77
Albia	131.97
Tama	133.39
Humboldt	134.95

The 10 high Districts for 1948

Dubuque	$243.43
Cresco	215.28
Waukon	212.41
Emmetsburg	201.71
Iowa Falls	200.97
Davenport	197.91
Oelwein	197.68
Washington	196.84
Carroll	195.21
Ida Grove	194.19

Figures and comparisons used by the I T A in presenting the school tax story were based on 113 city school districts, in towns of 1,000 population and up, maintaining high school in the state of Iowa. The figures do not include expenditures for school house bonds nor for capital improvements such as equipment, betterments, etc., paid from the general fund.

Average cost per pupil in the 113 districts for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948 was $169.34, an increase over the previous year average of $146.02. Belmond with an average daily attendance of 506 and total operating cost of $69,438 had a decrease in per pupil cost from the previous year: $136.69 in 1948 compared with $142.42 in 1947.

Main factor in lower cost in Belmond was large increase in enrollment without any considerable increase in facilities.

$8000 was spent from the general fund in the Belmond schools during the 1948 year which is not included in the I. T. A. compilations. $1000 of this amount went for 40 new seats in the school's new-seat-program which, when completed over a number of years, will provide new, modern seats in the entire school. Lighting, improvement of which has been going along yearly for several years, cost $600 in 1948. Installation of new chemistry laboratory accounted for $4000, new books for $1200 and the remainder was spent for general yearly maintenance, redecorating, repairs, etc.

Vocational agricultural department, which had been discontinued in the war years, was reopened with the second semester of the present school year.

In a tabulation received by the Belmond school district showing salaries of teachers in eleven schools near here in towns from 1,000 to 5,000 population, Belmond's salaries shown are about the same as the average of the 11 schools.

The Henry Stoltenbergs 25th Wedding Anniversary Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoltenberg were pleasantly surprised Thursday evening, March 24, when they were invited to come to Garner to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

When the honored couple entered the dining room of Hull's Cafe they found 60 relatives and close friends awaiting them, who came from Mason City, Forest City, Clear Lake, Garner, Black Hills, Crystal Lake, Britt, Miller, Hayfield and Belmond.

A program was given with Arlo Stoltenberg acting as master of ceremonies and began with reading of a congratulatory telegram from Walter Steniker of Fayette, Idaho, brother of the bride and an attendant at the wedding 25 years ago. The group sang "America" and the Rev. H. J. Hjelmaas, pastor of the local church there, offered prayer. "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet" was sung by the group with Miss Ruby Schram accompanying. A history of the lives of the couple was given by Arlo Stoltenberg. Mrs. Maurice Johnson and Miss Glennis Hutson sang "Whispering Hope." Two cornet solos were given by Doreen Lackore and a piano solo by Doren Lackore. Owen Taylor entertained with mouth organ solos. Clark Lackore gave jests and jollities in a lighter vein.

Rev. Hjalmaas gave a talk and then presented the honored couple with a silver offering from the group.

Following the program refreshments were served from a table which was beautifully decorated with silver candles and flowers and a 3-tier wedding cake.

Henry H. Stoltenberg and Esther Steniker were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage at Forest City, March 24, 1924, with Rev. Tomkins officiating. They established their home at Garner and except for a few years at Klemme resided there until four years ago when the family moved to Belmond and Henry entered into partnership with his brother, Arlo in the automobile business.

There are three children in the Stoltenberg family: Gene Eldon, Marlin Gene and Arlene Joy, all at home.

Meservey, Iowa, April 4, 1949

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Luverne Ostendorf who was killed in a plane crash, April, 1946.

Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break, but all in vain
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

RUTH'S DRESS SHOP

The Selfish Tyrant Whom We All Adore

What a man! Some fellows can get away with anything. There's one in our neighborhood that does.

Morals don't mean a thing to him. He's unmarried, and lives openly with a woman he's crazy about; and doesn't care what the neighbors say or think. He has no regard for truth or law.

The duties of the so-called good citizen are just so much bunk so far as he is concerned. He doesn't vote at either the civic or the general election. He never thinks of paying a bill.

We have seen him take a $2.00 taxi ride without giving the driver so much as a pleasant look. The driver only stared at him and muttered something silly.

He won't work a lick; he won't go to church; he can't play cards or dance or fool around with musical instruments or the radio. So far as known, he has no intellectual interests at all.

He neglects his appearance terribly. He's so indolent he'd let the house burn down before he'd turn in the alarm. The telephone can ring itself to pieces and he wouldn't bother to answer it. Even on such a controversial subject as the liquor question, nobody knows exactly where he stands, because one minute he's dry, and the next minute he's wet.

But we'll say this for him: In spite of all his faults, he comes from a darn good family. He's the new baby!

Johnson Smeared Congress

In 1866, President Andrew Johnson said: "We have seen hanging upon the verge of the government, as it were, a body called, or which assumes to be, the congress of the United States." The people responded to this smear by electing a strong anti-Johnson congress, which two years later brought impeachment proceedings against the President.

Motorists Warned To Use More Caution In Busier Traffic Months Ahead

The Iowa pedestrian has made some stubborn headway against traffic odds during the last two years, according to a report by the state safety department.

The report lists 104 pedestrian traffic deaths in Iowa last year. This is 22 fewer than in 1946 and 2 less than in 1947. Pedestrians injured in Iowa traffic last year numbered 1,491.

Though this figure seems to mark an injury increase of almost 400, safety officials say it is due for the most part to better accident reporting required by the safety responsibility law.

The younger and older pedestrians suffered most last year, according to the report. Seven children 4 years old or younger and 31 youngsters between the ages of 5 and 14 died as pedestrians. In the 65 years and older age group, 34 persons died on streets and highways.

Safety education director Frank Ulish warned motorists to be more careful in the months ahead. "Good weather brings out the children and older people. At the same time traffic speeds are increasing," he said. "This is a killing combination unless all drivers assume the responsibility of caution."

Mid-block street crossings resulted in death to 39 and injury to 401 pedestrians last year, according to the report. Stepping into traffic from behind parked cars brought death to 17 and injury to 236.

At intersection unguarded by traffic signs, 11 persons walked to death and 284 to injury. Of the 12 killed and 47 hurt while walking on highways, 7 of the dead and 34 of the injured were walking with traffic instead of against it is advised by safety officials.

Editorially Speaking--

Punishment for Thief

A man was recently arrested because he stole March of Dimes funds and used the money for his own entertainment. He was sentenced to prison for his actions. We heard a suggestion the other day regarding the thief's disposition that would have been more fitting. Sentence him to 6 months or a year of servitude in a polio hospital where he can witness the heart-breaking scenes of little children crippled by poliomyelitis. — Fairmont Sentinel.

Most Iowans know that their state ranks first in the nation in total cash farm income. (On a pre-farm basis Iowa cash farm income was three times greater than any other state in 1947.) Yet Iowa ranks sixteenth in the amount of state funds apppropriated for agricultural research. It is seventeenth in state funds used for extension education.—Clarinda Herald-Journal

The Hoover Comeback

Here's one public opinion poll result that we want to believe despite the low esteem in which pollsters are held since the November election.

It shows that 74-year-old Herbert Hoover is admired by 53 per cent of the American public, with 23 per cent "undecided" and 24 per cent still critical of him.

No man in public life in American history has been dealth with more harshly by fates. The shift in public opinion reflected in this study therefore is most gratifying. — Bulletin-Journal,

The News at Gowrie, Iowa, observes: "To combat the rising rate of juvenile delinquency, many solutions, all of which look good on paper, are advanced. All may be good, but we contend that a good mother is worth a horde of reformers, and it will be to her we'll look for the ultimate answer."—Harlan Tribune.

(Editors Note: This is the first of a series of articles that will appear each week in the Independent under this same title. The series of articles are designed to acquaint you with all available happenings of students from Belmond and vicinity attending Iowa State College at Ames. This week we'll just familiarize you with some of the students here at Ames.)

Spring is here once again and as we take a look around the campus of Iowa State, we see some very familiar faces . . faces which have lost the worried look of finals ending Winter Quarter and now have the "New Look" of spring gleaming in their eyes.

Our first stop around the campus is the school of General Engineering where we find Dick Foss, a junior who expects to finish his schooling here at Ames next year. Also a junior and General Engineer major is Don Thompson. Don is a member of Sigma Nu, national social fraternity. Henry Eide, another General Engineer who is a junior will be leaving Ames next year.

In the field of Agricultural Engineering we find Cortland Haupt, a brother of Ernest Haupt who just received his degree from Iowa State in Dairy Industry. Cortland is a sophomore.

Arnold Jenison, a freshman who just entered Iowa State last fall is in the field of Engineering.

A stop at the Science Division now and we find William Coulson, a junior who expects to receive his degree next year. A former resident of Belmond and a graduate of Belmond High is Max Ahlstrom, a sophomore in the Division of Science.

Linden Proeger is here at Iowa State and majoring in Forestry. Linden is a sophomore.

Dwight Tyrrell, a sophomore who is seeking his degree in Animal Husbandry, is a member of Sigma Chi, national social fraternity.

Over to the department of Veterinary Medicine we find John Baker who is a freshman.

Miss Jean Ahlstrom is attending Iowa State and is majoring in Home Economics. Jean is a sophomore and is from Goodell; she is also a cousin of Max Ahlstrom, formerly of Belmond.

College life would not be complete today without married veterans; so we find Mr. and Mrs. C. Bloomfield of Belmond both attending classes. Mr. Bloomfield is a senior graduating this June with a degree of Architectural Engineering. Mrs. Bloomfield is a junior in the school of Home Economics.

Farmers Need To Learn Marketing

As prices are readjusted, farmers are in need of more information on markets and marketing, and of more livestock marketing skill, says Rex Beresford, extension animal husbandman at Iowa State College.

The average farmer has had little training as a salesman, but he will soon find it necessary to become one if he is to realize his just percentage of the consumer's meat dollar. Beresford says the old practice of merely transferring title is not enough, knowledge of marketing is necessary.

Boom prices in recent years have aggravated this condition. Farmers have been getting more than their usual share of the consumer's dollar. The result is that the man selling livestock has become even further removed from the necessity of good marketing.

To illustrate his point, Beresford refers to the livestock producers' share of the consumer dollar in recent years. In 1947 the meat producer got 70 cents of the consumer's dollar spent for meat, and almost as much in 1948; 10 years ago he took only 35. With such a generous cut, the farmers interest in marketing was not too keen.

Now Beresford thinks the time has come for the feeder's percentage income to decline gradually until it again reaches more nearly the long-time average of around 50 cents. As the trend proceeds in that direction, there will be a corresponding increase in interest in livestock marketing.

Marketing is more than handling finished livestock from the farm to the consumer, Beresford says. Marketing starts with the consumer's frame of mind and financial condition. Wisest marketing includes anticipating the consumer's will and ability to buy, then producing accordingly. Thus, the share of the consumer's dollar received by the producer depends in large part on how the influences of forecasting, planning, producing and selling fit together.

There is great room for improvement in the selling process itself, Beresford says. Better sources of market information and improvement in its distribution are a must. This is especially true for marketing cattle in the interior.

Also a farmer needs to know more about the sources of information. He needs much of the information given out by central markets and the BAE which does not reach him at the present time.

Finally, he would find his time well spent if he would observe all the packing plant processes that take place in converting live animals into the meat the con-

New Fishing Licenses Are On Sale -- Catfish Seasons Opens April 15

Fishing, hunting, and combination fishing and hunting licenses have been mailed to more than 1,500 persons authorized to sell licenses during the 1949 season. The licenses are in effect from April 1, 1949 to April 1, 1950. They may be purchased at any county recorder's office, from all conservation officers, and from many sporting goods stores, boat liveries, banks, and similar business establishments. Resident hunting and resident fishing licenses are $1.50 each. Combination hunting and fishing licenses are $2.50.

First of the major game-fishing seasons begins at 12:01, April 15, when catfishing becomes legal in all of the state's inland waters.

In the past decade catfishing has become one of the most important and popular angling pastimes in the state. Old Whiskers is widely distributed and can be found in most of Iowa's 15,000 miles of streams, in addition to a number of the major lakes. Although best catfishing results are not expected until warmer weather in May and June, opening day is expected to produce some good strings.

The daily catfish limit is eight with a possession limit of sixteen. Minimum catfish length is twelve inches.

Water Projects Pay Off

Crops valued at $225,235,236—highest on record—were produced in 1947 on 35 federal reclamation projects in the Pacific Northwest, according to the bureau of reclamation. The previous high was set in 1946, when farmers grossed $210,337,163.

ISC Journalism Students Sold 16,169 Inches Ads In 5 Newspaper Projects

A news release from Information Service of Iowa State College, Ames, indicates that Iowa State College journalism students sold 16,169 inches of advertising as part of their five Iowa newspaper publication projects late in March.

In addition to the Belmond Independent, students working under the supervision of regular staff members published the Eagle Grove Eagle, Harlan Tribune, Iowa Falls Citizen and four supplements to the Nevada Evening Journal.

News copy, editorials, pictures and advertising produced by the undergraduates filled the 130 pages in the four weekly newspapers. In addition, the students produced the pictures, advertising and most of the local news copy for the 32 pages of the four issues of the Nevada Evening Journal, a daily paper.

The newspaper projects are sponsored each spring vacation by the technical journalism department at Iowa State. First student-published issue of the Eagle Grove paper was produced in 1936. This was the third annual trip to Nevada, Harlan and Belmond and the second project of this kind at Iowa Falls.

P. T. A. Carnival Held In Local Gym; Many Prizes Given

There they sat on two long tables, beautiful and tempting and dressed in gay colors. Puzzled? You shouldn't be — they were simply the cakes given away as prizes in the cake walk contest.

Many unusual and interesting articles were seen in the museum. They included black coal which represented beautiful black diamonds, a twelve carat ring consisting of twelve carrots in a cirle, a dish of water with matches swimming in it for a swimming match. Two wieners were shown as two beautiful dogs.

In the basketball throwing contest anyone who could make three out of four baskets was given a key chain as a prize. A cane was awarded as prize in the ring toss game if three out of four rings hit the jack pot.

Many prizes were won at the Fish Pond. This game consisted of throwing miniature fish poles over a wooden screen. A prize was attached to the line and thrown back over.

Groceries were given as prizes in the country store. Each article was numbered. Numbers were put in a box (the same number on each article.) The numbers were then drawn, the award being the article that corresponded to the number drawn out of the box.

These were some of the many features at the annual P. T. A. Carnival held on Friday evening, March 25, in the Belmond school gym.

HELP THAT NEIGHBOR

One of the best things about these times is that there are so many excellent institutions, charities, helpful organizations, and other groups, all geared to aid the poor or the suffering

I am glad that this is so. The county and state are taking over the greater part of the care of these unfortunates. I would like to make a suggestion, though. It is just this: There is no need for things of this kind always to be done by county and state groups, no need for large scale buildings, for a big staff, and for so much expense to the taxpayers. It is just wonderful what a few kindly souls can do without any fuss or splash.

Suppose there is a cripple in your neighborhood who needs a wheel chair; suppose there is a young man showing musical ability who cannot practice because there is no piano at home; suppose there is a poor family where the children are in need of better clothing and the mother in need of a little vacation. Well now, you yourself can't do much about some cases, but if several neighbors or friends got together and "adopted" the cripple, or the musical prodigy, or the tired housewife, think what miracles could be performed—a concert, an informal sale of work, a bake sale, a rummage sale—and a chair might be secured, a piano might be bought or hired (or even lent). The needy children could be provided with some clothing or the mother sent to see her sister while one or two kind neighbors cared for the children.

Do you get the idea?

It has often been done. I just feel it could be accomplished still more often if someone would set the ball rolling.

FREE AND EQUAL

By Eugene Robbins

The years that we spend in high school are important to us, not only for the education we receive, but also for the senses of sportsmanship and fair play that we develop. But how much of this is carried on through later life?

The high schools of our Midwest do not give as much thought to the racial problem as the schools out on the west coast. If there were a family of Chinese or Japanese, for instance, attending our schools, how many people would treat them as human beings? Wouldn't they have the feeling that they're better because of differences in the color of their skins?

If every teenager in America could realize NOW that every person is equal to or better than himself, regardless of skin color and religious beliefs, we soon would have a really FREE world for the future.

Pranksters Called 'Gowls' or 'Cuckoos'

By Aileen Kalkwarf

April Fool's Day has come and gone again. Always, about this time of the month, we look back and try to analyze the situation, especially in regard to practical jokes that are too often harmful.

In early history April 1 was called All-Fools Day. It was not a holiday, but a time to which children looked forward when they could play harmless, mischievous pranks

Today, in English-speaking countries, the victim of a joke is called an April fool. In Scotland they're called "gowls" or "cuck--oos", while the French call them "April fish."

We've all played what we considered harmless practical jokes, such as substituting sugar for salt, attaching string to objects and leaving them in the street intending to jerk the string when someone stoops to pick it up, and others.

Then there are people who think every day is the first of April. They're harmless most of the time, but sometimes their practical jokes get out of hand and cause damage and even grief. People have lost jobs, important ones, too, simply because someone moved the clock back for a laugh, and they missed their train. These "characters" have many times caused serious injury by pulling chairs away just as someone is sitting down.

The world would be much less interesting without jokes, but everyone, and especially all practical jokers, should remember that a joke is meant to add joy and laughter, not sorrow.

Roller Rink Has Improvements Made

Hey, Kids! Get your roller skates out and start polishing them. Roy's Rink has finally opened, and it's larger and even better than before.

Roller skating is a popular sport around B. H. S., and the skaters have been counting the days until the rink at Lake Cornelia opened. Now that the time has finally arrived, skating parties will be planned and Dad's car will be in great demand for Sunday nights.

Roy Cupp, who has owned and operated the ring for 21 years, has been busy this winter redecorating it. Thirty-five feet have been added on the east end of the floor, providing a much larger space in which to skate. An entrance into the restaurant has also been built so that no food will be brought on the floor.

FFA BOYS ARE ACTIVE IN SPORTS

Since the reorganization of the Belmond Chapter of F. F. A. (Future Farmers of America) and the installation of officers had been completed, the local officers decided that the next step would be initiation. This was called for and held on Wednesday, March 9.

Fourteen Future Farmers were accepted as members. All were initiated except the freshmen who will be inducted in a formal candlelight ceremony open for the public in the near future.

The Future Farmer basketball squad met the Hampton chapter on Wednesday, March 23, on the Hampton court for a double-header. Belmond was defeated in both games, the first game score being 22-17. The local chapter played their last game at Garner on March 29.

For the remainder of the year the organization will concentrate on baseball and spring sports.

S. U. I. Band Gives 10 Varied Selections

"Are you going to buy a ticket? If you do, be sure to get one from me, will you?"

This question was asked of many persons during the last couple of weeks. The reasons? Well, the State University Concert Band was to appear here on March 30.

The band makes a tour of several towns each spring and makes a total of about forty public appearances. The regular concert band consists of eighty-five, members but the tour band was made up of only sixty. Also with the band is the Director of Bands, Mr. C. B Righter, and the associate director, Mr. A. L. Oehlsem.

The sixty-eight year old band was founded in 1881. Requirements for membership are personal dependability, fundamentally sound musicianship, adequate technical skill, and ability to read accurately at sight.

Out of the repertory of 25 numbers, the band played ten, Those included variations of marches, preludes, minuets and overtures The saxaphone quartet played a special number, "There's A Song in My Heart". To conclude the program, they played "On Iowa' 'and sang the Iowa Victory Chant."

MEET THE BAND

This week "Meet the Band" introduces the flute section. Three girls—Joan Kalkwarf, Jean Oberhauser and Janyce Larson are in this group.

The flute is one of the oldest wind instruments. The tone is produced by blowing across the small openings at the mouthpiece of the instrument. This is comparable to blowing across the top of a pop bottle. Tone changes depend upon the length of the tubing, this difference in length being made possible by keys covering holes at different intervals. It takes more time to master breath control and tone on a flute than on other instruments, since this instrument contains no reed or mouthpiece. The flute range covers three octaves and can be played very rapidly.

Joan Kalkwarf began playing the flute last June and entered marching band last September. A sixth grader this year, she plays with the concert band also.

Jean Oberhauser, a senior, began work on the flute in her freshman year, was inactive on the instrument during her sophomore and junior years, and began again this year She has also carried the flag during the past two years.

Janyce Larson, also a senior, began playing in her freshman year. She played occasionally during her sophomore and junior years and all the time this past year.

Baseball Boys Get In Practice Early

If you happen to pass by the gym after school some of these fine spring nights, you're apt to hear things like shouts of "Throw it here, buddy!" or "Burn one in here."

Don't be alarmed; these boys are simply getting in shape for spring baseball. They're all eager to get out of doors and hear the umpire say, "Play ball!"

Then, too, while you're outside, you may see a group of fellows hopping around mud puddles like little frogs. That, of course, will be the track team working out before the time comes when the gun is shot and they have to run for keeps.

News Bulletin Available On Freezing of Food

Newest of homemaking bulletins to arrive in the Wright County Extension Service Office is "Freezing Fruits, Vegetables and Prepared Foods," reports Mrs. Lettie E. Zuber, county extension home economist.

The publication, prepared by Jewel Graham, extension nutritionist, Iowa State College, indicates varieties of friuts and vegetables which are recommended for locker storage and gives instructions for preparing and wrapping each type of food.

Since many homemakers now utilize some locker space for prepared foods such as cakes, cookies, breads and pies, Miss Graham has also given detailed information on methods of preparing these foods along with recommendation on length of storage time and preparation of the foods for serving.

Mrs. Zuber says the bulletin is available now to anyone who wishes to write for a copy or pick it up at the county office.

Shoes for Handicapped

A shelf of new shoes at the Salvation Army's men's social service center, Brooklyn, N. Y., displays only one shoe in each size. These shoes are for handicapped people with one foot.

Manure Big Help To Garden Soils

Most Iowa gardens lack organic matter, or humus, with the result that the soil is tight, says Ed Cott, extension horticulturist at Iowa State College.

Cott says such soil will run together after a rain, then dry out hard.

The best remedy for this condition is barnyard manure applied in the fall. But the best that can be done this time of year is to apply well-decomposed manure. It needs to be at least 1 year old.

Cott says a half-acre garden needs 1 ton now. It should be well disked in. In the fall of the year, the same garden needs 2 to 5 tons more. A too-heavy application in the spring can cause so-called "burning." There are two reasons for this — nitrogen starvation of plants and the formation of an air layer by the bulky manure.

For the over-enthusiastic gardener who applies too much manure and is then faced with a dry summer, Cott has an antidote. Side dressing with a complete commercial fertilizer will help offset the damage. While this may seem like jumping from the frying pan into the fire, the horticulturist says it actually is not. Heat causes less nitrogen to be available, so this needs to be offset by giving plants another source of the plant food.

City gardeners can use leaf mold compost for humus if no manure is available. It can be applied at the same rates as manure. Peat is also good, but is expensive.

VOL. 30 NO. 26 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER Belmond Wright County, Iowa Thursday, April 14, 1949 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER The Family Newspaper

April 18 to 25 Is "Clean-Up" Week

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

BUSY, BUSY WEEK

This is one of these weeks when heavy work in the shop, and trouble with some of our complicated, temperamental machinery, has kept me so busy that it is almost press time and nothing has presented itself to my mind for this column.

Will take just a little time, therefore, to call your special attention to some of the local events, announced in your Independent this week, that are worthy of the attention of all of the readers of this paper.

—M-S—

First, and foremost perhaps is the request of our Mayor and City Officials that all citizens in the community cooperate in "Clean-up Week", April 18 to 25. I would like to emphasize this request and give it my hearty approval. It is only by the cooperation of every one that such a project can be successful. Results of an attractive and beautiful little city will not only give pleasure to us who live here but will make a good impression on visitors as well.

Your Belmond business men are calling attention of the readers of the Independent this week, as usual, to new, modern, up-to-date, timely, seasonal merchandise. Apparel stores for men and women and food stores in particular tempt you with things to wear (and eat) appropriate to the Easter season. Automobile dealers would like to satisfy your desire to take to the open road this lovely spring fever weather with brand new, shiny cars. Every other adviser tells you about service or merchandise to take care of your needs in the spring.

—M-S—

Information about the clubs and organizations you belong to can always be found in the Independent, happy events of births and weddings and the sad events of death.

There are stories of building and progress, stories of good ratings made by our school students in contests: music, athletics, dramatics, etc.

—M-S—

There is the Easter Egg Hunt on Sunday morning at 7:30 for all children of the community up to and including 12 years which has a lot of the young fry pretty excited.

—M-S—

And last, but not least, are the sacred events of Good Friday and Easter Sunday with all the churches of Belmond observing these days with specially planned services.

—M-S—

Yes, there are a lot of things going on in Belmond. No wonder we're so busy!

School Board Makes Teacher Salary Adjustment For 1949-50

Add Two Grade Teachers Need Three More Rooms

Using the averages of teacher salaries in 11 schools in this area—of size equal to Belmond's or larger—as a basis of adjustment, the Belmond school board at a meeting last week decided to adjust salaries here up to the average of the 11 schools. In addition each teacher will have a raise of $100.00 for the next school year, this latter being in line with a general trend all over the state of Iowa. New salary schedule will be effective September, 1949.

The board feels that adjusting the salary schedule of the Belmond schools to a higher level will continue to attract good teachers here, Superintendent Don Faris, stated Tuesday.

Two more classroom teachers for 1949-50 in the grade school will be added to the present staff to solve the problem of overcrowded classes and consideration is also being given to the problem of arranging for extra classrooms.

Preliminary plans, which have been drawn, would utilize some of the auditorium space for the two grade rooms, one in the northeast corner of the main auditorium and one in the southeast corner, with probable construction of sliding doors or removable sections of wall so that the entire auditorium could be made available easily when needed. Central section of the auditorium would be left open, as now for visual education. A room in the basement adjacent to the hot lunch room is being considered as a possible new classroom for vocal music.

Continuing contracts were issued to all the Belmond teachers last week, and they have until April 15 to return them.

Easter Seal Sale For Iowa Society Crippled Children To End Sunday

County Organization Helped 17 Last Year

Residents of Wright county are responding very satisfactorily to this year's Easter seal campaign which opened March 17 and will close Easter Sunday, Mrs. William Fisher, chairman of the drive in Wright county, has announced.

5250 Easter seals were mailed to families by the county society.

The purchase of the seals furnishes most of the funds used by crippled children's societies in this and other Iowa counties in their aid to the handicapped. Mrs. Fisher pointed out that 17 persons were given aid by the county organization last year. With an even more successful campaign this year, the Society will be able to help a greater number of handicapped persons in the county. Two women, four boys and 11 girls make up the total persons helped during the year. They ranged in age from 5 to 70 years. Various kinds of handicaps were represented among those receiving assistance: hearing and [illegible] defects, infantile paralysis. The Society's program of providing all kinds of needed non[illegible] services brought to the [illegible] dental care, transportation, [illegible] hospitalization and hearing of all school children tested by audiometer.

The work of the Wright County Society and other county chapters affiliated with the Iowa Society, is not duplicated by any other agency, Mrs. Fisher pointed out.

Among the projects of the county chapters and the State Society, which are in turn affiliated with the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, are the cerebral palsy consultant clinics in Des Moines; Spastic Club of Iowa, a division of the society, is an organization for parents of these children, a number of whom live in this county; Speech Center at Grinnell College and the camping programs financed in part by the proceeds from the Easter seal campaign.

Easter seals also help to finance the rehabilitation project for handicapped persons in this county and elsewhere in the state, providing them with a source of income as well as self-assurance.

Mrs. Fisher urged that persons who haven't purchased their Easter seals do so right away. Anyone not receiving seals may contact the Wright County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Eagle Grove.

Mayor and City Officials Urge Cooperation of All Citizens

Mayor C. H. Hass and the city officials have designated the week of April 18 to 25 as "Clean-up Week" in Belmond and are asking Belmond residents to fall in line with the state-wide march on things unsightly and objectionable on the home front.

In their appeal to all citizens to cooperate in this spring clean-up our officials emphasize "Well-kept yards and gardens and buildings should be the goal of each self-respecting citizen in a respectable city. Everyone can help in this worthy undertaking."

Suggested helps are raking the lawn, cleaning out the garden, cutting the grass, repairing fences, disposing of rubbish, painting the buildings, cleaning the attic, cleaning the basement, repairing the sidewalk, check fire hazards and remove them, wreck and remove structures not worthy of repairs.

While spring clean up has been in progress all over town during the ideal weather of the past few days, there still remains a lot of cleaning and disposing of trash and winter accumulations. To have the work all completed by the end of "Clean-up Week" will result in a safe as well as a clean and attractive city.

Assuming their responsibility in the spring clean-up, the city officials are having the park raked and streets cleaned as quickly as the work will progress.

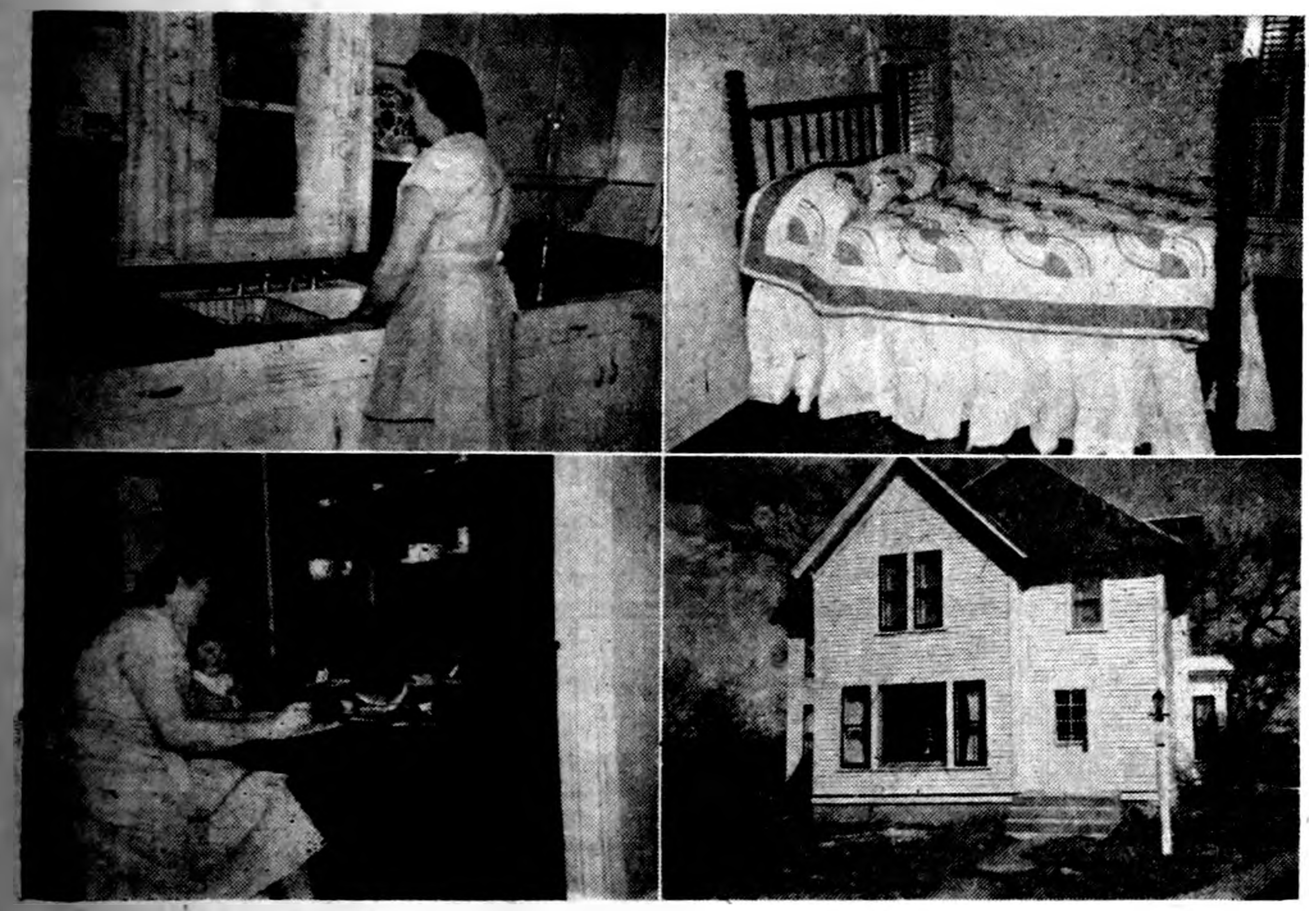
Antique Furniture Enhances Newly Remodeled Studebaker Farm Home



The above pictures were taken of the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr. and family which has undergone considerable remodelling during the past year. Upper left hand picture shows Mrs. Studebaker at her double kitchen sink, of all-new kitchen, upper right is of the solid maple spool bed brought to Iowa over 100 years ago, lower left shows Mrs. Studebaker and daughter, Jane, at antique solid walnut secretary desk in living room, lower right shows house from the front with picture window which was built over from an old bay.

A solid maple spool bed, which was brought by oxen to Iowa from Wisconsin across the Mississippi River at McGregor over a hundred years ago, is one of the most prized of the many pieces of antique furniture which make up a large part of the furnishings of the newly remodelled farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Studebaker, Jr. and family just east of Belmond.

Mrs. Studebaker, who came to Belmond in 1927 as a home economics teacher and taught in the local schools for 10 years, began her collection of antique furniture while she was teaching here.

The maple spool bed belonged to the descendants of her grandmother's brother and was discovered by her father (who was aware of his daughter's interest in antiques) in the loft of a log cabin used for livestock. When she first brought the bed home and refinished it for use, she tried to rope it as was originally intended on the heavy pegs carved along the heavy round side rails. The ropes kept sagging, however, and a spring and mattress were later used to replace the hopes, having to be cut down to fit the bed which is both shorter and narrower than the modern size, as well as much higher.

The two daughters of the Studekabersk, Jane 4, and Mary Alice, 10, have the bed in their bedroom, where it gracefully displays a dust ruffle to the floor and a colorful spread quilt in keeping with its style.

Two large solid walnut chests with hand carved pulls are other choice pieces, having been handed down from each side of the family. Other furniture, including beds, chairs, secretary desk, dining room high cupboard, dropleaf table and chairs have been handed down in the family or found at auction sales. Mrs. Studebaker has done the refinishing of all the old furniture herself.

The Studebaker family moved to the farm just east of Belmond February 26, 1948 and started tearing up for 12-room house the the extensive remodelling they planned to do on the first day of March, three days later. Now the inside job is about finished, with just a little painting left to do and one or two cupboards to build.

The house has a new roof and fresh paint job on the outside. Concrete footings have been run for a double garage at the southeast corner which will be connected by a breezeway to the kitchen door. One old barn is being torn down and lumber from it will be used in the garage as well as to repair the other barn. A drive straight in from the road to garage, convenient to both front and back doors, will be constructed later in the season.

Mrs. Studebaker is anxious to do some work on the lawn but thinks they may not have time this year. She has her usual batch of spring chickens to look after, about 300 Hy-Line pullets and another 100 mixed so the family can have plenty of young fries. Regardless of how busy she has been fixing up the house, she would never neglect the chickens, as she calls them an important source of income.

She managed extra time for painting woodwork while they were in the process of remodelling because she didn't have to spend much time cleaning and dusting. Cooking and keeping the family's clothes clean was harder than now, however, with all her appliances and equipment in their proper and convenient places.

The Studebaker did much of the work on the house themselves. She has scraped and painted white all the woodwork in the house which now totals 10 rooms: large kitchen and utility room combined, half bath off back entrance, large dining room, large living room (partition torn out between two formerly), downstairs bedroom and bath; three upstairs bedrooms (partition torn out of two small to make one large), large upstairs and downstairs halls and a host of closets, eight in all, one bedroom has three.

Floors in the kitchen and utility room, dining room and front hall are of marbleized asphalt tile which Mr. Studebaker laid himself. The large living room is covered with a two-tone rose-beige pattern carpet, and the downstairs bedroom has a new oak floor. New wallpaper, in patterns chosen to harmonize with the antique furniture, has been used to redecorate walls throughout, except kitchen. Second floor windows have venetian blinds. Draw drapes in a plain cream color are used on the 11 foot picture window (made over from a bay) and other windows in the living room, ruffled white tiebacks in the big dining room bay.

Many colors were combined to make a bright, cheeerful and attractive kitchen. The asphalt tile floor is a marbleized gray which does not show tracks easily. Wall are a soft yelllow, lower part of the all new kitchen cupboards are white to match refrigerator and stove. Counter tops are dark red, and the upper cupboards are aqua. "I spend more time at my kitchen sink than anywhere else," Mrs. Studebaker stated, "with meals and someone always dropping in for lunch and coffee, it seems I am washing dishes a great deal of the time." She said her son John, 8 years, is better help with dishes than the girls.

Attractive and unusual draw curtains are on the kitchen windows. They were made from feed sacks bleached white and are decorated with crayola in about every color that comes, with four of the family's favorite recipes printed across them in large letters: white cake, angel food cake, roll cookies, brownies. Every time the curtains are washed, the recipes have to be reprinted but this isn't a long or hard job as the children like to help.

The Studebakers moved into their spacious farm home from a seven room house. Mrs. Studebaker doesn't know what she did with all her furniture in the smaller house because the only new pieces they got for the new home is the bottled gas kitchen stove. Yet the big house is adequately, as well as comfortably, and attractively furnished.

The Studebakers moved from a farm near Iowa Falls where they had lived for 12 years. Their 434 acre farm, with a considerable part in timber, had been known as the Luick farm for years, having most recently been owned by Mrs. H. F. Luick who sold it to Studebaker last year.

Easter Morn
by Evan B. Johnson

There's one morning when the worries
Of the dark months disappear.
When we hear Spring's voice awhispering
That the dawn of Easter's near.
As the world again awakens,
We will see it lay aside
All the sorrows of the Winter,
As it greets the Eastertide.
Fragrant buds will be in blossom,
Telling of the faith reborn
In the hearts of all believers,
In the dawn of Easter Morn.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM GEALOW

Wm. Gealow was born on September 25, 1868 in Mecklenburg province Germany. When about three years old he came to the United States with his parents, the family settling in the region of La Salle, Ill. The deceased left Illinois as a young man and homesteaded in northeastern Colorado from 1890 to about 1896. He returned to Illinois and in the year 1897 moved to this community.

On February 5, 1900 he was united in marriage to Marie Geitz, the wedding ceremony being performed by Pastor August Wellner. On April 20, 1905 he was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran Faith by Pastor E. Schalinske of Belmond.

The marriage was blessed by five children. The family lived on farms to the northeast of Belmond, near Ventura, and the southeast of Belmond. In 1934 he and his wife retired fom active farm life and moved to Belmond.

He and his family were actively interested in the work of their church. For a number of years he served faithfully as the church janitor. It was an inspiration to his pastors to see him even at a good old age making his way to the worship services of God's House. For a number of years he was active in St. John's Brotherhood.

About one and one-half years ago his steps became more slow and he spent more and more time in and around his home. This past winter, he suffered a body affliction. Seemingly in better better health with the coming of warm spring days, he suddenly suffered great bodily affliction and was called from this life by His Maker on Saturday, March 26 shortly after noon.

He is survived by his wife, Marie, a faithful helpmate for almost half a century, by five children, Mrs. Bert Kalkwarf, Mrs. Barbara Sandman, Esther and Fred, all of Belmond, and Harry of near Nashua, Iowa. His survivors also include a half-brother, Edd Gealow of Lostant, Ill., two half-sisters, Mrs. John Farney of Fairbury, Ill., and Mrs. Ella Weber of Lostant, Ill. He is also survived by many relatives at Belmond and many friends. Twelve grandchildren mourn the passing of their grandfather and two great-grandchildren. He was proceeded in death by one sister, Mrs. Augusta Boers.

JOHN WELSH

Mr. John D. Welsh, son of John and Mary Welsh, was born June 20, 1868, at Steamboat Rock, Iowa. His early boyhood days were spent in Hardin county around Eldora, Iowa. There he received his education.

In 1891, on May 24th, he was married to Isabelle Thompson at Goldfield, Iowa. To this union were born 7 children.

About 1900 they moved from Webster City to this vicinity. At various times he lived at Kanawha, Mason City and Clarion.

Mr. Welsh was a pioneer man. He had the honor of being one of the original signers of the town of Kanawha's articles of Incorporation. He was the first rural mail carrier out of town.

During his working days he served at many occupations including farming, postal service and restaurant operator. The later generation will remember him as one who served as Justice of the Peace, which position he has held for many years in Kanawha.

Mr. Welsh was preceded in death by his parents, his mother passing away when he was but a young lad of 8 years, 3 half brothers, 1 half sister, and 2 children: Mabel, Mrs. Clarence Odell and Bertha Matilda, who died in infancy.

He was a member of the local Methodist church having joined in 1917.

He suffered several strokes in the past month and was taken to the Mercy hospital at Mason City where death came Tuesday.

He is survived by his wife, 1 sister, Mrs. Nettie Strother of Eldora, 5 children: Bessie Ruth, Mrs. Henry Peck of Garner, Howard J. of Fairfield, Orville G. of Cleveland, Ohio, Myrtle, Mrs. Myrtle Mariner of Kanawha, and Marie, Mrs. Lloyd Babcock of Compton, Calif., 16 grand children and 17 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Kanawha Methodist church Friday morning at 10 o'clock, with the Rev. R. D. Kitterman officiating. Music was furnished by the Methodist choir. Interment was made at Eldora.

SPRING

Spring is surely here. If this is doubted just look out the window. Watch the children jumping rope, the meadow larks singing gayly, the green buds on the trees, and the grass is beginning to grow a bright green. There is no time like spring with all its magic planting the desire to jump, run, and yell like children whether you are six or sixty.

One's burdens are lifted from his mind and bright cheerful exaltance fills his soul with a bursting desire to celebrate any time or any place. Even the lowest type of animal or insect voices his pleasure in the spring whether he be the mighty bear or the lowly cricket. After a severe winter (which was had in most places in the United States) how can one look at the bright sun and feel its warmth, growing ing powers, and the tantalizing flavor that is shed by Mother Earth without falling under its spell.

As you sit inside and watch the younger children play, your legs begin to vibrate and you imagine yourself wanting to throw all responsibility aside and snatch this bit of heaven before it vanishes, but with visible restraint you resolve it is beneath your nature to act like a child. A human being can stand this torture so long when he drops his typewriter, his responsibility, says to heck with the teacher and runs forth to satisfy his hunger.

HOME ECONOMICS NEWS

We, of the sophomore class, are finding it a lot of fun in making centerpieces for the tables. We have a lot of things to center our decorations around. Easter will be the main theme, and also some other things pertaining to Spring and April Showers.

This Friday will be the big day and we are looking forward to it. It's our Spring Housecleaning. Oh! our aching backs. (WANTED: Someone to help us! !) Although it will be hard work we think we'll enjoy our nice clean room.

MEET THE BAND

We have a new bass born player, James Larson. We are planning to go to the concert April 9. We are also going to the music concert to be held at Sheffield May 4. We have a few pieces of new music.

GRADE NEWS - -

PRIMARY

We have started reading in our Pre-Primers called "We Look And See.' There are new words and also lots of new pictures to see. Easter is coming and we're all hoping that the Easter Bunny will visit our room. Our Easter baskets are ready for him to fill. Our room is decorated with pictures of children and bunnies and carts that we have colored. Our new project is making a picture of a rabbit by pasting yarn on it. After we are finished the picture will be framed and hung in the room.

Last Fall we got some plants, and put them in pots and now we are watching them grow. It seems that it really is looking like Spring indoors as well as out.

FIRST GRADE

Spring must be in the air as everyone is so restless. What could be the cause — spring fever?

Group II has completed the book "Fun With Dick and Jane" and are now ready to start on another one.

We have received new writing books for the whole room.

We are planning to recognize money soon and hope to find it very interesting.

SECOND AND THIRD GRADES

Everyone has been doing spring housecleaning in their desks and around the room. Everyone seems to be well satisfied with the seating arrangement.

We have been decorating our room with Easter lilies, each one contributing leaves and flowers. For a border we have a Dutch scene, Katrina, Peter and the windmill.

The second graders enjoy working flashcards. There is a lot of competition between classes.

We have new books in second and third grade reading.

FOURTH AND FIFTH GRADES

Monday we went on a hike and looked for signs of spring. We found many indications, but the snow Thursday has covered them.

FOURTH GRADE

ARITHMETIC: We are making change. Some of us have made play money to use.

GEOGRAPHY: We had a test over Holland. Now we've started studying Norway.

LANGUAGE: We are beginning to use let, leave correctly. We are also learning when to use negatives.

SCIENCE: We are still studying the solar system. This week we are on the final chapter about shooting stars.

Next week will be 6 weeks tests so we are reviewing too.

Janet Andrews brough us cupcake treats for her birthday, which is during the summer.

FIFTH FRADE

HISTORY: We learned about the men who invented the telegraph, telephone and radio.

GEOGRAPHY: East North Central States which are Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana.

SCIENCE: Bringing things to school to illustrate physical and chemical changes.

ARITHMETIC: Adding and subtracting fractions and beginning to review.

READING: Reading Old Tales. Finished the chapter of Famous Americans.

LANGUAGE: Negatives, good and well.

SIXTH AND SEVENTH GRADES

Now with the Easter holiday coming on, the sixth and the seventh grade are reading "The Life of Christ."

They are very sorry to report that Theresa Abel has been ill with strep throat. We all hope that she will soon be feeling better so that she can return to school.

They have now started on something different. Miss Carpenter, their teacher, has been teaching them to make mats on looms and they all think it a lot of fun.

FRESHMEN NEWS

In Algebra we have been working with story problems, complex fractions, fractional equations and solving lateral equations.

In English we have been working with the library books, listing titles, authors, copyright dates of different books and we also have been reading in our literature books.

In science we are learning the importance of conservation, how to conserve our wild life, our deposits of oil, coal, ores, metals and the uses of minerals.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

In history the sophomores and freshmen are studying the making of Italy and Germany and the way Germany and Italy became united.

In geometry we are on tangents and secants. For the past several days the sophomores did not have class due to the absence of Mr. Johnson for a short time.

In English the sophomores are continuing on "The Tale of Two Cities." They have taken their six weeks test but haven't received their papers back as yet. The students have also been writing poetry in class.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR NEWS

In American literature the Juniors have just finished recent prose and poetry, and are now starting work on biographies and autobiographies. In typing we are taking time tests and are typing corrective sentences to correct our errors we make.

In history we are studying the period after the Spanish American War, when Manila, the Philippine Islands and Puerto Rico were trying to build their own governments.

In senior typing we are finishing legal document typing and are starting on speed emphasis. We need it!

In speech play practice is still the Seniors' main thought!

Columnar special journals are what is giving the Juniors and Seniors headaches this week. More books to forget.

What's Doin' In Music

The boys' glee club, girls' glee club, trio, and the two soloists are preparing music for the forthcoming events such as the Senior Class Play, Commencement, and Baccalaureate.

Fix UP

TO THE CITIZENS OF BELMOND!

APRIL 18 TO 25 IS

'CLEAN-UP WEEK'

-: IN BELMOND :-

LET US MAKE BELMOND "THE CITY BEAUTIFUL"

IT'S DRESS-UP TIME FOR BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

Belmond residents are asked to fall in line with the state-wide march on things unsightly and objectionable on the home front. They can help by cleaning out the attics and cellars in addition to the usual housecleaning. Well-kept yards and gardens and buildings should be the goal of each self-respecting citizen in a respectable city. Everyone can help in this worthy undertaking.

PAINT AND FIX UP

Property is still very valuable; it is expensive to replace when allowed to run down. Renters should consult landlords for help in repairing and painting buildings. Structures not worthy of repairs should be wrecked.

CHECK FIRE HAZARDS AND REMOVE THEM

Fire can destroy your material possessions -- things not replaceable. Look well to removal of things which can cause or easily kindle fire. Check electric wiring for "shorts." Inspect flues for possible attic and roof igniters. Keep oil and grease containers away from stoves and tightly sealed. Never throw oil or gas into a stove. Have repairs done promptly.

Clean UP

A Clean City Is A Better City

With rubbish, and trash, and cans, and broken limbs all cleared away, with premises well groomed and vacant lots cleaned up, our city will not only look better, but it will be a better city.

WE CAN ALL HELP—by raking the lawn . . cleaning out the garden . . . cutting the grass . . . repairing fences...disposing of rubbish...painting the buildings...cleaning the attic...cleaning the basement...repairing the sidewalk and in dozens of other ways.

YOUR CITY STREET DEPARTMENT IS BUSY CLEANING THE STREETS. PLEASE DO NOT BURN OR LEAVE RUBBISH IN THE STREETS.

"Clean Up Week" Is April 18 - 25

This week the Belmond City Council is urging all residents of our city to cooperate in "Clean-Up Week" which will be April 18 to 25. The council asks that the premises surrounding homes and places of business be cleaned and cleared of trash, rubbish, etc. in order to make Belmond a clean and attractive little city for the spring and summer months just ahead.

The Independent wishes to give its enthusiastic approval to the council's request and urge its readers to cooperate in the spring clean-up. It will take quite a lot of work and probably some small expense to get rid of the winter dirt and trash accumulations, but it will be well worth the efforts expended when results are shown all over town.

Who Works 2 Minutes, Who 30, To Earn A Loaf Of Bread?

The average American, thanks to our democratic free enterprise economy, works fewer hours and gets a whale of a lot more for his labor than the worker in Europe.

A boilermaker in Kansas City works two minutes to earn a loaf of bread, while in Rome he works nearly half an hour for his loaf, according to Associated Press survey.

In Washington a bookkeeper works 33 hours to buy a medium quality suit, while in Vienna he works 125 hours to get it. In our nation's capital a ditchdigger can feed his family for a month by 76 hours' work, but in Madrid he would have to work 622 hours, the survey found.

Cost of living under American free enterprise was shown to be far below that in countries of Europe -- especially countries bound by rigid controls and "planned" economy.

In Kansas City a pound of average beef can be earned by a boilermaker in 12 minutes, at a wage of $2.25 an hour. A boilermaker in Frankfurt, Germany, labors for two hours to earn a pound of beef -- and is lucky to find it.

Food takes so much of the monthly income in Amsterdam that hardly a guilder remains for clothing. In Great Britain the skilled worker under the Socialist Labor regime spends about one-half his time earning grocery money.

In an "iron curtain" capital like Budapest the Hungarian needs to work about twice as hard as the American for his food. In Madrid it takes two or three jobs to keep from going hungry most of the time, the survey disclosed.

Editorially Speaking--

Those Report Cards

Most of us were afraid of report cards, as youngsters, we won't deny. The brilliant students could proudly display his marks but the less brilliant wanted to hide his report card. It doesn't take educators to tell us that some children who can't get top grades, assume a defeatist attitude. We know that report cards can be dangerous, leading to all kinds of punishment on the part of parents. In six schools in a New Jersey county, several hundred students have never seen a report card. Their teachers have 15-minute conferences, four times a year, with parents. No fixed grades, but folders of the student's work, notes on mental and physical development, are discussed with these parents. Not only does this bring parent, teacher and child into closer understanding, but gives a better idea of what the school is trying to do. As a local man puts it, the doing away with the report card again proves we oldsters were born too soon. — Pocahontas Record-Democrat.

Streamlining of automobiles seems to be going out of style. They're getting short and square and more comfortable again. Wonder if it means auto designers finally have absorbed some common sense—or if they've just simply run out of ideas, like the designers of women's clothes did, when they brought in the Gay Nineties "New Look." —Northwood Anchor.

Fish In Iowa

We sometimes hear people complain that there aren't any more fish in Iowa lakes. During the last 90 days state seine crews have removed 160,000 pounds of rough fish from Spirit Lake. The fish were removed to decrease pressure on desirable game fish species. Better oil up your rod and reel and check over your tackle. Fishing is going to be good in Iowa. — Osage Press.

Visiting around Iowa

by Joe Marsh

Spring in Iowa

These spring days make a person happier than ever that he lives in Iowa.

I was driving out in the country this week. Everywhere wonderful farms, and folks busy plowing, discing, getting ready for another year of bumper Iowa crops.

Did you ever stop to think where all those bumper crops go?

For example, I learned the other day that our brewing industry alone bought more than three hundred million dollars worth of grains and hops last year. That's a mighty big market, right there, for our Iowa farmers.

Those purchases included Iowa corn, wheat, barley . . and even soybeans!

I mentioned this to Counsin Ed the other evening . . . the part the brewing industry plays in our farm prosperity. We were sipping a temperate glass of beer after supper. "Well," said Ed, "It's good to think that a lot of our own Iowa grain goes into making beer so famous as 'the beverage of moderation.' "

And it is, too. It's good to think of farm prosperity any time!

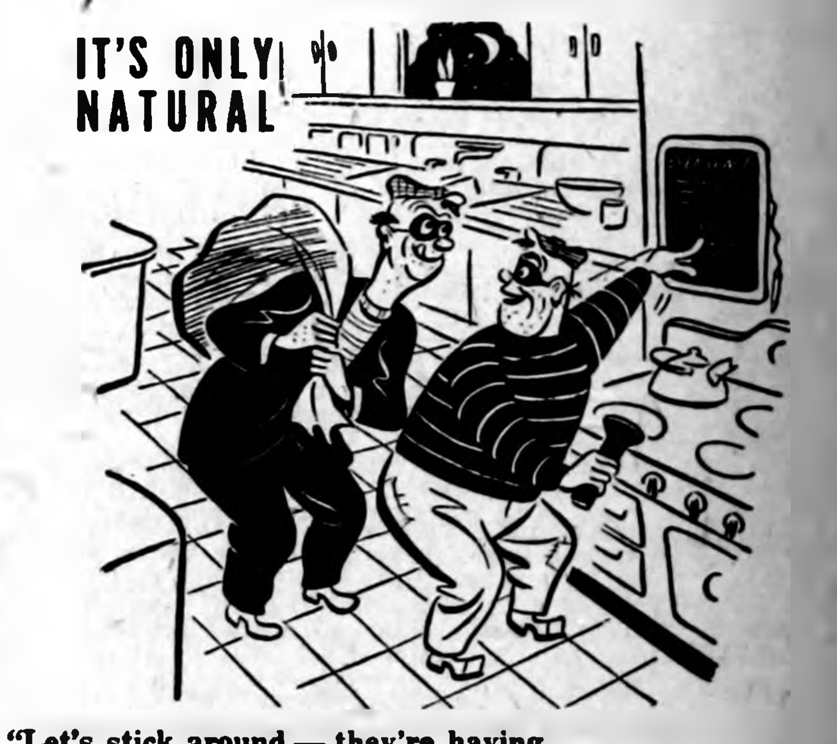
IT'S ONLY NATURAL



"Let's stick around — they're having butter-scrambled eggs for breakfast."

Scrambled or fried — boiled or poached — eggs are so much tastier cooked in Butter or served with Butter. Yes, the tempting flavor of Butter adds so much to the appetite appeal of other foods. That delightful flavor and golden color of Butter comes straight from nature — it takes four pints of thick golden cream to make a pound. Butter is naturally rich in the minerals and vitamins we all need — particularly Vitamin A. So, for flavor, for nutrition and for downright value—Butter is your best buy.

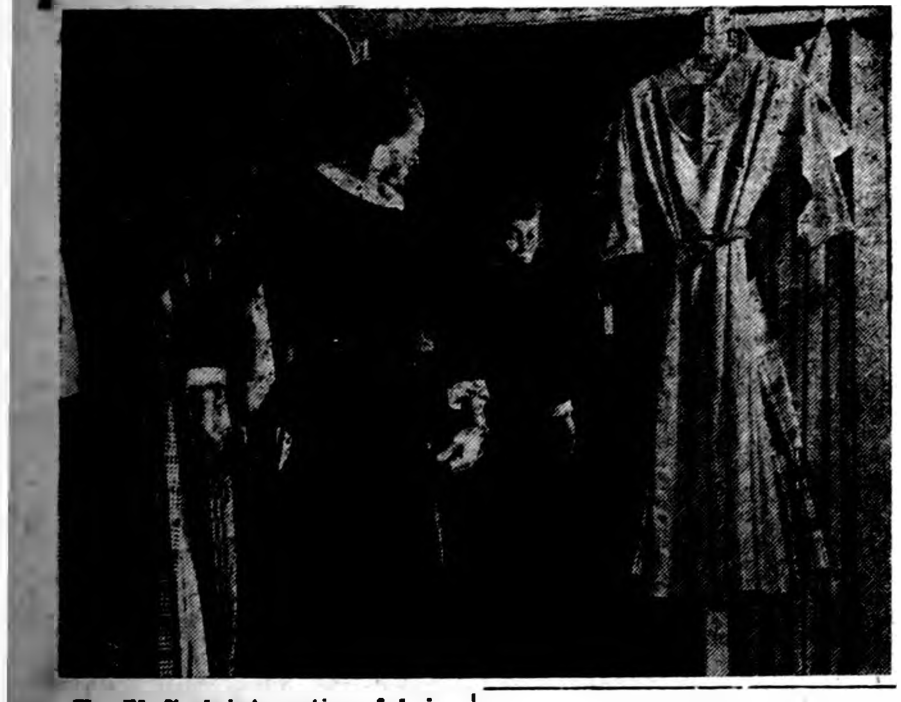
Spring Spotlights--

Variety in Fabrics and Fashions



You'll find interesting fabrics; new uses of tucks, laces, buttons and collars; and silhouettes flounced to slim when you search out the new dress or suit to pep up next season's wardrobe. It won't be hard to find clothes with figure-flattering lines, becoming color and texure.

Whether you add last years' spring and summer clothes with home or ready-mades, it won't be hard to give your wardrobe a "brand new" 1949 look.

For there's a wider range of pretty fabrics than we've seen in a long time, and a choice of "good" styles too. You'll have plenty of leeway when it comes to planning an up-to-date wardrobe that's right for you, says clothing specialist, Iowa State College.

At the very top of the list of materials for summer dresses are sheers — organdy, dotted swiss, practical crease-resistant voile and chiffon. Chambrays are back in an even greater array of of colors and weights— from the deep-toned iridescents to hanky-soft versions in solid colors. Cotton, taffetas, butcher linen, birdseye cotton pique, novelty tie-silk prints, matelasse and moire are all joining the fashion parade this year.

As for wools, they're appearing in a greater variety of weights and textures. Some tweeds are coming in softer, lighter-less-bulky versions. Faille is back in a wide range of weights, from tissue-thin rayon to wool.

Pretty Trimmings

The "ensemble look" is a keynote for your outfits this season. The clothing specialiste tell us the material itself will be worked into similar decorative details in suits, dresses and hats.

There'll be tucking, shirring, self-cording, pleating and ruffling. A new trick for trimming cottons is "plaiding" with bias strips of the dress material. This is easy to do at home if you use your machine attachments.

Now is the time to get out bits of crocheted lace and other edgings you've saved. For they're in fashion's favor once more. You can dye lace to match your fabric and be "right in style" for matching edges will be popular.

Your Major Purchases

Your spring coat, if you need one this year, will probably take the largest proportion of your clothes budget. "Shortie" coats will be good this year. You may find that you have a coat which can be quite easily turned into a smart shortie. The short coats are usually most becoming to very petite or very tall figures.

The loose coat with swinging fullness in the back is still fashionable, and if you're tall it's meant especially for you. The fullness is sometimes belted in to give you a longer, slimmer line. But of course gathering in the material at the waistline always adds some bulk.

The classic semi-fitted style is popular as always this year. These coats have some fitting in at the waistline and a graceful flare in the skirt. They're becoming to most women and especially to the larger figure.

Suits vary from the fitted jacket and full skirt combination to the boxy jacket with slim skirt. Some jackets are belted and bloused.

Pockets and necklines are getting lots of attention in spring clothes. Necklines are very high, some with upstanding profile collars, or very low, scooped or V-shaped, and often framed by important looking collars. Cuffs are showing up on all lengths of sleeves. A collar-and-cuff change may be all the face-lifting a dark dress in your wardrobe needs to put it in the running again.

Warm Spring Weather May Endanger Poorly Winter Stored Corn

Warm spring weather can mean warm, spoiling corn unless storage conditions have been right during winter months, says C. H. Van Vlack, agricultural engineer at Iowa State College.

Corn in roofless or poorly covered temporary cribs goes out of condition rapidly when the temperature goes up and spring rains soak in. Cribs that are too wide and crib driveways that have been filled with corn for the winter also will bear looking into, Van Vlack points out.

The maximum moisture content at which corn may be sealed for April Production Marketing Administration loans is 17.5 percent—reduced 3 percent from the 20.5 figure which was in effect during cold weather months. Therefore corn that is yet to be sealed may need to be dried out to meet the new specifications, Van Vlack says.

While no figures are available on Iowa corn, only 13 percent of the corn in 300 loan applications in northern Illinois was eligible for sealing, according to a survey made there early this year. The northeastern part of Iowa is believed to be hardest hit by the moisture problem.

Where there is danger of spoilage, Van Vlack suggests taking samples with a corn sealer's probe. Tests can be made at most AAA offices to determine the amount of moisture in the corn. Samples should be taken from several places inside the crib and must be sealed in an airtight container until tested.

Where ventilators have been installed in the crib, dryers are one solution to high moisture content problems. However, adequate drying equipment must be obtained if it is to be effective. A dryer that requires a 3-horse power motor to run the fan and which uses 5 gallons of fuel per hour is considered the correct size for drying a 1200-bushel crib. The number of days the dryer needs to be in operation depends on the amount of moisture in the corn.

One of the best ways to beat the moisture problem is to move the corn to proper cribbing space, Van Vlack says. Not only is some of the wetter corn on the inside of the crib moved to the outside, but the mixing of the dry outside corn with the rest helps equalize and reduce the moisture content. Too, chaff and shelled corn can be removed repiling of the corn will sult in better air circula to make more air space, explains.

CHECK COOLING TANKS
MAKE NEEDED REPAIRS;

With Spring upon us in Iowa, don't delay checking the milk cooling tanks.

We wish to point out that proper cooling is an important factor in marketing high quality milk. The cooling process keeps down the development of bacteria.

Proper cooling means cooling milk quickly, right after it is produced. And using water as a cooling agent is recommended because water cools milk 24 times as fast as air. If milk is cooled by air, there may be enough time for bacteria to develop to a point of lowering the quality of the milk.

Clean the cooling tank, repair cracks in the tank or in the insulation box. Check water pipe connections. Make sure the lid is in good condition and fits tightly. Metal tanks should be insulated.

May we also point out that floating cans don't cool properly, and suggest putting weights on cans or installing braces or brackets in the cooler to hold cans in position.

For the farmer who is short of cooler space and has a mechanical cooler, we make this suggestion. In the morning, take out the milk and put in the evening before and fill the cooler with milk produced in the morning.

As an added service to our patrons, cooling tanks are available at cost at the creamery.

VOL. 30 NO. 27 — OFFICIAL CITY PAPER — Belmond Wright County, Iowa Thursday, April 21, 1949 — OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER — The Family Newspaper

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

is omitting its usual light chatter this week to give space to the discussion of a problem which Belmond shares with many other communities near and far.

PLEASE READ THIS!
PLEASE THINK ABOUT IT!
PLEASE DO SOMETHING NOW!

Belmond will do well to follow the example of many other communities in Iowa and elsewhere in making this small city a safe place for our children to live and play.

The daily papers during the past few days have carried stories of the efforts of several Iowa cities, large and small, whose citizens have been jarred loose from habits of complacency and procrastination to see to it that no avoidable tragedy, similar to the California incident which took the life of little three-year old Kathy Fiscus, or the near tragedy of little Betty Johnson, who fell into a well in Des Moines and was saved by the heroic efforts of a neighbor lady, shall happen in their communities.

We don't mean that something should be done in Belmond sometime in the indefinite future, BUT RIGHT NOW as soon as it is possible to get together a little equipment, labor and materials. This is not a question which should take long for discussion from a financial point of view. The cost, it would seem, would be so nominal that it should hardly have to be considered at all.

Old cisterns and wells, some of them dry, but some full of water, and quite a few with old wooden covers loosely fastened or actually rotted, have been a source of worry to mothers and fathers of small children for a long time before the California tragedy. No wonder some of them are stirred up and ready for action now. But there is, and always has been, a problem; How to make sure old cisterns or wells are safe from our curious, fearless, careless little children, who not infrequently get out of the bounds of their own "made-safe" yards, without offending the owners of property on which such danger spots exist.

Storm sewers which are placed at many places around the city to carry away the water which runs off the streets during rain, sometimes in flood-like quantities, are in need of repairs. Iron grating, which cover the large openings into these storm sewers have been broken in many cases and in some lost altogether.

While no one may be able to recall that a small child has ever gotten into trouble or a tight spot in one of these storms sewers, this is no proof that "IT CAN'T ALSO HAPPEN HERE!"

Old cisterns, old wells and inadequately protected storm sewers are the most obvious danger spots. A thorough survey of the entire city would doubtless reveal many more.

Mrs. Laurence Murray, president of the Parent Teachers Association, which, besides teachers, is composed entirely of mothers and fathers, said that she felt sure it would be an easy matter to find a committee of mothers and fathers who would volunteer to survey the entire city, to find all possible danger spots which need attention and correction.

Roy Henderson, city attorney, who works along with the City Council on civic problems and who is also a member of the local school board, thinks a solution might be the passing of a city ordinance which would impose a fine on property owners who allow danger spots to exist on their premises where anyone, children in particular, might get fatally hurt.

R. W. Courson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who is a father of four small children says, "This is a job which needs our attention and should be done without delay. I don't think anyone living here can give one argument against a project which would give better protection to our children."

This writer has discussed the question with many other individuals and has talked to no one yet who isn't in agreement that something should be done. But who is to take the initiative to get the ball rolling, and who is to see the job through to a thorough and complete finish?

What other places can do, Belmond can do! Please think about it! Please do something now!

Film Personality Search Open To Local Children

Some girl or boy who lives in or near Belmond has a chance to be "Little Miss America," or "Mr. America, Jr." This national honor includes a trip to Hollywood (including one parent) with transportation paid, a 3 day stay at the famous Hollywood Plaza Hotel, a guaranteed movie contract with Republic Studio, radio shows, sight-seeing, meeting the stars, and a jackpot of fun and prizes.

Sponsors of this annual "Portrait to Fame" personality contest—in which last years winners were 5 year old Kathleen Flynn of Spokane, Wash., and Michael Perich, 12, of Sacramento, Calif.—and the Screen Children's Guild of Hollywood and Woltz Studios of Des Moines—the official contest photographers.

Will Photograph Children April 29-30

The fame-fortune trail for children who live here or in nearby [illegible] starts Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30 when an official Woltz representative will photograph entrants in the contest, which, the studio emphasized, is a "personality" and not a "beauty" search, and is open to anyone. Pictures will be taken at the Case Hotel.

One winner in each age group will be chosen from every town, including its rural area. All portraits of local winners are entered automatically in the state eliminations.

The boys' and girls' contests comprise two age groups: babies through 4 years, and children 5 through 13 years. Children in the younger age bracket are not eligible for national competition, but are eligible for state honors and prizes, which are topped by a $100 savings bond. The older age group winner, however, in addition to competing for local and state awards, goes to the nation-wide finals. A board of expert judges will determine the Iowa boy or girl who will make the Hollywood trip August 25.

Pictures of local winners as well as the Iowa state and national winners will be published at this newspaper at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Turner and Larry of Dows and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nelson were Sunday dinner guests at the Oscar Nelson home.

"Peddle'n Along"

Written by the Senior Class

Editorial

THE NEED FOR A HIGHER EDUCATION

The time when our grandfathers were boys an eighth grade education was sufficient to get along in this world. One would finish his education in the little red schoolhouse and then start working, mostly farming. A few of the very wealthy or a few who were very determined to search for further college and high school education would go on to school. After their education was completed they would head for the city or politics. At that time a farmer needed no education. This was a small world. There were no airplanes to carry a person around the world in three days, nor large steamers by which you could visit your neighbors across the Atlantic and come back the same week; no telephones that you could chat with your friends across the continent nor any radio or television sets.

The world has changed and with it a need for more education. A nurse requires three years of special study. A radio operator, at least a high school and some college education. A farmer needs to be always studying new policies and methods of farming therefore requiring a better education. In fact one can hardly find any employment at all without a high school diploma. Most employment today requires special skills which are acquired in our modern well equipped schools with a staff of skilled instructors. The knowledge gained there, plus the actual experience gives us a background which can be developed by employment in a special field.

With the high cost of living and our fast advancing higher standards of living plus the progress in science; we prepare ourselves to take our places as well educated, skilled workmen. This can be accomplished only through a better education.

SENIORS VISIT

Th seniors, accompanied by Mr. Hussong, visited Ellsworth Junior College, on their annual El Juco Day. This year's El Juco Day was held on March 31, 1949.

Our day's vacation started at 10:30 a. m. and ended in the early hours of the next morning. We stopped for a mid-morning lunch in Hampton. We also tried to enjoy our expensive dinner at the Princess Cafe in Iowa Falls. At 1:00 we registered at the college and we were divided in different groups. With a guide each group was taken through the classrooms where we became acquainted with the courses taught in the college. A few of the courses are Spanish, Physics, Chemistry, Art, Social Science, Physical Science and a varied business course.

At 4:00 we were through with these brief reviews of each course. Promptly at 4:00 there was an athletic and an academic contest. The academic contest was held in the college library. The academic test consisted of four parts: Physical Science, Social Science, English and mathematics. Helen Morgan and Richard Hill were elected to take these tests. They reported the tests were quite stiff. Joye Vestweber and Grant Peddle represented us in the athletic contest which consisted of a free throw contest, 50 yard dash, and several relays. Joye Vestweber placed first in the free throw contest by making 18 of 25 shots. She also placed second in the 50 yard dash and third in the relay. Grant went into the second round of the free throw contest and his placings ended there.

After the contests we had time on our hands till our 6:00 o'clock supper. The senior class drove around seeing the sights of Iowa Falsl till suppertime. After this strenuous afternoon we had quite an apetite. We ate the evening meal in the college cafeteria where supper had been prepared for the visiting seniors.

In the evening we were guests of th college at their variety show "Hellsworth" held in the high school auditorium. We found the show to be very interesting and entertaining. After our full day we turned ourselves toward home and arrived there in the early hours of the morning.

When We Service Your Car
WE ARE THINKING OF
"Day After Tomorrow"

We may be wrong, but we still believe there will be a time when we will be asking you to please drop in and see some of the nice automobiles we have in stock for immediate delivery at new low prices.

And if our hunch is right, the time will come when we will be very glad that a lot of motorists have learned to depend on us for motor car service.

Our business here is selling and supplying automotive transportation to this community in the form of new cars, used cars, parts, materials and skilled labor. We expect to continue in this business, when the market again becomes truly competitive.

That is why we are investing in more facilities building up a larger and better plant, sparing no effort nor expense to become more proficient in all that we do.

The only real profit to be gained in these times as we see it, is the good will of people who will make this establishment their permanent motor car home. On that basis, we solicit the patronage of local motorists.

Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God. -- I Corinthians 4:5.

Be Ever Vigilant!

One of the things that makes this country great, and we like to think different and somewhat apart from many other countries in this distressed world of today, is the very high value most of its citizens place on human life, even one little life.

The tragic and seemingly unnecessary accidental death of little three-year old Kathy Fiscus out in California attracted the interest and profound sympathy of young and old alike all over this country for her parents and friends. Her long imprisonment in the 100 foot well brought forth the most valient deeds on the part of truly great men who faced constant danger and worked long, hard hours without rest, hoping to save her life.

If this tragedy does nothing more than shockingly remind us how important human life is, more important than selfishness, greed, ambition, hate, jealousy -- to mention some of the characteristics which have goaded some men and some nations to the wholsale sacrifice of human life to gain their own selfish ends -- perhaps the heartbreaking loss of little, happy, innocent Kathy may not be in vain.

We need to be ever vigilant, not only to protect our little ones against carelessness, neglect, indifference, which frequently put danger in their way, but also to protect all against the greater dangers arising from the satisfaction of desires on the part of some individuals, groups, or nations through heartless, deliberate destruction of human life on a grand scale.

He No Longer Wants To Make A Million!

A young man has revealed, in a recent magazine article, the reasons why he doesn't want to make a million dollars. Has he lost his mind? No, he's just been studying what our present income-tax laws would do to his millions—or yours.

"It has always been a great American dream to strike it rich," he wrote. "To invent a better mousetrap, to write a best seller, to manufacture a gadget—and make a million dollars. Ever since I was big enough to work a week digging potatoes and earn six dollars to buy a .22 rifle, making a million dollars is a dream that I have clutched close to my ticker. Now something has gone out of me. I don't want to make a million dollars any more."

"The sad, sorry fact," he continued, "is that after toiling and sweating half your life, after taking your knocks and trying again, after dreaming of all the things you could do with a million dollars, after finally making the big killing—the fact is you are a millionaire with only $231,507.24 that you can call your own."

"I wish to make a note to the historians that sometime along here something important was lost from our lives," the writer pointed out. "Perhaps they will describe it as the end of the Horatio Alger epoch . . . They might add that it came as a great blow to hopeful people like myself to discover that if a man had a million dollars, he would have enough to pay his income tax."

Editorially Speaking--

The Time To Stop Advertising

"Time to Stop Advertising is when you want to go out of business," says John R. Gilman, former vice-president in charge of advertising for Lever Brothers company.

"There may be times when you are forced to go easy on advertising. This is unfortunate, For, even during periods of shortages, you should keep your former customers sold on your products.

"The economic history of the country is studded with names of products that once were famous and now are forgotten because they forgot to advertise."

No doubt, Mr. Gilman could better name the "forgotten products." Perhaps he is too considerate. But the H-R remembers a few of them, and would like to recall them to you, not only for the sport of the thing, but for emphasis. Here are a few: Diamond C soap, Piedmont cigarettes, American Chico Co., gold dust powder, Sapolio, Fatima cigarettes (presently trying a comeback through heavy advertising).

How many can you recall?

—Grinnell Herald Register

Dig, you sucker, dig. . Send billions worth of arms and munitions to Europe, send other billions in aid and loans. Russia will get some of it. We will get some of it back at a high price, on a gray market. While we are depleting our resources to do this, some of these countries get the idea that we are trying to run things over there—increasing of our influence through the spending of our seemingly inexhaustible dollars. What if your individual tax burden already is twice as great as any other people in the world are bearing, don't complain. You asked for it, so dig, brother, dig!—Wright County Monitor.

Visiting around Iowa

by Joe Marsh

Iowa is Lucky

We don't have many radicals in Iowa.

That's another good thing about living here.

You've noticed, and I have, too, that we aren't bothered much by agitators, parlor pinks, or "isms." Iowa folks believe in moderation and tolerance . . . and practice it in their own habits, and their attitude toward the other fellow.

Take the other evening. Some folks dropped over to Ed's house for his birthday. When refreshment time came, some had a temperate glass of beer, others had lemonade or coffee. Each one had his own preference, and no one tried to push his ideas onto the other fellow.

We Iowans respect each other's point of view like that . . . whether it's in the choice of a mild glass of beer or ale . . . or in the choice of a candidate in the election. That makes good neighbors. It makes Iowa a good state to live in. Let's always keep it that way.

Mr. and Mrs. Arie Williamson announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Harry Swartzbaum of Los Angeles, Calif., on April 16, 1949, where they will be at home at 707 No. Dillon St.

Mary Lou graduated from Kanawha High School with the class of 1944. She was employed at the Farmers State Bank at Kanawha for 1½ years. She spent 2 years at Cornell College at Mt. Vernon, and for the past 2 years has been service representative for the Pacific Tel. & Tel.

- I. S. C. Campus Chatter -

by Al Swenson

"Two weeks ago I was saying, 'Spring is here, the grass has ris', what a beautiful day this is . . ." Ole man winter played a return visit to the campus of Iowa State this last weekend and altered that same poem to read; "Spring is here, the grass has ris', wonder what this WHITE stuff is . . ."

The students here at Iowa State witnessed one of the "freaks" of nature this past weekend (without joy!), as the Easter bonnets and picnic blankets were replaced with over-shoes and winter clothes. The newly-opened tennis courts soon became an arena for that well known sport of "snow-ball fights." Within some four hours the piercing rays of the sun and the happiness it had brought had disappeared, only to leave a bitter and unhappy look on the faces of the students you would see while going to and from classes.

Dwight Tyrrell of Belmond says college life is getting better and better all the time. I think there are reasons other than school for this statement. What with his engagement to Miss Sylvia Shoemaker, who wouldn't say that? Miss Shoemaker is a senior at Iowa State majoring in Applied Arts. She is a member of Kappa Delta, national social fraternity and comes to Iowa State from the city of Detroit, Michigan. They met each other here at Iowa State and even though their engagement has been announced, no definite date has yet been set for that fateful day.

Dwight is kept quite busy these days with his studies and outside activities. Dwight is a member of the Block and Bridle Club, a club open only to those majoring in Animal Husbandry. Dwight is also very active in the Yel-Jacks — an organization with the aim of promoting school spirit where athletics are concerned. His other outside activities may be referred to the first paragraph!

Dwight plans to farm after his graduationn.

Mystery Farm 31 Is Home of The Bruce Reinhardt Family

Mystery Farm 31, which appeared in last week's issue of the Independent, is owned by Ralph Harmon but is operated by Bruce Reinhardt. The Reinhardt family includes two children: Dick, five years, and Joy, one year.

All the buildings on the 160 acre farm have been built new since the Reinhardts moved their five years ago with the exception of the house. The farm is located one and three-fourths miles north and one mile west of Belmond.

Last year Reinhardt had 55 acres in corn, 25 in oats and 32 in beans. He milks four cows, has 50 Hampshire spring pigs and in the past has raised sheep. They have between four and five hundred chickens, mostly Leghorns.

Mrs. Reinhardt is interested in flowers and, during her busy spring and summer days, finds time to take care of a nice flower garden.

Mystery farm 32 may be found this week in an advertisement sponsored by the Spahn and Rose Lumber company. Occupants of farms shown in the Independent are reminded to stop at the office to claim free enlargement of picture and to give information about farm and family for publication the following week.

Mystery farm picture 31, which appeared in the April 7, issue of the Independent, has not yet been claimed.

THIRTY YEARS AGO—

Wolle & Bishop last week moved the Thoe Photo studio from the Heginger lot to the rear of the lot just west of the Nordschow garage. This lot Mr. Thoe has recently purchased from M. C. Barry for $450. The building known as the Finn building will be moved off to make room for the studio.

—1919—

O. D. Jenison discovered a curiosity on his farm the other day in the shape of baby pigs, veritable Siamese twins.

—1919—

Adolph Skovlin who has been serving in the medical corps received his discharge and arrived home last week Wednesday.

—1919—

Prof. Markus with some of the school boys have fixed up a tennis court north of Klemme's office and are playing a few sets occasionally. The sight is liable to thrill the blood of some old war horses like Luick, Stevens, Fetrow or Gowdy. (Ed note: it did!)

The above eggs with 3 barrels of whisky, 1½ barrels of sugar and 5 pounds of nutmegs and 3 barrels of water, would make fighting force enough to annihilate Spain, the Queen Regent included.

Wake Up And Live

Never miss an opportunity of doing a good turn.

If the chance comes, don't hesitate; don't think about it; don't weigh the pros and cons—do it.

It's an old tired world, and everybody needs all the help, cheer and encouragement he can get. If you can say a kind word, say it; it you can lend a helping hand, lend it. If you can do somebody a good turn, do it gladly and quickly—you just cannot tell how desperately somebody needs it.

Begin tomorrow morning, determined to get the utmost out of every minute. Try it—just as an experiment. Start off by singing in the bathroom (unless that will annoy the rest of the family.) Enjoy the brisk walk to school, and put your heart into your schoolwork; make light of those little irritations and disappointments. Look on the brighter side as far as you can; believe people that wish you well. Don't forget to listen for a pleasant word, for the singing birds, or for your favorite radio program — wake up and really live!

Physical Education

The P. T. classes have been learning how to do many stunts and tumbling acts. Square dancing was also taught recently. Information is being given on deck tennis and badminton. Students interested in tennis are being instructed by Miss Henry.

Agricultural Classes Seed Football Field

The Agriculture I and III classes have spent a good deal of time on seeding the softball field. First they disked it, then put fertilizer on it, and then disked the fertilizer. The final steps consisted of seeding down and dragging the field. The boys borrowed the tractor and disc from the L. and G. Implement store and other equipment from Lauron Dorr and Lester Buseman. The local elevator contributed the fertilizer.

The Agriculture II class went to the Joe Duea farm, where the boys judged hogs. They also saw last year's champion Duroc sow.

The Agriculture III class has also been mixing hog minerals at Klemme.

New Clothes And Spring Go Together

Spring comes but once a year! Maybe this and Easter both have brought the maddened rush for new clothes. The latest styles are not all new ones, but some revised older ones as well.

The dresses have been changing often, but some of the most popular are the gingham plaids and colored eyelets. Low necklines are acented by extra-long pearls.

Navy blue is becoming very popular for both dresses and coats. With white accessories and exciting scatter pins, this color is fascinating for all ages.

Coats seem to have no certain style, although the skirts are either tight or full.

After all, new clothes and spring just seem to go together!

Belmond Basketball Squad Honored At Banquet April 4

Belmond's Broncos winners of 17 of 22 basketball games, were honored at a basketball banquet April 4, by the Belmond Chamber of Commerce.

Featured speaker was head coach Jack McClelland of Drake University. The youthful mentor reviewed the past season played by his squad, including such top-flight teams as Oklahoma A. & M., and St. Louis University, giving plays by these teams and tactics employed.

McClelland spoke of the many nationally-famous players as Ed Macauley and Whitey Skoog, and emphasized the increasing trend in the cage sport toward the taller players. McClelland had a better than average year at Drake.

Sports Editor Jim Van Heel of the Mason City Globe Gazette described the procedure of selecting the all-state boys' high school squads. Bud Suter, former coach of Mason City high school, and now sports commentator for station K. G. L. O., reviewed the state tournament.

Clair Christie acted as toastmaster. Ronald Courson, president of the Chamber of Commerce spoke, welcoming the squad. Coaches Lloyd Patterson and Jim Scott presented the teams and Scott awarded letters to 12 varsity men. Co-Captains Wilmer Gabrielson and Roger Kinseth were introduced and gave short speeches. Coach Scott anticipates another good year as nine of twelve lettermen return to form the nucleus of next year's team.

M. B. Dannewitz concluded the evening's activities with movies on basketball.

Helen Loeffler Is Back In School

Helen Loeffler, automobile accident victim last October, again joined the students of Belmond High on April 4.

Helen had her cast removed on February 24, but she must still use crutches. She has been able to keep up with most of her school work at home and now will be able to graduate with her class. When confined to her wheelchair, her favorite pastimes were listening to the radio and sewing.

Helen said that she liked her junior year in high school the best of all and that typing was her favorite subject. She plans to attend college this fall.

Sophomores Give Party For Scotty's Birthday

A birthday surprise was given for Mr. Scott on April 6 by his third period sophomore history class.

Unsuspecting, Mr. Scott opened the closed door and walked into his room, only to be met by a hail of peanuts as he stared down at his gifts. After class members had gathered up the peanuts from the floor, Scottie opened his packages. He found two big candy Easter eggs and a big box of candy.

After thanking the class, Mr. Scott put them back to work on the usual subject — world history.

Picnic For Lettermen Planned For May 1

The lettermen of Belmond high school decided to change their annual party by having a picnic at Clear Lake May 1 or 2. Girls will be invited. Usually they give a banquet at the schoolhouse.

The picnic will have a western, or pioneer, theme. It will include an old-fashioned steak fry with all its trimmings. None of the boys have ever seen a real steak fry, so they decided to carry on in their own fashion.

Demonstrations Given By Freshmen Girls

The freshman home economics classes have finished giving their demonstrations. Each girl from the two classes gave one.

Rosie Negrete and Neoma Johnson demonstrated washing sweaters; Alyce Holgate and Verda Mennenga, mending socks; Juliette Clark and Frances Palmer, joining elastic; Shirley Davenport and Jean Michelson, pressing pleated skirts; Norma Meyer, Audrey Soma, Betty Hopple and Adelaide Jenison, removing six kinds of stains; Alice Lieuwen and Judy Baker, explaining different kinds of snaps; Lois Soma and Mary Lou Baker, sprinkling clothes.

Barbara Schmidt and Thelma Meyers demonstrated how to make starch; Mavis Green and Ruth Kalkwarf how to mend tears; Darlene Trager and Eleanor Dorr, how to wash socks properly; Kay Harty and Wanda Pals, different kinds of fasteners; Carol Hanson and Jeanette McGuire, proper handling of clothing; Shirley Meyers and Joan Dorr, different types of fabric weaves; Arlene Wessels and Marlys Thompson, how to polish shoes; Genevieve Swenson and Bernadine Summers, how to patch holes; Betty Henderson and Betty Schleiffarth, different types of buttons.

The classes have now started on a new unit on child development.

Girls in the advanced home economics classes are still working on sewing projects.

May Fete To Be Given By First Eight Grades

On April 27 the May Fete will be given in the gym by the first eight grades. A variety of folk dances, games, tumbling, calisthenics and boxing will be included.

Again, as every year, a May queen will be chosen from the senior girls. Candidates are Jean Oberhauser, Beverly Spencer, LaVonne Johnson, Helen Loeffler and Kay Reno. These girls were chosen by the senior class, and were voted on in an all-school election.

GRADE NEWS

KINDERGARTEN

On April 1 the pupils started filling large decorated tin Easter eggs with small candy eggs. Every day they put one candy egg in for cleaning their teeth, and one for nails and hands. Most of the children had their large eggs nearly filled when they took them home before Easter.

Each child brought a hard-boiled egg to school, and they took turns coloring them.

Douglas Thompson is back in school after having the measles. Jerry Pals also had the same disease.

FIRST GRADE

The "Brownie" division completed their readers, "Fun With Dick and Jane." After taking their Basic Reading Test they have begun "Our New Friends."

The children are making a bird booklet in social studies class. During the past week they have been reading about the robin, bluebird, woodpecker, bluejay, and the chick-a-dee. They have learned where and how they build their nests, the number of eggs each bird has, and how they take care of their young. Each student colored pictures of the birds studied.

The children are learning the use of such terms as big, bigger and biggest; more and most; short, shorter, and shortest. They have made drawings to show their understanding of the different terms. Rabbit pictures have been made by the free-hand tearing method. The bulletin board was decorated with Easter lilies made by some of the children.

FIRST AND SECOND-GRADE

The second graders are learning to write their names and addresses. All but two of them received 100 in spelling.

The first graders have almost finished "Fun with Dick and Jane." The social studies class has done several experiments with thermometers. The children are keeping a weather chart for April. Easter decorations consist of colored and cut-out bunnies and chickens.

SECOND GRADE

Those who received A's in spelling last week were: Linda Bonte, Karen Buchanan, Harold Buseman, Karen Chapman, Sharon Fleming, Larry Harms, John Henn, Roger Hoppel, Peter Jenison, Sharon Just, Cynthia Kestler, Sharon Koppernagel, Helen Luick, Ted Watson, Kay Lyn Wiegand and Vicki Lou Wolf.

THIRD GRADE

The third graders have begun dividing in arithmetic. "How to Plant Gardens" has been the subject in science. They also experimented with some seeds.

The Goldfinch reading class started the book "More Streets and Roads." The art class made robins and Easter decorations.

Ronnie Courson and Eloise Kirkendall gave treats to everyone in the room on their birthdays.

Those receiving hundreds in spelling are Marlene Benson, Patty Crabtree, Larry Esk, Janice Flanagan, Jan Jenison, Bill Kaufman, Douglas Kestler, Pamela Martin, Allen Meints, LaVonne McCord, Douglas Nodland, Wilma Pruisman, Larry Stadtlander, Charlotte Studebaker, John Studebaker and Jo Ann Williamson.

FOURTH GRADE

The class has completed the "Singing Wheels" reader and started the "Elson-Gray Reader." The first unit deals with the outdoor world. Before beginning it they had many stories and discussions about wildlife, birds, animals, trees and flowers.

Larry Flanagan was ten years old Sunday. On Friday his mother brought treats to the room so the rest of his classmates could help Larry celebrate.

FIFTH GRADE

SIXTH GRADE

The sixth grade presented an assembly program on Friday, April 8. Dwight Beavers was master-of-ceremonies for the radio broadcast. Like all broadcasts, some time was given to commercials. Such products as Painless Pain Pills and Clean-X were advertised. The program consisted of several musical numbers. Helen McNulty and Joan Kalkwarf each played a piano solo. The sixth grade version of the famous Mills Brothers was a trio composed of Patrick Smith, Gary Gartz and Keith Madsen. They sang three numbers, "Shortnin' Bread", "Dry Bones" and "Standin' in the Need of Prayer." Two duets were given. Arlene Stoltenberg and Anita Downs sang "You Can't Be True, Dear" and "Cruising Down the Aiver," Sharon Dickinson and Marlys Howell sang "Beautiful Ohio" and "Serenade of the Bells." They were accompanied by the girls' chorus.

Sharon was also Cheketa, the banana girl. A touch of spring was added to the program by Jeanette Johnson who sang "Sunflower." A short skit was given about Ma and Pa Beetlebrain and their little family. The moral of the story was "Be careful before you cross the railroad tracks."

SEVENTH GRADE

The English class is studying compound and rambling sentences. History students are reading about the frontier and the early farmers of the United States.

People neither absent nor tardy during the last quarter were Ray Busick, Don Hopple, Dick Jacobson, Barbara Mariga and Henry Steinwandt. The seventh grade honor roll includes Peggy Finn, Margot Gowdy, Karen Hanson, Carol Hemmingsen, Janelle Johnson, Carolyn Jones, Richard Kling, Barbara Mariga and Sandra Simerson.

EIGHTH GRADE

All of the eighth grade and seven of the seventh grade girls are going to wind the Maypole in the May Fete.

Six girls were on the honor roll last quarter. They were: Connie Benson, Maxine Gartz, Janice Hunter, Gertrude McLaughlin, Avis Pierce and Carole Thompsen.

David Helland, Claude Larkin and Avis Pierce had perfect attendance.

Many people are buying today as the need arises and as their finances permit. A comparatively small number are waiting for a break or decline in prices. Naturally, our advice to a prospective buyer is, "Don't buy that which you don't need." Yet, we do not expect prices to do more than decline gradually, not suddenly, and that is not even expected on home furnishings made all, or in part, of steel.

Sound thinking people realize that retail prices will not drop until wholesale prices drop, and frankly, nothing at present seems to be declining. Therefore, we will prove to you by comparison any day, that our every day low prices prevail day after day—and month after month. Quality furniture can not be sold for prices of inferior grades.

We appeal to your better judgment and discriminating taste to abstain from buying low-priced, shoddy merchandise, competitively priced, and urge you to buy good quality merchandise for the best price you can find. After all most people have only one home to furnish, and YOU have to live with the furniture you buy.

Maybe, in its true sense, your experience has been as ours — that "bargain" merchandise sometimes isn't such a good bargain after all. We do state, without reservation, that if prices do start downward, BOONE'S will be first in passing the benefit on to you.

([illegible] taken from Calif[illegible])

[illegible] hours after news [illegible] that little Kathy [illegible] lodged in an abandoned [illegible] in San Marino, [illegible]wood, California [illegible] Hoebel, volunteered in any manner in [illegible] child. [illegible] is the son [illegible] Hoebel and at one time lived in Meservey with his great aunt, Mrs. C. J. Wendel, and family.

One of the first calls came to Lynwood Police Station. It was believed a midget of small enough stature would be available from a carnival playing in Lynwood, but none were available.

When hearing of the call, Hoebel, at the Community Center where he is enrolled in a weightlifting class recently organized, expressed hope that he could get the little girl out. Hoebel, age 14, although small, is agile and strong and can make a 65-pound lift over his head. "His gesture was genuine and sincere," said Lynwood Councilman Percy Bruner. Fast development of the rescue crews forced change to other methods, but the boy was available and willing.

Visiting around Iowa

by Joe Marsh

The Egg and Iowa

Do you know that Iowa leads the nation in egg production?

Another Iowa "First" of which we can be proud!

And eggs are wonderful food, no matter how you cook them. Grace and the kids like theirs' "sunny side up." I'll take mine turned over.

So we keep the whole family happy by giving mine an extra flip in the skillet, after the others' are done. And isn't that the secret of happy families everywhere . . . a little "give and take" on tastes and preferences?

It's the secret of happy communities, too. Goodness knows, we aren't all made alike. But as long as we realize that the other person's feelings are as important to him, as ours are to US . . . then we'll get along fine.

One man likes his eggs scrambled, another likes 'em boiled. One likes coke on a hot afternoon, while the other prefers a temperate glass of beer. Each has a right to his preference, and in assuring that right to others, each of us helps assure the same right for himself.

FIVE POLIO PRECAUTIONS ARE LISTED FOR PARENTS

Warning that the 1949 polio season is "just around the corner," the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis today issued a list of precautionary measures to be observed by those in charge of children during the epidemic danger period which usually runs from May through October, reaching its peak during the hot, mid-summer months. The five easy-to-follow health rules for children are:

FIGHT INFANTILE PARALYSIS

1. Avoid crowds and places where close contact with other persons is likely.
2. Avoid over-fatigue caused by too active play or exercise, or irregular hours.
3. Avoid swimming in polluted water. Use only beaches or public pools declared safe by local health authorities.
4. Avoid sudden chilling. Remove wet shoes and clothing at once and keep extra blankets and heavier clothing handy for sudden weather changes.
5. Observe the golden rule of personal cleanliness. Keep food tightly covered and safe from flies or other insects. Garbage should be tightly covered and, if other disposal facilities are lacking, it should be buried or burned.

The National Foundation also listed the following symptoms of infantile paralysis: headache, nausea or upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness, and unexplained fever. Should polio strike in your family, call a doctor immediately. Early diagnosis and prompt treatment by qualified medical personnel often prevent serious crippling, the National Foundation pointed out.

The organization emphasized that fear and anxiety should be held to a minimum. A calm, confident attitude is conducive to health and recovery. Parents, it said, should remember that of all those stricken, 50 per cent or more recover completely, while another 25 per cent are left with only slight after effects.

If polio is actually diagnosed, contact the chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis serving your community. The chapter will pay that part of the cost of care and treatment which patient or family cannot meet.

If You Remodel Your Home Plan Safety Features

If you're remodeling this summer, remember the convenience of the older folks in your household, suggests Naomi Shank, home management specialist.

A little extra planning for their safety will mean greater comfort for the rest of the family too. Such precautions as well lighted stairways and hall, nonskid pads under scatter rugs and handrails in stairways are easy to provide. Avoid slippery floors, Miss Shank warns, and make sure rugs lie flat.

Furniture, especially in the bedroom, should be arranged to allow a clear passageway to the doors. See that electric fixtures give clear, well-diffused light throughout the room, with three-way switches at doors and within easy reach of the bed.

In the bathroom a tiny "night bulb" plugged into an outlet may be kept burning all night, as a convenience for the whole family and as valuable insurance against night accidents. The few cents' worth of electricity burned in a month's time will be well rewarded in safety of family members.

Bathroom storage should be arranged so that shelves are easy to see and reach into. Its important to provide an easily grasped handle on the wall beside a bathtub or shower to prevent falls.

Historical records are missing of the achievements of the men who inhabited the earth during the last million years; the Java man, the Heidelberg, Piltdown, Neanderthal, Cro-Magnon man and others.

Potato Goes to Britain

Regarding the introduction of the potato into Great Britain, the two legends more generally believed are those surrounding Raleigh and Drake. According to the first: Solanum tuberosum, the common potato of our fields and gardens, was first introduced by Sir Walter Raleigh who brought the roots from Quito and caused them to be planted in his own garden at Youghal, Ireland.

Cleaning, Careful Storage Protects Winter Woolens

Careful storage of your winter woolens pays, but only if you put clothes away clean and free from moths.

Clothing specialists at Iowa State College say tiny moth eggs often go undetected when clothes are stored. These eggs hatch in 4 to 8 days of summer weather, and the larvae eat the wool.

Dry cleaning kills moths and destroys eggs and larvae. So does washing in a strong solution of neutral soap. Sunning and airing do the trick, too, if you brush the garments briskly. Be sure to brush around cuffs and pockets to dislodge any moth eggs there may be.

Once clothing is free of moths, the next step is immediate storage. Use any container which can be tightly closed or sealed. Paper bags or wrappings which can be sealed with gummed tape, boxes, trunks or tight closets serve the purpose.

To play safe, use mothballs or flakes which contain napthalene or paradichlorobenzene. Sprinkle them through folds of clothing; or tie in a sack and hang high in a closet. Use the flake napthalene or paradichlorobenzene, according to the directions on the package.

Here's an added precaution for clothes which are to hang in a closet through the summer season. Spray walls and shelves with a 5 per cent oil solution of DDT. You might also spray clothes in the closet lightly with a 5 percent oil or water DDT solution.

Removing storm windows brought death to Atto Sanow, of Lemars last week. He fell from a ladder while working on a second story window, receiving a fractured skull.

If Birds Quit Laying

Although a positive diagnosis of Newcastle disease can be made only by laboratory tests, there is plenty of reason to suspect this malady if egg production in a flock dips sharply—nearly to zero. A veterinary bulletin points out that a drastic drop in egg production, whether due to Newcastle disease or some other type of trouble, should be a warning for poultrymen to get a prompt diagnosis and start corrective measures at once. If the trouble is actually Newcastle disease, respiratory and nervous symptoms usually will be evident.

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

'We've recently had the outside of our house painted with the new titanium dioxide paint and the improvement is simply amazing! We felt that we were very fortunate in having a close friend in the painting business, because there are many, many things that every home-maker should know about painting.

Do you know that the success of the paint-job on your house may rely on the way in which the surface is prepared before painting? That the surface must be clean, smooth and dry, and all nail holes, cracks and joints must be filled and smoothed with putty? If your house has not been painted for many years, it may be necessary to completely remove old paint. That's why it is so important not to let your painting go. Experts at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company say that a good painting job will last about four years . . . and that poorly done work may look terrible in only a few months.

Two other factors in outdoor painting are also very important. The paint itself, of course, is something to consider carefully. The new paints made with titanium dioxide are best. A good quality paint also has plenty of oil, which is the life of the paint. In fact, Jim said without oil there is nothing to resist the elements except a thin coat of pigment. Then, too, the weather must be right for painting. Naturally, no one will paint in the rain . . . but it's important, too, that the wood be completely dry before painting after a rain. And freezing weather for painting is especially undesirable.

In addition to all these factors, is the necessity for a good, professional painter who will know how to prepare the surface, to mix the paint and correctly apply it . . . not just "slap" it on. Painting your house regularly is an investment, for a horse without this protective coating is at the mercy of the elements . . and other repairs caused by lack of paint protection may become very costly indeed!

Dairy Products Law Affects Small Operators-Towns

Operators of smaller Iowa dairies and the citizens of the smaller towns will be most affected by the new dairy products law which became effective April 15, according to Karl Wester, extension dairyman at Iowa State College. Most larger cities have been requiring high standards of sanitation in dairy products.

The law sets up strict requirements that milk producers must meet to sell milk in local markets. These include rules for barns, barnyard, milkhouses, water supplies, utensils, and cleanliness of the product. Cows must pass tuberculosis tests at least once a year.

As for processors, under the law they are required to pasteurize milk and milk products which go into ice cream, buttermilk and skimmed milk.

Dairymen selling in local markets can meet the requirements by producing grade A milk or by pasteurizing. Wester says the local operator meet the requir ducing grade A.

Wester says duce grade A milk wit mum bacteria count o required by law by under sanitary conditions cooling it quickly.

The consumer in the and town can expect much er protection from di ried by milk with the the new law. For example, 9-year survey, about 65 percent of the nation's disease outbreaks from milk were in towns populations under 10,000. In these towns, only 39.3 percent the milk was pasteurized. In same survey, cities over 50 where 97.5 percent of the was pasteurized, had only 4 per- cent of the nation's disease out- breaks from milk.

However, disease outbreaks at- tributed to other foods that time were six times as erous as those caused by and milk products. For more disease outbreaks tributed to drinking water to milk.

LOTS OF RACES ARE HOPELESSLY LOST AT THE

Starting Line

A slip as the starting gun was fired has caused many athletes to drop from first, to a lower placement, even though they may have, potentially been the fastest runners. Alertness to change as in a relay race when the baton changes from one man to the next has caused the team with the most ability to lose its race because the change wasn't made smoothly.

So it is with feeding your young poultry and livestock. Get them off to a good start with BETTER FEEDS that have been scientifically blended and tested to produce strong bones and a foundation for top quality meat. Then be alert to the changes that occur in growth.

BETTER FEEDS have been provided for all stages of development from chick to chicken; from pig to hog; or from calf to cow.. Proper feeding gets the infants to marketing size quicker and demands a higher price because they are highest quality.

Iowa's Economy Is Fundamentally Sound

Proving that Iowa's balanced economy is fundamentally sound in offsetting business recession, recent Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., figures show that Iowa was one of four states in the nation which had less business failures in 1948 than in 1947. Iowa reported 22 failures in 1948 and 27 in 1947.

During 1948, a period when definite recessional trends in business were becoming evident, there were 51 percent more business failures in the nation than in 1947. Iowa, however, was on the other side of the ledger, with 18 percent less business failures.

Let's Clean House!

With the approach of spring, comes to the mind of every housewife the thought of spring house cleaning. It is a common urge and a natural impulse. There is something about the return of the warm bright days of spring, when the windows are open, and the sunshine comes streaming in, and the soft warm breezes of spring fill the house, that suggests the necessity of cleaning up the house from cellar to garret. The windows and the woodwork are all washed, the curtains and drapes are sent to the cleaners, the rugs taken out and beaten free of dust, and the walls papered and done over. The practice has become to be as regular and unfailing as the return of the spring season. A good many housewives would no more pass up spring house cleaning than they would think of omitting the daily task of dishwashing. Since spring house cleaning has become a necessary thing for a home, why isn't a periodical house cleaning a good thing for the mind and the spirit of the individual? Why isn't it a good thing to check up at intervals and clean out the cobwebs and the dust that in our carelessness and oversight accumulate in the mind? Why isn't it a wholesome thing to let the clean breezes and the sunshine into every corner of the mind and get a fresh clean start? Minds, like houses, get cluttered up in time. Editorially Speaking--

Editorial of the Day in Mason City Globe-Gazette
One Good Turn

Across the river in Iowa, a member of the Iowa house of representatives, Chris Hinrichs, chairman of the committee on claims, reported to his colleagues that he had received a bill from a Nebraska citizen for $7.80.

A chunk of ice from the blade of an Iowa snowplow struck the window of a Nebraskan's car, breaking it. Then the claims committee chairman recalled that in dead of winter Iowa sent a number of snowplows to open up long-blocked highways, at a cost of more than $9,000 to the state. So he returned the bill to the Nebraska highway commission.

Surely one good turn deserves another. Hinrichs did not make public the name of the claimant.—Lincoln, Nebraska Star.

Pressure Groups

The breakdown of party organization and influence has gone far enough now that leaders of both parties should be concerned about it to the extent that each should begin to plot seriously and work for a return to truly representative government. THE AMERICAN WAY

Attaboy, Congress!

- I. S. C. Campus Chatter -

(Crowded Out Last Week)

My apologies go to Dick Foss for not mentioning his wife in last week's column. She is the former Miss Kathryn Palmer of Belmond. They were married a little over a year ago and have been at home here in Ames ever since. They have an apartment in downtown Ames and find being married and going to college a wonderful life.

As I mentioned last week, Dick is majoring in General Engineering and will graduate in August at the close of the summer term.

No definite plans have been made as to what or where they will move after his graduation. Mrs. Foss, while waiting for her graduation, is employed as a trained nurse at the Mary Greely Hospital here in Ames.

Dick has been very active in outside activities here at I. S. C. the past three years he has been here. Last year he held a very important position on a Veishea Committee. He devoted a lot of time to the preparation of the annual Engineers Carnival and also helped during the carnival with the General Engineers. He is a member of the General Engineering Society, an organization of students majoring in General Engineering.

Before Dick was married, he lived in a private home here in Ames and was very active in the Ward System, the Ward System being a student organization controlling the men living in private houses.

With the exception of the summer terms, this is really the last quarter most of us will be seeing Mr. and Mrs. Foss around the campus of Iowa State College. I don't feel that it is a bit early to wish them both lots of luck for the remainder of his college days here at Ames.

I mentioned that Mr. Foss was very active last year on a Veishea committee. I might put in a little plug for Veishea along with what it is and what it stands for.

The word VEISHEA was originated from the first letter of the six different departments here at Iowa State College.

It is an annual affair and usually lasts for three or four days during the month of May. Veishea is the largest student managed festival in the nation. This year Veishea will start off May the 12th, with the Opening Ceremonies, to be followed up with Stars Over Veishea, Veishea Vodvil, Open Houses, Parade, Debates, Iowa State Players, Horse Shoe, Canoe Races, Athletic Events, Concert, and last but not least the dance, in which a big name band will play.

Veishea is open to the public and I think that if it is at all possible, those who are so near to Ames should drop over for at least one day of the activities. I am sure you will find it most interesting and above all very educational.

Aggressive Wild Animals Mey Be Rabid, Warns Conservation Commission

Numerous reports have been received of wild animals attacking people as well as livestock during the past few weeks, and in a few instances wild animals have been found by laboratory tests to be rabid. The State Conservation Commission warns that unusual aggressiveness on the part of wild animals may be a sign of rabies and cautions anyone bitten by wild animals to take no chances, but to report immediately to their physician. In the popular mind rabies are generally associated with dog bites. However, foxes, cats, skunks, raccoons and other wild animals may be carriers of this deadly disease.

Make Marshmallows at Home By New Unflavored Gelatine Recipe

EVER thought of making marshmallows at home? It can be done now by following a new unflavored gelatine recipe that turns out a very special marshmallow. The flavor is delicate but definite and the chiffon-like texture is emphasized by a variety of crisp coatings.

Vanilla is the basic flavor of these delightful new homemade confections, but they can be flavored with peppermint, chocolate or coffee. As for the crisp coatings, that contrast so well with the feathery-light marshmallow texture, you need only call on foods now in the kitchen. Coat some of your homemade marshmallows with finely crushed chocolate cookies — use crushed corn flakes for others—and let shredded coconut and chopped nuts lend still more variety.

You'll notice that, like unflavored gelatine, the other ingredients in the homemade marshmallow recipe are all pantry staples. A look at the following recipe also gives an idea of the economy of making marshmallows at home.

Marvel Marshmallows

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- ½ cup cold water
- ½ cup sugar
- ⅔ cup light syrup
- 1 teasp. vanilla
- ½ cup finely crushed graham cracker crumbs, ginger or chocolate cookie crumbs

Soften gelatine in cold water; place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Place corn syrup and vanilla in large bowl of electric mixer. Add gelatine and sugar mixture and beat on highest speed until mixture becomes thick and of soft marshmallow consistency, about 15 minutes. While mixture is beating, grease a pan, preferably about 7"x10"x1½", or two loaf pans. Pour in the marshmallow, smoothing off top with spoon or knife. Sprinkle top with crumbs. Let stand in a cool place (not a refrigerator) until well set—about 1 hour. To remove from pan, loosen around edges with a knife and invert on waxed paper. Cut into 1-inch squares with a sharp knife moistened with cold water. Roll marshmallows in finely crushed crumbs. YIELD: About 1 pound.

Sweet Potatoes

Sweet potatoes should be used within a week or so after they are purchased to be at their best. Like bananas, they should never be put in the refrigerator. They are so sensitive to cold that they may turn dark and become less appetizing if they are kept at a temperature as low as 40 F.

SENIOR PLAY "OUR GAL SAL"

The Seniors at present are putting the finishing touches on their parts in the play. Between play practices we are kept busy on posters, programs, tickets, and stage settings and properties.

The play takes place in a fashionable house in the east where widowed Cecilia Vandyne is the social leader of the town. She has a son, handsome Glenn Vandyne, who is a bit of a snob, but her daughter, pretty Allison Vandyne, is democratic and charming. When Allison and Glenn were small they played with a girl named Sally Skinner who was born and raised on a farm. Glenn blows his top when he learns that Sal is coming back to pay him a visit. Sal accidentally overhears Glenn sounding off about her. Sal plans to have revenge on poor Glenn, which she does. One things leads to another until in the end our heroine, "Our Gal Sal" saves the Vandyne family from financial ruin. The play is a hilarious comedy in three acts.

The Seniors in the cast are as follows:

Shirley Kuper — Sally Skinner, our charming young heroine
Mary Lou Stoffer — Cecilia Vandyne, a society matron.
Lola Markwardt — Allison Vandyne, Cecilia's charming young daughter
Richard Hill — Glenn Vandyne, Cecilia's handsome young son.
Joye Vestweber — Dagmar Waring, of the elite.
Catherine McBeth—Nella Yandley, Sal's gossiping aunt
Helen Morgan — Daisy Judkins, who hails from Soap Lake.
Bernard Norem — Dexter Westbrooke, a wealthy financier
Grant Peddle — Ronald Spangler, a young policeman.

"Our Gal Sal" will be given at the Alexander gymnasium on Friday, April 29 at 8:00 p. m. Reserved tickets are now on sale at 60 cents apiece. The night of the play the admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Our director for the Senior class play is Mr. G. C. Senior clas play is Mr. G. C. Mussong.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club sang at the grade school operetta, Friday evening April 22. We sang "Sundown" and "The Cradle Song." We are continuing further work on music for baccalaureate, commencement, musical festival and senior play.

Have Fish Ears?

Snakes and fish have ears but these ears have no outside openings. They "hear" mostly through vibrations in the ground or water.

IS YOUR HOME SAFE?

Is your own home safe? Ask yourself this question. Can you say your home is safe?

About one-third of the death toll is made up of accidents that have happened in the home. All of these accidents can be avoided in one way or another.

Ask yourself these questions:

1. Are the rungs of the step-ladder fastened securely?
2. Can you rely on your steps, that they are safe?
3. Are all the plug-ins in your home safe for curious fingers?
4. When you cook do you turn the handles of the kettles away from the edge of the stove?
5. Are your matches in a safe place so the children won't be able to get at them?
6. Are your oily rags away from the furnace, so they won't catch fire?

These are but a few questions you can ask yourself, but if you can give a negative answer to all of these questions you are high on the ladder of success of having your home be a safe home.

ATHLETICS

Friday's game with Chapin had to be postponed due to weather and will be played at a later date.

Hansell took the boys 7 to 0 in Tuesday's game on the Alexander diamond. Hansell used two pitchers in the ball game, Schulzz and Colbert, together they had nine strikeouts, and gave up five walks and one hit. Richard Hill pitched for Alexander, had one strike out, and gave up four walks and three hits.

Now with game experience under their belts the boys hope to make a much better showing in Friday's game with Popejoy, at Popejoy.

BAND

We have three new members in our band and they are Jeanie Schulte who plays the trombone, Wayne Bohning, the cornet, and James Larson who plays the bass horn.

There are two new pupils who started on saxaphones this last week. They are Marlene Schulte, tenor sax. and Helen Larson, alto sax.

The old pupils that are taking lessons but just need that little extra push to be in the band are: Gary Hofacre, tenor sax., Jeanie Barkema, clarinet, and Bobbie and Rosemary Trager, who play the cornet

Everyone is still working hard for the fourth of May, when the band goes to Sheffield to a big band and glee club festival.

FIRST, SECOND AND THIRD GRADE NEWS

The first, second and third grades have been devoting most of their time to the operetta they presented Friday evening. The operetta was called "The Sweet Shop."

The money they received is going to be spent on improving their individual rooms.

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

The Vestweber twins, Harold and Garold, had birthdays this week and brought treats.

Both the fourth and fifth graders are starting a health chart. Now all of us are going to brush our teeth more regularly.

Our reading class has finished the stories Rumplestiltskin and The Ugly Duckling. We all enjoyed them very much.

Now we know what fractions are so we're learning equal fractions. This is more difficult to understand but we're accomplishing it.

For our science class several people brought magnets to school so we are experimenting to see what kinds of material they will pick up. Also we found out why the ends of magnets repel or attract each other.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

In arithmetic they are adding and subtracting fractions with harder denominators. They have also learned how to find common denominators.

In Science they have performed a couple of experiments to show what fires need to keep burning and what happens when things burn.

In history they are reading about men who were fighters of disease and pain.

In language they are improving their business letters. Each of them wrote a letter to a company asking for a free set of bird cards. They are hoping to receive them soon.

SIXTH AND SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

This week they are painting new signs for the front lawn.

Marjorie Barkema visited Des Moines one day this week.

Dennis Larson had an operation for appendicitis.

Eldon Schulte celebrated his birthday.

FRESHMAN NEWS

In English we are studying prepositional phrases and their uses. In history we are studying and discussing "Europe Annexes Africa." In algebra we are solving problems, using two letters for the unknown, and in science, how light energy is usd in communication.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

We are studying "Europe Annexes Africa" with the freshmen. In English we are on chapter 11 in "The Tale of Two Cities", and in geometry we are studying proportions.

JUNIOR NEWS

In English we have been reading informational books, which we write summaries on when we finish. We are typing daily assignments and timed tests.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Clarion, Iowa, March 15, 1949

The Board of Supervisors met in special session at the Courthouse in Clarion, Iowa with the following members present: T. J. Henry, Chairman, Geo. S. Trowbridge, A. W. Smith, Wm. Fisher, and [illegible] Pinkham, with the County Auditor in attendance. Absent: None.

Whereas, the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, by prior Resolution recommended that the projects therein mentioned be approved by the State Highway Commission for improvement with Farm-to-Market Road funds, and,

Whereas, it would now appear that it would be more economically sound and [illegible] to alter the design, et al, particularly of Items 1 and 2 of the said Resolution, by changing from concrete pavement to asphalt pavement.

Now therefore be it resolved, that the Board of Supervisors of Wright County, Iowa, on this 15th day of March, 1949 recommends that the projects in the above mentioned Resolution be disapproved and that the attached new Resolution covering these projects be given consideration.

The above and foregoing Resolution was passed and approved with an aye vote by all members.

Whereas, under the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1944 the Congress of the United States has authorized the Appropriation of funds to assist the states and counties in the construction of a secondary system of highways, and,

Expect Record-Breaking Turnout Opening Day Of Trout Season May 1

Conservation officials expect a record breaking turnout on the 42 official trout streams in 10 northeast Iowa counties when the season opens May 1. Trout fishing is legal from 5:00 a. m. until 9:00 p. m. each day after the opening.

Trout stocking is well underway and it is believed that more than 100,000 legal-sized trout will be stocked before the opening date. Some 90,000 additional legal-sized fish will be stocked during the season,

Brook or speckled trout have been native to the northeast Iowa streams since earliest times. The brown and rainbow, now common in the area, have been stocked from the state hatcheries. It is believed by biologists that very few if any trout spawn in the wild and their nnumbers are maintained only through stocking operations.

Maps showing the location of Iowa's trout streams may be secured from the local soncervation officer or by writing direct to the State Conservation Commission, 914 Grand Avenue, Des Moines.

$210,052 U. S. Savings Bonds Purchased In Wright County In March

Total sales of United States savings bonds in Wright county for the month of March amounted to $210,052 according to a statement issued today by Clark H. McNeal, Belmond, county savings bonds chairman.

January sales set an all time high for Iowa, totaling $38,820,930 and sales of E bonds in March increased over last year's total 938,366, while sales for March of for the same period. Sales of E bonds for March, 1949, were $15,-1948 totaled only $14,383,820.

Total sales in Iowa of series E, F and G bonds for March, 1949, amounted to $26,058,386, while in March, 1948, sales reached $26,797,228, State Director Roger F. Warin reported to county committees.

Investments in savings bonds by Iowans during the first three months of 1949 totaled $85,383,338, while the January-through-March total of a year ago was $90,599,146.

"From the figures shown here, it is evident that Iowans are still investing regularly in savings bonds," Warin concluded. "As county committees prepare for the Opportunity Drive, which opens May 16, they can plan activities with confidence that there is a strong, continuing interest in building future reserves with Savings Bonds."

Next Two Weeks Are Critical In Control Of Flies

To a large extent the next two weeks hold the key to the success of your 1949 fly control efforts, according to Harold Gunderson, extension entomologist at Iowa State College.

He points out that the first flies appear during this time to lay eggs. How many breeding places they find around your premises will determine how many eggs will be laid and in turn how many flies will be around this summer.

Flies require filthy, damp places in which to lay their eggs. They prefer such places as garbage heaps, trash piles, rotting leaves, manure piles, compost piles and outdoor toilets. Cleaning up such places and then treating the ground with borax will do more toward preventing annoyance from files this summer than any other one thing Gunderson says.

Sanitation is even more important to fly control programs this year. Gunderson says this is true because flies may become resistant to DDT and other chemicals. Too, methoxychlor, which is now recommended for dairy cows, dairy barns and milk handling buildings, is a chemical relative of DDT and resistance to it may develop rapidly.

TELLS FARMERS HOW TO DETERMINE QUALITY OF ALFALFA AND ITS POSSIBLE PRODUCTION

Farmers questioning whether their alfalfa will make a good hay crop this year can make a fair estimate by May 1 and should not be too hasty to plow it under.

C. P. Wilsie, agronomist at the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station, says poor looking alfalfa may have one or more of four common ills. Alfalfa may be suffering from winter injury, crown and root rots, wilt or a lack of phosphate.

To determine winter injury and rot, the farmer should pull up a number of crowns for inspection. Heaving caused by freezing and thawing often breaks roots and weakens the plant. If the ground is solid and plants are weak, the trouble is probably crown root rot. In the case of either of these, an average of two to three good plants per square foot would be sufficient to make a good hay crop. If the stand is any weaker, the alfalfa is unlikely to produce a satitsfactory hay crop, according to Wilsie.

Wilt may be present even in alfalfa that looks good. And as the season progresses it may continue to get worse. Determining the presence of wilt is not difficult. The roots of plants should be cut off with diagonal slices at the ends. If wilt is present, an orange discoloration will be seen. If too much wilt is present it is advisable to plow up the alfalfa.

"Short" alfalfa may be mistaken for wilt about the first of June. Short alfalfa indicates a need for phosphate, Wilsie says.

Farmers knowing alfalfa to be short can correct the condition by top-dressing phosphate. However, it is wise to have the soil tested first. Wilt causes stunting of alfalfa plants. These stunted plants look very similar to short plants. Therefore, correct analysis of the trouble is important.

Just what do you expect
To get out of life?
A home, six kids,
And a beautiful wife?
Diamond rings,
And block-long cars,
A wicker basket
Full of stars?
Or yet that proverbial
Cottage small;
And no work in winter,
Spring, or fall?
We can't give you even
One of these,
But if it's service you seek,

It's funny how it takes all the years of growing up to find out that Mothers are lly people, just like you me or anyone else.

The lady I have chosen as entative of Belmond Mothers for 1949 is one of those "real ople." She was one of the "mothers" I knew in Belmond when I first moved here

I am proud to have known Mother Petersen over these years and to honor her as Belmond's Mother of 1949.

Mrs. H. F. Petersen, Christine her friends, is the mother of ree children, Mrs. Freda Ferguson of Marshalltown; Clarence of stin, Minnesota; and Mrs. adys Kestler of Belmond; and six grandchildren.

In accordance with a custom or tradition set up with the naming a representative mother in column the past few years, editor will send Mother Peten a bouquet of roses in remembrance of Mother's Day and rose bud to other Belmond others of the year: Mrs. Sam nson, 1946; Mrs. Mary "Moly" Barry, 1947; and Mrs. Mary Dillon, 1948.

Planning Veteran's Memorial Building As Community Asset

A building 42 by 100 feet on a lot measuring 75 by 150 feet which for many years had been known as the Belmond Opera House, was purchased last Saturday, April 30, on contract, by the Eimbrink Post of the American Legion and the Pierce Zeiger Post of the Veterans of Foreigns Wars. Possession date is June 1, 1949.

The building was sold by the Stoltenberg Brothers and has during recent years housed the Belmond Motors and Body Shop, local dealer for Kaiser-Fraser cars.

The two local veterans organizations are combining their finances and efforts to make this building an asset to the community. Tentative remodeling plans call for excavation to make a full basement and to raise the floor of the main (first floor) hall so that the basement will provide adequate space for dining hall, canteen, etc.

The American Legion and V. F. W. will own equal shares in the new building but will hold their regular meetings as individual units as they have in the past and will continue to be associated individually with the National organizations.

Although primarily a Veteran's Memorial Building for Veteran's use first, it will be available for community use, a building large enough to accommodate large banquets, meetings, dances, etc..

Present Legion building and property has been listed for sale with local realtors.

Charles Papousek is chairman of the Veteran's Memorial Building Committee which closed the deal for the building. Other members of the committee include Fred Dahm, George Infelt, Clare Gagnon, George Jenison, Larry Gunderson, George Hansen and Fred Fulton.

Finance Committee is composed of Robert Churchouse, chairman, Jack Shepard and M. C. Jensen.

Further details of the building plans may be found in an advertisement in this issue.

Application Blanks Are Now Available For Iowa State World War II Bonus

Supply Delivered For Belmond Vicinity At Independent Office

Application blanks for the World War II State of Iowa bonus may be secured in the Belmond area at the office of the Belmond Independent, county supervisor Alex Smith having delivered a supply here on Monday.

Veterans will have 20 questions to answer on the bonus application. One of the most important is the dates of foreign service. This is imperative because bonus payments will be based on both foreign and domestic service, $12.50 a month for the former and $10 for the latter up to a maximum of $500. Veterans are warned that all blanks received in Des Moines carelessly and incorrectly filled out will be cast aside until all those properly completed are processed. Instructions for filling out the blanks should be studied carefully.

NEED HELP?

Belmond's two veterans' organizations will have representatives at the American Legion Hall next Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock to assist all those who need help in filling out their bonus application blanks.

How long it will take to process the applications is undetermined. Most observers believe it may be late summer or early fall before the first payments are made. The bonus payments may continue for several years, as the case with World War I claims.

The bonus board which will be responsible for the distribution of the $85,000,000 authorized by a vote of the people last November, held its first meeting in the state auditor's office recently. Auditor Chet Akers serves as chairman of the board. Other members are John M. Grimes, state treasurer; Adj. Gen. Charles H. Grahl; Ed McNeil of Montezuma, and J. Lyle Musmaker, of Greenfield. Ed Kallemyn is secretary and G. C. Greenwalt, office manager.

Trap Shoot

The Belmond Sportsmans Club will hold a trap shoot Sunday at 1:00 p. m. at the dump yards north of the city. Ham and bacon prizes will be given.

Senior Class Will Present Play May 13th

Announce Cast For "We Shook The Family Tree"

The senior class play "We Shook the Family Tree", will be presented in the high school auditorium on Friday night, May 13, at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Miss Charlene Miller.

This play was dramatized by Perry Clark from the popular book by Hildegarde Dolson. The Reader's Digest used this story for condensation in its book section.

Janyce Larson plays the part of Hildegarde Dolson, a sixteen year old girl with a knack for dramatizing and a vivid imagination that often gets her in serious trouble. Other members of her family include: two brothers—Jimmy, a gadget inventor (played by Tom Harty) and Bob whose passion is fishing (played by Merlin Halverson); a loyal sister, Sally (played by Janis Bailey) and her distraught and bewildered parents, (Donald Swenson and Dorothy Halfpap).

Wilmer Gabrielson is cast in the role of Freddie Shermer, a perfectly nice boy with an inferiority complex caused by the domination of his mother (Jean Oberhauser). Richard Crapser is Freddie's father and an important banker. Lyola Goeman and Marilyn Friesleben are two popular young girls who try to look and act sophisticated. Paige, a very young little girl, is a rather innocent mischief maker, and that part is taken by Jean Hemmingsen.

Tickets for the play are now on sale and may be purchased from members of the senior class.

Phosphate Added to Manure Balances Plant Food Content

CHICAGO — Adding superphosphate to barnyard manure before it is spread in the field is a profitable practice for Corn Belt farmers, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in a statement made public here.

"Many farmers report that a load of phosphated manure is more effective than two loads of untreated manure as a top-dressing for new legume-grass seedings or old established hay fields or pastures," says the statement.

"Superphosphate gives the manure a better plant food balance. Prof. C. J. Chapman, extension agronomist of the University of Wisconsin, points out that manure is relatively low in phosphorus. An average ton of manure with bedding, he says, contains 10 pounds of nitrogen, 5 pounds of phosphate and 10 pounds of potash. By adding 25 pounds of superphosphate to each ton you can increase the manure's phosphate content to 10 pounds per ton.

"Prof. Chapman says superphosphate helps the manure hold nitrogen that might otherwise be lost."

Methods of adding phosphate to the manure may vary according to farm conditions, but the program should be carried on throughout the year, the statement says.

"One method is to place the superphosphate in the spreader as the manure goes onto the field," the statement points out. Prof. Chapman recommends adding 25 to 30 pounds on each load.

"Another way is to place superphosphate in the gutters of the stable or open run barns, at the rate of one pound per cow per day. Prof. Chapman says superphosphate, thus applied, will absorb considerable amounts of liquid manure. It will also hold any free ammonia that might otherwise be lost by evaporation when fermented manure is hauled and spread on the land. Prof. Chapman cautions that superphosphate spread on driveways may irritate the feet of cows."

Raccoon is a fine swimmer, and like a monkey, he has four hands instead of feet. Many a good hound has been drowned because a coon sat on top of his head until he quit bubbling.

Radar and Storms

Radar was used during the war to "see" electrically the planes and ships of friends and foe in daylight, darkness or fog, far beyond the range of the human eye. With its radar a ship could navigate into a harbor in a pea-soup fog. Today scientists are using radar to map and study storms in a 200-mile circle around a weather station at Wilmington, Ohio.

Band Lessons Free Again This Summer

To Explain Rental Plan At Instrumental Display

Again this summer private and class lessons on all band instruments will be given by Duane Cunning, band director and instructor in instrumental music in the Belmond schools, who will be in Belmond during the summer months to give the lessons as well as direct the summer band concerts presented on Thursday evenings in the city park.

The lessons which will be given free of charge, provide an excellent opportunity for students who are beginners, Mr. Cunning stated. Lesson schedules are set up in such a way as to fit into the summer activities of all students concerned. Students wishing instruction should see Mr. Cunning before the end of the school year.

To assemble the best data on the possible success of a boy or girl, music tests were given to all school children from third through eighth grades who had expressed a wish to begin on some band instrument. Parents whose children did exceptionally well will be so advised, by Mr. Cunnning.

In order that beginning students may have the chance of trying out an instrument for the beginning period of three months, a rental plan has been set up. This rental plan will be explained fully at an instrument display to be held in the Band Room Monday evening, May 9th at 8:00. All parents are urged to attend whose children are interested in becoming members of the band.

The one big advantage of beginning during the summer is that the student can progress enough during the summer to participate in band activities the coming year, the director explained.

At the exhibit Monday, a Chicago expert on school music and band instruments will give a short lecture on the value of school music and also explains in detail the mechanical differences between various types of instruments and their values. Under the three months rental-trial plan the opportunity exists to try out boys and girls on insruments at low cost.

The summer band activities in Belmond are made possible by the joint efforts of the Belmond Independent School District and the City of Belmond.

18 Schools Had 100% Dental Card Returns

According to a report this week from Alice Moore, R. N., Wright county nurse, 17 rural schools and one parochial school have reported 100% dental card returns to date, in the present school year.

This means that each child in these schools has visited his family dentist for examination and correction. Dental care is of utmost importance to every child and includes brushing the teeth after meals and before bedtime, eating the proper foods or those from the Basic 7 Food Chart, and visiting his dentist twice a year for examination and treatment, Miss Moore states,

Many strides are being made in dental public health with the use of sodium flouride treatment.

Among the Wright County schools reporting 100% dental response are Belmond No. 9, Belmond No. 3, Grant No. 3, Grant No. 7, Grant No. 6, Pleasant No. 3 (the first time this school has had all the children participating in the program), and Pleasant No. 2.

Last year at the close of the school year, 26 rural school reported 100% dental response. There are 62 rural schools in session including the two grades at Galt.

The dog, "Boots" is now in her 24th year and was going strong until last spring, when a car hit her. The accident has slowed her up a little. Dog fanciers say that the age of 24 years, for a fox terrier, would be about the equivalent of 150 years for a human being.

Plant Food Called 'Good Buy' at '49 Farm Price Levels

CHICAGO—Stressing that fertilizer is a "good buy" at present prices, Missouri University agricultural economists declared that the generous use of plant food should be profitable for farmers this year.

"Money spent for fertilizer is an investment that will pay out in a short time," these economists point out. "It will get more efficient crop production—more bushels or pounds of feed per acre with little or no additional labor cost. Fertilizer prices have increased much less than the price of farm products in recent years."

Fertilizer does its best job of crop boosting when it is teamed with management practices that build up soil structure and keep the land in place after it is built up, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee declared.

"When you build soil structure, you provide the most favorable growing conditions for crops," says a statement issued by the committee. "Well-structured soil is a better 'warehouse' for plant nutrients and moisture. Crop roots have all the leg room they need to forage for nutrients, water and air. The result is higher yields at a lower cost per unit.

"The way to build soil structure is to follow a rotation centered around deep-rooted legumes and grasses. Legumes such as sweet clover and alfalfa add organic matter. Their drill-like taproots bore through tough, tightly packed soil and open it to air and water. When grasses and legumes are well fed with fertilizer carrying phosphate and potash they develop sturdy growth above and below ground. Plowed under, the tops and roots enrich and mellow the soil."

Who Can Identify This Farm?

RECORD

Back in 1947, a prize cow belonging to Howard Martin of Hardin county broke her hind leg, which had to be amputated. Anxious to obtain a calf from the prize heifer, Martin fixed her up with an artificial leg of wood and leather and after two years, the cow is still "getting around."

2,4-D Not Substitute For Good, Heavy Turf

A good heavy turf is the first requirement for a beautiful lawn, says E. P. Sylwester of Iowa State College.

While 2,4-D is still the lawn fancier's best friend when it comes to chemical weed control the spray should be thought of as a follow-up to the heavy turf requirement.

When using 2,4-D in the spring, be sure to pick a warm, still, dry day, when there is no danger of the spray drifting onto the leaves of flowers and ornamentals. Actually the best time to kill dandelions and other weeds is in the fall when ornamentals are hard and dry and not so susceptible to the chemical, Sylwester says.

To spray lawns during spring and summer; use low pressure and use the 2,4-D that comes in the powder or the amine form, he advises. If the ester is used, reduced dosages are safer. Follow the directions on the container; however. generally speaking, a teaspoonful of the chemical per gallon of water makes the correct mixture.

While dandelions are probably still the No. 1 enemy of Iowa lawns, crab grass is a threat that must be reckoned with. Investigations are under way to determine the effect of 2,4-D on the annual grass. Sylwester suggests using the regular concentration of 2,4-D but applying twice as much.

Timely application is important. By spraying when the first shoots of crab grass appear, Sylwester thinks that it might be controlled. However, he recommends using 2,4-D as a control of crab grass on an experimental basis only, this year. The spray may be repeated at 2-week intervals over a period of 4 to 6 weeks around the latter part of June and the first part of July.

MOTHER'S DAY, MAY 8

Credit for the institution of Mother's Day is generally given to Miss Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia. Miss Jarvis, feeling that sons and daughters should turn their thoughts once a year to their mothers, arranged a service with this thought as its central theme in one of the churches of the city. She asked that each one attending the service wear a white carnation. The idea immediately gained acceptance and the next year services were held in a number of the churches of the city. The second Sunday in May was agreed upon as the day which would be observed. The idea spread throughout the country so rapidly that within four years the day was observed in every state in the Union, in Canada, Mexico, South America, Africa, China, Japan. The call for programs for the day resulted in leaflets being printed for distribution containing suggested programs. These leaflets were printed in ten different languages and distributed in the countries from which requests were received.

The original plan for everyone to wear a white carnation was changed so that a distinction might be made between those whose mothers were living and those whose mothers were dead. White flowers were designated for the motherless and red flowers for the others. The day has been made the occasion for gifts to mothers of flowers and candy. In 1934 Postmaster General Farley caused to be issued a Memorial postage stamp recognizing the mothers of the nation. Whistlers portrait of his mother was used as the design.

"Bats, Cats Rats"— And U. S. Taxes

Curious to find out how the tax-payers' money is being spent today, Senator Styles Bridges recently asked all the agencies of the government to send him one copy of each of their current books, booklets and pamphlets. To his amazement he recived more than 83,000.

Among the subjects considered in the booklets were: Bats in belfries, how to trap cats, recipes for frying muskrats in wine, the latest news on the Cuban frog-leg industry, the status of North America's fleas, and other topics equally relevant to national defense and social reform.

But they're using the same kind of thinking a lot of people have been using on the American economic system lately.

Our American way isn't perfect. We still have our ups and downs of prices and jobs. We'll have to change that. But even so, our system works a lot better than the second rate substitutes being peddled by some countries we could mention.—Algona Advance.

"Mystery Farm" 33 Is Home Of The Lyle Andrews' Family

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Andrews and daughter, Diana, 2½ years, moved to Mystery Farm 33 a little over a year ago. Mr. Andrews rents the farm from Arch State, who lives in Rowan.

The 160 acre farm is located five miles south and two east of Belmond. All the land is tillable except a portion where the railroad passes through it. Andrews combines grain farming with the raising of cattle and hogs for feeding. At the present time he has 14 head of shorthorn cattle and 98 spring spotted pigs. This spring he has planted 45 acres of oats and will have 60 acres of corn. The rest of the land will be in pasture. Mrs. Andrews will look after 300 White Rock chickens.

The house on Mystery Farm 33 is completely modern and the rest of the buildings have been well kept up. A new cement platform was poured on the outside of barn in feeding lot and the barn rebuilt last year.

About the only vacation the Andrews family has had during the last two years has been a few days at the Iowa State Fair each year.

Mystery Farm 3 may be found this week in an advertisement sponsored by the Mussell Chevrolet Company. Occupants of farms shown in the paper are reminded to call at the Independent Office for free enlargement of picture and to give information about farm and family for publication the following week.

GOOD AS NEW

Mrs. H. G. Miller of Tripoli has a 100-year old German clock, brought to this country some 30 years ago. A jeweler who recently put the clock in running order reports that there has been "no wear" on the clock's 15 jewels—and best of all, the clock will run 400 days without rewinding.

BLOW TORCH

When the electricity went off in Dexter recently, some households with electric stoves had cold suppers. But not Dwayne Applegate, who was entertaining some soldier buddies. Always good as improvising the soldiers got out a blow torch and prepared a suitable supper.

IDENTITY

When Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ruffcorn of Elgin went and viewed the body, supposed to be that of their son, which had been sent by authorities in Seattle, they found it to be a case of wrong identification. A phone call to Seattle revealed that their son Lewis was still alive and well. The deceased was identified as David Wires formerly of Villisca.

BIBLE

When he tore down the Presbyterian church at What Cheer recently, contractor Art Craig found a Bible in the cornerstone, put there when the church was built back in 1890.

33 YEARS

Back in 1916, Mrs. Julia Klock of Sheldon posed for a group picture with her four sisters, during a family reunion. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Forst, requested that the picture be taken as it might be "a long time" before her daughters were all together again. Recently—some 33 years later, the daughters were all reunited for the first time and posed for another group picture.

LOTS OF RACES ARE HOPELESSLY LOST AT THE Starting Line

A slip as the starting gun was fired has caused many athletes to drop from first, to a lower placement, even though they may have, potentially been the fastest runners. Alertness to change as in a relay race when the baton changes from one man to the next has caused the team with the most ability to lose its race because the change wasn't made smoothly.

So it is with feeding your young poultry and livestock. Get them off to a good start with BETTER FEEDS that have been scientifically blended and tested to produce strong bones and a foundation for top quality meat. Then be alert to the changes that occur in growth.
BETTER FEEDS have been provided for all stages of development from chick to chicken; from pig to hog; or from calf to cow. Proper feeding gets the infants to marketing size quicker and demands a higher price because they are highest quality.

Come in and let us go over your feeding plans with us ...without obligation. Most planning farmers know what they want and we can show you how our feed department can cooperate with you so we will each benefit.

POSITIONS TO BE LEFT BY GRADUATING CLASS

A week and a day—and then we'll be through walking around the halls of B. H. S. as students. Next Friday, May 13, the 51 seniors will leave school with that title for the last time. After that, they'll be included among the alumni.

A number of students plan on going to college in the fall, while the remainder have made other plans for the future. No matter which path each chooses to follow, I hope that he will follow it through until his goal is reached, always remembering "when the going gets tough that's the time to stick to it." It is only the weaklings that will drop out along the way.

Numerous members of the class are leaving behind the positions which they have capably filled. Perhaps the one who will be the most-missed is Janyce Larson, pianist for the vocal groups during the last two years. She has received high ratings on the piano solos she entered in contest. Three others, Janis Bailey, Jean Oberhauser and Loren Kalkwarf —have entered vocal solos.

The athletic team will be short a total of 14 lettermen. These include ten for football, and three each for basketball and baseball. My congratulations for outstanding athletic ability go to Wilmer Gabrielson, the only senior to hold a letter for each of the three sports.

Also to be missed are Lyola Goeman, who edited "Hoofbeats" during this school year, and Jean Hemmingsen, who went as far as the sub-state speech contest with her interpretative readings.

The 13 members of the class who are members of the band will continue to participate in this group throughout the summer.

Yes, these as well as the other members of the graduating class of '49 shall long be remembered by their underclassmen. I'm sure they all join me when I say, "The best of luck to all of you who are graduating this year. May each of you travel far on your chosen path."

Get out of the middle of the road; you're sure to get run over one of these days! Maybe this sounds funny to you, but it sounds quite logical around Belmond Public School these nice spring days when many of the students drive (sometimes recklessly) in cars during the noon hour.

Often a car can be seen driving around at noon with eight to ten people riding in it. This might be fun, but it wouldn't be so funny if the car would get involved in an accident.

Those stop signs aren't put there for looks, either. Let's remember to stop when we come to one of them and not say, "We'll stop twice next time!"

Many children run across the street to the store, for example, and don't look to see if any cars are coming. Drivers of cars should be on the lookout for them, too.

So from now on, let's be careful when we're driving a car.

Mildred Smith Joins Belmond Student Body

Mildred Smith, formerly of Stewartville, Minnesota, joined the student body of Belmond on Monday, April 19.

Mildred, or "Millie", as she would like to be called, attended the Clear Lake High School until the latter part of her freshman year. She then moved to Stewartville and attended school there until her move to Belmond

The Smiths live on a farm on the highway north of Belmond. She and her two sisters, who also attend school here, walk in and back every morning and evening.

Millie likes school here, but she mentioned missing the Youth Centers. If at all possible, she hopes to graduate from Belmond.

Seventeen Students In Belmond Band Play Cornets

This week "Meet the Band" introduces the clarinet section.

The clarinet is considered the most perfect of wind instruments in fullness and variety of tone. It is usually made of wood with a trumpet-shaped mouthpiece, in which is placed a thin reed, the vibrations of which produce the tones. The melody is produced by the play of fingers on keys covering holes in the tube.

There are 17 clarinet players in the concert band. Janis Bailey, senior, and Ed Eccles, junior, have played six years. Helen Gabrielson, sophomore, Odean Severseike and Judy Baker, both freshmen, have played five years. Lois Mehl and Julane Gaffri, juniors, and Kenneth Eccles and Gertrude McLaughlin, eighth graders, have been playing four years. Carol Thompson and Delores Nelson, also eighth graders, have played three years.

Clarinet beginners are Mavis Goeman and Bernadine Summers, freshmen, and Margo Gowdy, seventh grade. They have each been playing approximately one year.

All those mentioned above, with the exception of Janis Bailey, also play in marching band.

Carol Ann and Sam Leinbach and Betty Dannewitz, who did not play in the concert band, are participating in marching band.

Five FFA Boys Attend State FFA Convention Held In Cedar Rapids

Five boys from the local FFA chapter and their instructor, Mr. Duane Sandage, attended the State F. F. A. Convention at Cedar Rapids April 22 and 23.

Boys attending were Bill McLaughlin, Curtis Mennenga, Marvin Fleming, Merlin Halverson, and Ronnie Ketchum.

Bill McLaughlin, Marvin Fleming and Donald Swenson mixed minerals at Klemme. Some of the boys planted potatoes at Lloyd Lerdal's farm.

Merlin Halverson and Curtis Mennenga were voting delegates for installed freshmen in the F. F. A. organization on April 18.

FADS AND FASHIONS

It seems to me that all the Fads and Fashions columns contain everything about the girls' fashions and just a little bit of the boys' clothes. So, if any of the boys in B. H. S. are offended (if they even noticed) this column will be devoted to them this week.

Sid Swenson and Don Faris head the list of the B F. D. (Boys Fashion Parade) with their dazzling socks. But Sid is one jump ahead of everyone else with his matched sets of tee-shirts and socks, especially those with the swordfish.

It looks as though Percy Swenson has changed from "Wild West" shirts to flashy socks, so he can keep in style. That's quite a combination, Percy — your car and your socks.

Bob Jenison and Dutch are SO flashy with their zig-zag shirts. Bob has a very outstanding shirt of gray and yellow plaid, while Dutch had to be different and blossomed out in brown and white crepe-soled saddles. Dick Simpson is sporting some crepe-soled shoes.

I glanced at Mr. Hugh's shoes one day, and I'm still seeing spots in front of my eyes. In case there's someone in high school who hasn't noticed yet, he's the proud owner of a pair of plaid, blue and white shoe laces.

Excitement and Humor Will Reign May 13 At Senior Class Play

A three-act comedy, "We Shook the Family Tree" will be presented by the senior class on Friday, May 13, at 8:00 p m. in the Belmond high school auditorium.

In the cast of characters given in the last issue of Spurs Lyola Goeman's name was omitted. She plays the part of Jill.

The complete cast of characters is as follows: Janyce Larson, who as Hildegarde nearly turns the town upside down when she decides she no longer wants to be a wallflower; Janis Bailey, Hildegarde's sister, Sally; Merlin Halverson, her brother Bob, who has a great passion for fishing; Tom Harty, another one of her brothers who invents gadgets; Don Swenson and Dorothy Halfpap, the parents who have their hands more than full; Wilmer Gabrielson, Freddy Shermer, who wishes knickers had never been invented; Richard Crapser and Jean Oberhauser, Freddy's troubled parents; Marilyn Friesleben and Lyola Goeman, two pretty, popular girls; and Jean Hemmingsen, as Paige, a little girl mischief-maker who wants a tube of toothpaste.

Hildegarde, who can get herself into more trouble in a minute than she can get out of in an hour, implores Freddy to "beg,. borrow, or steal" some long trousers to wear to the prom Saturday night. He does just that by stealing a watch from his own home and selling it to buy a new suit. Imagine the excitement when his parents find out!

An electric fishworm gadget, a live bass in the bathtub, and a real football tackle with the Dolson's parlor as the field will keep the audience on its toes.

DRAKE RELAYS ARE A COLORFUL EVENT

"Calm down! Keep those ranks as straight as possible!"

Mr. Cunning, band director, gave these orders to his marching band before the parade started at the Drake Relays last Saturday.

The parade started at 10:00 o'clock—at least, it was scheduled to—and was over at 11:00. The band members then piled into the buses and were taken to the park for a picnic lunch.

After lunch the band went to practice for the massed band in the stadium. This concert was presented very satisfactorily for the large number of players and towns represented.

At the conclusion of the massed band concert, the members went to their assigned seats and watched the colorful events of the relays.

Two Local FHA Girls Attend State Convention Held in Des Moines

Two girls and their instructor, Miss Dorothy Dillan, attended the State F. H. A. Convention at the Kirkwood Hotel in Des Moines April 21, 22 and 23. The delegates were Katherine Harty and Jean Michelson.

The Friday morning session lasted from 9:00 until noon. The luncheon was based on a Hawaiian theme. Afterwards, they were given time to go shopping and sightseeing.

Kay, Jean, and Miss Dillan went to the K. R. N. T. broadcasting station and saw the stage play, "High Button Shoes."

The convention had its closing session on the morning of April 23. Saturday noon Jean, Kay and Miss Dillan went to Ames, toured the Iowa State campus, and returned to Belmond on Saturday evening.

At a pot-luck supper last Thursday evening, April 28, Jean and Kay told the other members about the convention. Adelaide Jenison was in charge of the supper.

Get In The Swim! Its A Good Sport! It May Save Your Life!

With the school year drawing to a close and the young people of Belmond looking forward to a few months of relaxation and freedom from study, plans are already taking shape for the third summer swimming program sponsored by the Belmond Red Cross Chapter for local children and young people, according to an announcement from Mrs. Roy Henderson, Belmond Red Cross Water Safety Chairman.

Tentative plans are that the swimming classes will start at Clarion around the 20th of June, with Roger Grove, coach at the Clarion schools and summer swimming instructor, in charge of the classes. Groves is a fully qualified Red Cross trained instructor.

If your children already know how to swim a little, undoubtedly they will hurry to beaches and pools at the first opportunity, for this is one of the most popular as well as one of the most healthful of all sports. In this case a word of warning is indicated by the Red Cross Water Safety Committee. Overconfidence is one of the greatest dangers to the youthful swimmer, for he is tempted to "show off" his prowess to his friends and often, literally or figuratively, gets out "beyond his depth."

In any event, whether your son or daughter swims "a little" or "very well", the Red Cross can show him new skills and insure him a greater measure of safety in water activities. Courses scheduled for this summer's instruction include everything from beginner's classes to advanced life saving techniques.

You may enroll him or her now in one of the classes by calling Mrs Henderson or by having your child fill in one of the "interest" cards which will be distributed at school.

Mrs. Blanche Foss will help Mrs. Henderson during the coming season as Assistant Water Safety Red Cross Chairman. Mrs. C. N. Hildebrand is the retiring chairman who was in charge of the program the past two years it has been in progress.

The play is directed by Charline Miller. Helen Baxter is the business manager and Kenneth Cronk is stage manager. Tickets may be purchased in advance from senior class members or at the door Friday night

Iowa Government

The Iowa Development Commission, which releases news and statistics from time to time about our state, says of the state legislature "This is a well-known meeting and a very important one to citizens of Iowa." Then in answer to the question "What is the make-up of the state machinery?" lists some facts about Iowa's government which are important to remember.

The government in Iowa is based upon an adopted constitution of 1857. All men and women, living within the state for six months and within the county for 60 days are permitted to vote, provided they are 21 years of age and citizens of the United States.

The legislative authority of the state is vested in a general assembly consisting of a Senate and a House of Representatives. Regular sessions are held biennially, commencing on the second Monday of January of the odd-numbered years.

The House of Representatives consists of 108 members elected for two years. Each of the 99 counties is entitled to one representative and each of the nine counties having the largest populations elects one additional representative.

The Senate consists of 50 members elected by districts for a term of four years.

The Governor of Iowa is elected for two years at the regular biennial election in the even-numbered years.

These are the kingpins of Iowa's goverment: the men who make the laws and the man who directs the government, Governor William S. Beardsley.

What is the character of the state for which these men must fashion the laws?

Iowa contains 35 million acres of land, 96 percent of which is under successful cultivation. Thirty-five percent of the Grade A land in the United States is located in Iowa.

The population of over 2½ million people is evenly distributed over the state. This population is 99.3 percent white and 94.7 percent native born.

The cities are evenly distributed over the state. There is no large industrial center in any one part of the state. Each of Iowa's 99 counties has industry as well as farming.

Iowa has a favorable economic balance between its industry and agriculture, with the income from both approximately equal. There are 3,936 manufacturing plants and over 206,000 farms.

The system of public schools has followed the policy of making school facilities easily accessible and completely adequate. Iowa leads the nation in literacy.

Editorially Speaking--

A Modern Problem

In telling of the completion of a new building in the city of New York the manager had the following statement to make:

The building has taken much too long to complete and cost far too much, but blame in that respect is not to be laid at the doors of the architects or builder. Working conditions in many of the building trades have been little short of scandalous and much of the added cost of construction can be laid to strikes, dawdling and feather bedding.

This situation is probably entirely true in New York and true to a lesser extent in all parts of the country. Will times that are not quite so lush improve it?—Clear Lake Mirror.

Outlook For 1949 Good

As 1948 ended, there arose a cloud on the business horizon no bigger than a man's hand. It was made up of a slackening in retail sales, scattered shutdowns of plants, and lay-offs that were not strictly seasonal. But the twelve economists gathered by the National Industrial Conference to peer into the future seem reasonably optimistic On the average, they think national income this year will about equal 1948's record figure; they believe consumers' prices will be somewhat lower. They are sure that corporate profits will be lower, because higher taxes are just around the corner.—Hartley Sentinel.

"No Children"

We sincerely hope the Good Lord reserves a special place in the life hereafter for persons who refuse to rent properties to families with small children.—Hampton Times.

Taxes Going Up

Taxes have been going up steadily since 1930, and have risen to fantastic heights. Only two moderate reductions have been made in that period, one immediately after the war and another by the republicans last year. The democrats are again in control of congress and President Truman is asking for another tax increase. —Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

Visiting around Iowa

by Joe Marsh

Who Made Iowa?

I suppose you've read in the papers about Iowa's beautiful Tulip Festival.

What a thrill, to see all those gorgeous flowers and colorful Dutch costumes!

As Grace and I were driving back the other day, she turned to me and said . . . "Joe, just think of all the nationalities that helped settle Iowa. Isn't that one of the reasons why this is such a great state?"

And I guess she's right. The Dutch, Irish, Scotch, Scandinavians, Czechs, Germans, and scores of others! Each group had its own customs. But each was tolerant of the other fellow's ideas. So they settled here as neighbors . . . and like good neighbors, each respected the other's tastes, customs, and beliefs.

That's Iowa . . . where folks think of the other fellow, as well as themselves. One person may wear overalls, another blue serge . . . one may like ginger ale while his neighbor likes a temperate glass of beer . . . one may prefer grand opera while his friend prefers Sweet Adeline.

Isn't it wonderful to live in a state where kindliness toward one another makes such fine neighbors!

Joe Marsh

MUSIC FESTIVALS AND THEIR BENEFITS

On Wednesday, May 4, Alexander Consolidated plus six other schools in Franklin County journeyed to Sheffield for the annual school festival. I would like to present my views and opinions on the subject.

From the actual fun angle such a festival is, I'm sure, on top of the list in fun and entertainment. Dancing, talking with friends from other schools, and eating in a large group contributed to the joy and amusement of everyone. I'm sure no one left the music festival, that wouldn't go again next year. Everyone had an outing that will long be remembered.

Comparing a festival with a contest is a great contrast, as I participated in both, and know from experience the feeling and reactions of the students. In a contest tension and nervousness is plainly shown, while in a festival it is exactly opposite. Everyone is with smiling faces, waving and shouting hello's to friends while passing. It is really a great experience for all participants.

What's Doin' In Music

The Music Festival at Sheffield was the music highlight this week. It was held Wednesday, May 4th. Everyone in the choral group or band ate dinner at 11:00 so we could leave at 11:45.

Practice began at 1:00 sharp, the Girls Glee Club being first. Everyone was familiar with the music as we had been practicing it in the previous weeks. We practiced for about an hour. The songs we sang were "Beautiful Savior", "Nightfall in Granada", "It's a Grand Night for Singing" and "I Heard You Go By."" There were about 180 girls participating in the Glee Club. At two o'clock the boys joined us for practicing more songs which included "The Happy Peasant Girl", "The Green Cathedral", "Ol' Man River" and "I Heard a Forest Praying." This continued until 3:30 and then the bands practiced until 5:00. From then until supper everyone was free. Some of us attended the dance held at the town hall and others simply roamed the town. The Band Mothers of Sheffield served a dinner to anyone who wanted it.

At 8:00 o'clock the music concerts were held in the Sheffield Park. A large crowd attended and it was a huge success.

BAND

The band went to Sheffield May 4th to combine with other bands to form part three in the Music Festival.

The band director was Professor Russell from Iowa State Teachers College Music Conservatory.

The afternoon practice started at 3:30 and ended at 5:00 o'clock.

At the afternoon practice Professor Russell gave the massed band a demonstration on the oboe, flute, clarinet, and English horn.

The massed band contained 220 pieces. There was a very wide instrumentation. The band members enjoyed the Band Festival very much.

Home Ec. News

Competition was in the air in the Home Ec. room last Friday. The Sophomores made displays for the month of May. Three displays were made.

1. Breakfast for two.
2. Luncheon for a bride to be.
3. Birthday party for 5 year olds.

Each unit set a table for appointments and decorations they had made.

Kitchen one who had the display on "Breakfast for Two" used brilliant shades of blue, fushia, green and yellow. Their centerpiece was a bouquet of artificial flowers This theme was carried throughout the rest of the table display.

Kitchen Two, winners of the contest, displayed a Luncheon for a Bride To Be. The colors they used were baby pink and turquoise. Their table centerpiece featured a May Pole with little girls dancing around it. This was the theme they used in their table cloth and placecards.

Kitchen three had a display for a "Birthday Party for Five Year Olds." They also used a May Pole for their centerpiece and this was the theme for the rest of their table setting.

The two losing groups are planning a picnic for the winners.

The grade teachers and Mrs. Sauerberg acted as judges.

KINDERGARTEN

We made our mothers sewing boxes for Mother's Day.

When we had finished reading the book "We Work and Play" we took our books home and read them to our parents.

One day some third grade boys left their toad in our room. When we got up from resting, the toad jumped to the top of his jar. We said, "He wants to get up too. He thinks he's through resting."

FOURTH GRADE NEWS

Reading —We have finished our reading book.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

The eighth grade is planning a skating party at Lake Cornelia for Thursday May 12th.

We are very glad that our county exams are past and are hoping that we all did well on them.

Several eighth graders have made attractive gifts for their mothers. On Friday we will each make a Mother's Day card.

In Math we are reviewing common fractions and decimals.

We have completed our science book. The end of the year must be close.

Our literature story "The Lady and Tim" had a very surprising ending. We were not told which came out of the closed door—the lady or the lion.

Eighth grade graduation is to be Monday, May 16. Don't forget!

FRESHMEN NEWS

In English the Freshmen have been receiving practice in outlining over different stories. The new chapter in Science is energy and how it is used in tranportation. The algebra period is spent in making graphs.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophomores are starting on Julius Caesar in English. Each student takes his turn reading the different character parts. We find it quite difficult to put enough expression in the speeches to make it interesting. We are continuing on proportions in Geometry and illustrating this through drawing.

We have current event papers this week. The two main articles are on Life in Russia and the Problems of the American Indian.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors have been devoting most of their time on the Junior and Senior banquet held at the All Vets Club at Clear Lake May 6th. We shall be very happy to tell you all about the good time we had in next week's school news.

SENIOR NEWS

Now that the Senior class play is out of the way the Seniors are quit tired but very happy. We are now finding it rather difficult to concentrate on our studies again.

We are now hard at work trying to finish our bookkeeping practice set. We have completed the transasctions for one month and are closing their books for the end of the first year.

The typing class will be working on a "Cover Design" during their last two weeks of school.

LOTS OF RACES ARE HOPELESSLY LOST AT THE

Starting Line

A slip as the starting gun was fired has caused many athletes to drop from first, to a lower placement, even though they may have, potentially been the fastest runners. Alertness to change as in a relay race when the baton changes from one man to the next has caused the team with the most ability to lose its race because the change wasn't made smoothly.

So it is with feeding your young poultry and livestock. Get them off to a good start with BETTER FEEDS that have been scientifically blended and tested to produce strong bones and a foundation for top quality meat. Then be alert to the changes that occur in growth.

BETTER FEEDS have been provided for all stages of development from chick to chicken; from pig to hog; or from calf to cow. Proper feeding gets the infants to marketing size quicker and demands a higher price because they are highest quality.

Come in and let us go over your feeding plans with you . . . without obligation. Most planning farmers know what they want and we can show you how our feed department can cooperate with you so we will each benefit.

Two—you and I; Let me hear from you pal; I'm getting darned tired of running this country alone.

—M-S—

We saw a man on the highway the other day with a flat tire. He was going about changing tires in a most cheerful mood, whistling as he worked. We stopped and remarked that he seemed cheerful about his misfortune. "Well," he said, "I am thankful that the flat occurred on a good hard road instead of in the middle of a muddy road. A philosopher like that should have a good time out of life.

—M-S—

A man's popularity often depends upon how many figures his fortune runs into, but a smart blonde can do pretty well with one figure.

—M-S—

Evidently, all's well on all fronts—so if you are contented, why shouldn't I be ! !

Tomahawks Defeat Rockwell In Opening Game of Season

Marchese's Three-Base Hit Was The One Score

In the opening game of the baseball season here Sunday afternoon the Belmond Tomahawks defeated Rockwell 1-0. Bud Nissen, pitching all the way, allowed only one hit, a texas leaguer to short right by Hitzchen in the first inning.

Belmond's starting lineup included Lowell Gaetzke, centerfield; Walter Larson, short stop; Jake Koenen, left field; Jack Lansing, second base; Bud Boelman, catching; Joe Marchese, right field; Gene Stoltenberg, first base; Bob Ostendorf, third; base; Bud Nissen, pitching. Lineup changed frequently with Bob Nelson at first, Wes Boller in right field and Russell Gaetzke at third base.

Belmond's score came in the first inning on a three-base hit by Marchese who scored when Stoltenberg brought him home on an infield drive too hot for the pitcher to handle, with the ball bouncing around infield.

Belmond's four hits came from the bats of Lansing, R. Gaetzke, Marchese and Stoltenberg. Eddy pitched for Rockwell. Boelman caught for Nissen all the way. There were 12 strike-outs for both pitchers.

Wright County Nearing 300% of Quota - Leads State Cancer Drive

Mrs. Maurice Crabbe Of Eagle Grove Heads New Officers As Chairman

At a campaign victory meeting of the Wright County Cancer Society held at Clarion last Thursday, Mrs. Sally Fosse, speaker from the State Cancer Society reported that Wright county, having almost reached 300 per cent of its quota, leads the state so far in the 1949 Cancer Fund drive.

Belmond, with $700.00 raised for the Cancer Fund, and Eagle Grove with $1000, are the other two towns in the county to exceed their quotas. Three top townships with most complete returns to date are Grant, Lincoln and Boone.

In her talk Mrs. Fosse explained how the cancer funds are being used: 25 cents out of every dollar goes to the National Cancer Fund for scientific study, research and educational purposes. 12 cents is used for administration purposes. The remainder stays in the state and money is allocated back to each county for local use.

University of Iowa was given $3500 for cancer research. In Wright county local funds have been used to increase the facilities of the Wright County Loan Closet so that all sick room supplies may be available to anyone needing them. Aid has also been given cancer patients as recommended by the Service Committee, which is made up of doctors in each town. More aid to cancer patients will be available in the county as more money is raised.

At a meeting of officers and committees of the Wright County Cancer Society in Clarion last Tuesday, May 10, the year's activities and results of the fund campaign were reveiwed and officers for the new year beginning in September were elected.

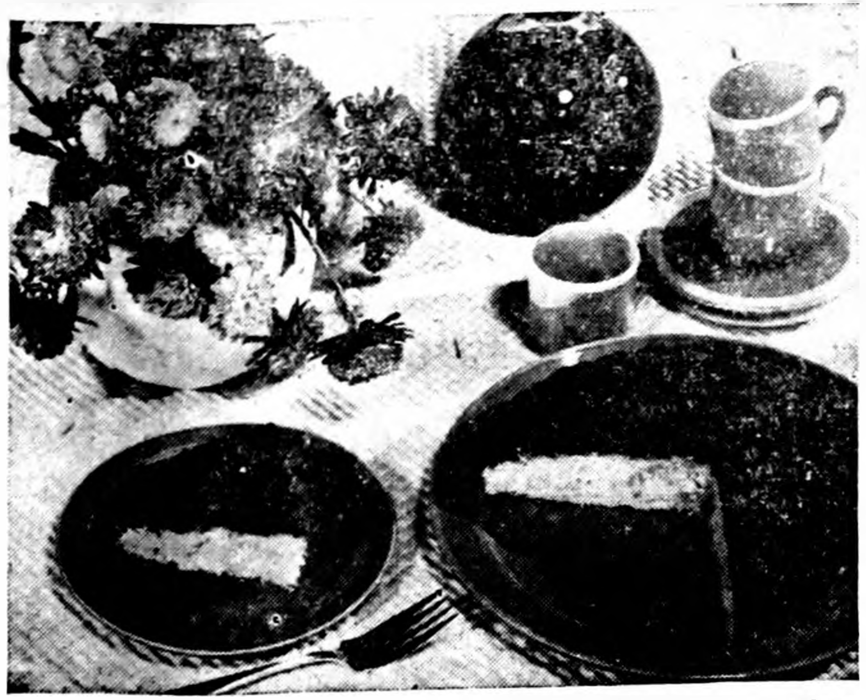
For Friendly Hospitality

It's Always Coffee Time



And time of day is coffee time. Whether you serve doughnuts, coffee cake or cup cakes for accompaniments, or "just" coffee, it's always a sociable time of relaxation. Food authorities give tips on planning for coffee parties.

There's little excuse needed for "coffees. They are as universal as a friendly "good morning," and certainly one of our easiest ways of entertaining. No one needs a second invitation for a cup of coffee, whether it is served at the kitchen table or in style in the living room.

Coffee parties can be as cozy as seating the family around the kitchen table for a coffee gabfest. They can be as informal as your gay pottery and quickly made coffee cake would indicate. Jewel Graham, extension nutritionist, Iowa State College, says that there are no hard-and-fast rules about "coffees." There are many ways of serving this favorite beverage. The main thing to remember is to keep your service convenient and to plan the occasion so it will reflect the gracious hospitality of your home.

Foods To Serve

For a coffee, the dishes can be less dainty than for a tea. Substantial foods — coffee cake, doughnuts cup cakes, cinnamon and fruit rolls are always in order. Or serve cinnamon rolls, hot rolls with butter and jam, cheese wedges or cream cheese spreads with warm breads.

Perhaps you'd like to add a plate of crisp relishes. Radishes, celery, carrot sticks, pickled onions, ripe or green olives or tiny sweet pickles are appropriate. Prunes stuffed with nuts or creamed cheese, and filled dried apricot halves or stuffed dates are good additions to the menu also.

Arrange your coffee tray or small table where it will be most convenient. Perhaps you would like to use the breakfast nook. Or you may prefer to have your party around the kitchen or dining room table, or in the living room.

Set your table with cups and saucers or plates, and spoons, as well as the coffee pot, cream and sugar, and foods you plan to serve.

For Larger Parties

There will be occasions when you wish to entertain a larger group of friends at a coffee. Make your plans much as you would for a tea. This does not necessarily mean that the party will have to be more formal in atmosphere. It does mean that the foods may be more festive, and your table will be arranged in keeping with the occasion.

Simple foods such as cookies and sandwiches are all you need to serve, or, if you wish, make a specialty of hot buttered rolls or hot buscuits and your own home made jam. Iced coffee is welcome on hot summer days. Nuts and mints will make the occasion more festive.

Place your table where it will be the center of attraction. Bring out your best china and a pretty tea cloth, and arrange your table so you can serve your guests easily and have opportunity to visit with them.

How you serve coffee is a matter of your own choice. But here is a suggestion to make things go smoothly. As hostess, you sit at the table or tray and "pour." Add cream or sugar to the coffee according to each guests's request. Or you may decide to let your guests serve themselves to cream or sugar later. Put the spoon on the saucer, and place the cup and saucer and a napkin on the plate. Each guest takes a plate and then helps herself to food.

SEVEN

If seven is a lucky number, Alf Vaala of New Hampton had a red-letter day recently. His seven sisters and families all showed up to help him observe his birthday, the first time in years the group had been together.

LIGHTNING

Lightning struck the Buresh brothers barn near Riceville recently, but won't strike it again. The barn isn't there any more. It burned to the ground.

Canned Bean Sprouts Go with Steak

BEAN sprouts used so extensively in chop suey and chow mein dishes take on a thoroughly American air when French fried and served with steak. Fried, these thin white sprouts, have the texture of onions but offer a new and delicate flavor. This side dish with steak may be made in 5 minutes because the bean sprouts need only be dredged in flour and fried.

Bean sprouts are the off shoots of the mung bean. Until 1940 we imported these sprouts from the Orient. When the war cut off the supply, American farmers, who had long been raising mung beans as a cover and forage crop, began employing special harvest precautions which are essential when the beans are to be sprouted.

From a small yield in 1940, the plantings of mung beans reached a total of over 14 million pounds in 1946. When sprouted, each pound of mung beans will produce from 6 to 8 pounds of bean sprouts. Today, almost all the bean sprouts produced in this country are canned. Evidence of the growing demand for this food is the fact that a pack of 5,000 pounds a day used to be considered a very large production. Now the same canner may put up 15,000 to 20,000 pounds a day.

Bean sprouts are still largely used in Chinese dishes, but they take to Yankee cookery . . . being delicious in soups, as an ingredient in stuffed peppers, as a vegetable dish, in mixed green and fruit salads. Besides their novel flavor they offer important food values They are a very good source of Vitamin C and B and offer fair amounts of Vitamin A. They are fiber-free, easily digested and low in calories. Win praises from your family at dinner by serving French fried bean sprouts with steak or grilled hamburgers. Here is the recipe for:

French Fried Bean Sprouts

½ teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon pepper
1 No. 2 can bean sprouts, drained
¼ cup milk

Mix flour, salt and pepper together. Dip bean sprouts in milk and then dredge in seasoned flour a few at a time so that more flour will adhere to each one. Fry in deep, hot fat (380°F.) 2 to 4 minutes, until light brown. Drain on soft paper. YIELD: 6 servings.

Jay Tice And Leroy Tendall Farms In Mystery Photos Some Weeks Ago

Two Mystery Farms which appeared in the Independent some weeks ago, whose occupants had not some in to the office to claim their free enlargements of farm pictures, were identified last week by Bill Dempsey and August Trager as the Jay Tice and LeRoy Tendall farms.

TICE FARM

The Tice farm is 208 acres in size and is located southwest of Belmond between Cornelia and Elm Lakes. Mr. Tice and his wife, who are retiring from the farm, spent the winter in Phoenix, Arizona while their son Donald, and wife Mary have been living on the farm.

This year they will have 100 acres in corn, 50 in oats and pasture. Donald is feeding 60 head of Shorthorn cattle, 200 Poland China pigs and milks eight to ten cows. Mrs. Tice is taking care of 600 White Rock chickens.

The house on the Tice farm has been remodeled recently.

TENDALL FARM

LeRoy Tendell, owner of the other Mystery Farm, has been on the place since 1942. 240 acres in size, the farm is located five miles south of Belmond. Tendall has remodeled the house, built a new shed recently, changed positions of some of the buildings and done considerable painting.

He is planting his farm this year in corn, oats and beans, raises Spotted Poland China hogs, some sheep and feeds quite a few cattle.

The Tendall family includes five children: Mrs. Carrol Bakken, who lives on a farm near Clarion; Adeline at home; Ruby who teaches at Thor; Roger, a senior in high school at Clarion, and Marilyn, in the eighth grade at Clarion.

Occupants of Mystery Farms shown in the Independent are reminded to call at the office for free enlargement of picture and to give information about farm and family for publication the following week.

Fred Loeffler Jr. Has Operated Mystery Farm 34 For Past 5 Years

For the past five years Fred Loeffler, Jr. has rented the 200 acre farm at the west edge of Belmond which is owned by Roy Tudor of Webster City.

The farm buildings are all modern, the owner having lived on the place and improved it before the Loeffler family moved there.

Loeffler will have 100 acres in corn this year, 40 acres in beans, 30 acres in oats and the balance in pasture. He has 80 head of white hogs and 15 head of mixed breed cattle.

Poultry include 400 Hy-Line straight run chickens, 200 hens, a few ducks and geese.

The Loefflers have two children, Ronald, 10 years of age, and Jackie, seven. Both go to school in Belmond.

Fishing is the main hobby of the family. They go to Minnesota four or five times a year where Mrs. Loeffler's parents own the town (or village) of Pennington in the northern part of the state, operating a business which includes general store, filling station, post office, etc.

Mystery Farm number 35 may be found this week in an advertisement sponsored by the Mussell Chevrolet Company. Occupants of farms shown in the Independent are reminded to stop at the office to receive free enlargement of farm picture and to give information about farm and family for publication the following week.

REDUCE WRIGHT CO. SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICE TO PART TIME

A personal ceiling has been imposed on the Selective Service System. The state of Iowa has been allotted a maximum ceiling effective June 1, 1949. In order to come within the established maximum, the following actions are necessary.

A. Separate all intermittent employees.

B. Reduce to half-time all local board offices which administer less than 1500 registrants, as reported March 31, 1949.

H. V. Schoonover, chairman of the Wright County Local Board, reports Wright County had a total of 1251 registrants on March 31, 1949; therefore, effective June 1, 1949, the local board office is established as a half-time office. Hours will be from 8:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon, Monday through Friday of each week.

Brig. Gen. AGD Charles H. Grahl of Iowa State Headquarters Selective Service System states, "There appears to be little doubt that the Selective Service System will continue—as is. The international situation warrants continued registration and classification. Time is the most important element in preparation for the defense of our Nation.

In the event of a general mobilization, the lack of a Selective Service System actually in operation might be the difference between quick and certain victory, and national disaster. The very existence of a Selective Service System, assuring rapid mobilization of manpower, serves as a deterent upon any would-be aggressor. The lack of such a system may invite attack. The importance of the local boards and members thereof, and their contribution to the military security of America, is in no wise minimized in the present period of limited activity. How much better it is to have something and not need it, than to need something and not have it!"

Texas Gaining Industry Fast

Houston, Tex., is the center of the nation's fastest growing industrial area. There, in 1946-'47, more than 80 million dollars was invested in plants as against 69 million in the New York area. On a per capita basis this amounts to $106 against $5.40 for New York and $14 for Los Angeles, according to Pathfinder.

X-Ray Diagnosis

As an aid in diagnosis, X-rays provide two different methods of examination. One is known as radiography, whereby a permanent record of the X-ray image of various parts of the body is made on the film. The other method is known as fluoroscopy, which affords a means of visual study of the X-ray shadowed on a fluorescent screen. An X-ray film, or adiograph, of any part of the body is similar to a photograph except that it is fundamentally a shadowgraph rather than a picture produced by reflected light.

Indians Named 'Em

From the Indians and Spaniards Colorado takes many names for its towns, rivers and mountains, such as Sangre de Cristo, blood of Christ; Colorado, color red; San Juan, St. John; Cimarron, wild or unruly; Culebra, snake; Cucharas, spoon; Pueblo, Indian village; Rio Grande, grand river; La Veta, the vein; La Junta, the junction.

Too Many Mistakes

Pencil industry uses about two and one-quarter million pounds of rubber per year for erasers.

"Newcastle" Severe Poultry Disease Diagnosed In Wright County

Several cases of Newcastle, a severe poultry disease, has been positively diagnosed within the past few weeks in Wright County according to Aaron R. Bowman, County Extension Director.

Newcastle, a comparatively new disease to the Western Hemisphere, has been known as a most severe disease in European countries, the Philippines, East and West Indies, for many years.

Identification of the disease in Wright County was made by Dr. C. D. Lee, Extension Veterinarian of Iowa State College, cooperating with local veterinarians.

The disease affects chickens of all ages and is due to a filterable virus. It may be transmitted by contact with infected birds, contact with infected houses, equipment, litter, and on the clothing of man. The recovered bird is a carrier and capable of maintaining the virus on the farm or spreading the disease to young chicks. The disease is airborne and the air in infected houses contain enough virus to transmit the disease. Live virus vaccine may transmit the disease at least for a short time, by way of vaccinated birds.

According to Dr. Lee the symptoms of the disease in young chicks is difficult breathing, gasping and rattling noises when breathing, generally followed by nervous symptoms such as lameness, running in circles, and inability to stand and tumbling

In older birds, particularly laying birds, coughing, sneezing, lameness, twisting of the neck, eye and nasal discharges are seen.

The most characteristic symptoms in a laying flock is a tendency to lay most of the eggs on the floor, laying odd shaped eggs, and a sudden drop in production. The drop in production may go to almost nothing in 48 hours.

The cases of Newcastle disease diagnosed in Wright County were in laying flocks, and young chicks. In two cases the young chicks died or were destroyed. Mortality may run from 5 to 85 percent. In younger chicks the high mortality is generally true. In older birds the mortality is generally low, from 0 to 2 or 3 per cent. However, outbreaks have been known with 45 percent mortality.

Several of the outbreaks of this disease in Wright County were from shipped-in chicks, which may have acquired the disease in transit. So far there are no known cases of the disease in the commercial hatcheries in the county.

Poultry produeers should call a veterinarian whenever there are suspicious symptoms of the disease.

It is very important that sanitary pre-cautions be followed so as not to infect clean flocks. Hatcheries and farm flocks owners should not allow visitors to enter premises where chicks are hatched or in brooder where chicks are being raised. Men servicing poultry, as in culling or delivering eggs to hatcheries, should change clothing and disinfect equipment between stops.

There is no known drug treatment for Newcastle disease once a bird has become infected. Many older birds do recover but are out of production for several weeks

VOL. 30 NO. 32 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER Belmond Wright County, Iowa Thursday, May 26, 1949 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER The Family Newspaper

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

Two very happy people called at the Independent last week. Mr. and Mrs. George C. Johnson came in to place a "Thank You" advertisement and show the editor an award presented to Mr. Johnson for his 48 consecutive years of service as secretary of the Belmond township school district. In addition to the award his friends in Belmond township who presented him with a wreath of dollar bills in appreciation of his service.

George has lived on the same farm for over 70 years, the same place where he was born.

—MS—

Mrs. L. Van Dusseldorp of Thornton contributes some comments of her observations to Main Street this week as follows:

"Our girl's S. S. teacher was showing the boys and girls various pictures last Sunday. They came to one of a young couple bringing their baby forward for baptism. Discussion followed and remarks were heard such as 'I've been baptized,' 'I haven't been,' 'I'M going to be etc.' Our six-year old waited gravely until it was quiet then confided to her teacher, 'I've been baptized but I haven't had my tonsils out yet.'"

—MS—

"My favorite columist, Lois Myers, refers to the dandelion as the 'flower of youth.' Indeed, I agree, as for years I've observed children reveling in the golden blooms. Too bad they wilt so fast, but children don't notice. They've had their fun in picking them and presenting the bouquets to the handiest victim! This spring a family of my acquaintance moved some distance to another farm home. All was fine. The parents and children quickly adjusted themselves to the new community until last week, when the little seven-year old girl started to cry and said 'I just hate to live here because there aren't any dandelions in our yard!!"

"Are there more traffic accidents north of Belmond than general average or does it just seem like it? Two motorcyclists passed our car just at Goodell Sunday--the one crashed a half mile farther down the road. What a ghastly sight! Seems sometimes that our traffic accidents are simply appalling and then again when I stop to consider the size, population, immense stretches of roads and vast number of motor vehicles in operation, it almost seems a fairly safe means of travel."

—MS—

Our Kanawha correspondent sends in a news item this week to the effect that one of the residents of that community is now driving a new Buick car, jokingly known as a "4-holer." As far as we can remember, the best we have seen around Belmond is a Buick "3-holer."

Earl Johnson, 37, Drowns Last Sunday While Fishing

Is Second Drowning Remembered At Cornelia

Military services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist Church in Belmond for Earl Johnson, 37, who drowned at Lake Cornelia Sunday morning. Reverend W. L. Patterson officiated at the services and burial was in the Belmond cemetery. Fulton Funeral home was in charge.

Johnson was fishing with two other Belmond men, Gene Broderson and Laverne Neuhring. Their boat capsized when they went to pull up anchor. Broderson and Neuhring swam to shore but Johnson was unable to swim. A fourth member of the fishing party, Morris Johnson, brother of the drowned man, was fishing from the shore.

Clarion Fire Department was called to drag the lake and searched for an hour and 35 minutes before the body was was found about 100 feet from shore on the northeast side of the lake which is the deepest part. An attempt at resuscitation was unsuccessful.

Johnson was unmarried. He had been working a shift at the new Central States Power Plant at Belmond. He is a son of William Johnson of Belmond.

According to a report from Sheriff Roy E. Wilson, this is the second drowning that anyone can remember in Lake Cornelia. The other occurred about 1935 when a young man from Webster City, about 21 years of age, who was in a swimming party, fell from a boat near the dock at Wilson's Point.

Friendly Service Chapter of FFA Continues Activities In Summer

Officers Elected For New Year, Take Over In Fall

Unlike other school organizations, the Belmond Friendly Service Chapter of Future Farmers of America, will continue its activities through the summer, Duane Sandage, vocational agriculture instructor said this week.

Livestock and crop judging teams will be formed to judge at the Iowa State Fair. Several boys will exhibit their projects at Eagle Grove and at the State Fair. Several softball games are scheduled with neighboring chapters.

Ten F. F. A. seniors, who received their high school diplomas at Commencement last week, will have a seven-day trip to the Yellowstone Park area early in July, accompanied by Mr. Sandage. The trip will be financed in large part by funds these boys are raising through the sale of hog minerals.

Officers for the next year were elected at a regular meeting held May 16, with Curtis Mennenga replacing Bill McLaughlin as chapter president. Other new officers include Robert Redmond, vice president; Jim Thompsen, secretary; Frederick Loats, treasurer; Laurence Ziller, reporter; Louis Oberhauser, sentinel.

The new officers will not accept their responsibilities until the first regular meeting after school begins next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece Redmond spent Sunday at the Tim Wilson home in Forest City.

Says "Every Person Has Individual Responsibility"

TELLS of UNITED NATIONS PROGRESS

Tuck Langton, Trade Extension Manager of Coast-to-Coast Stores, President of the Minnesota United Nations Association and Regional Vice-president of the American Association for the United States in an address before the Belmond Chamber of Commerce last week said, "Every person has an individual responsibility for the success of United Nations. It is the one organization in the world today that is holding it together.

"Every nation has to defend its actions in the light of the obligations which it has undertaken under the UN charter. It is tackling the most difficult problems in the world. The recent addition of Israel as the 59th member is an illustration of a solution on one of the most difficult problems that has faced the world for two thousand years. Israel will be a living example of democracy in an area that is primarily feudalistic in background and history.

"Most of the publicity has been on the political disputes but even there great progress has been made by persistent arbitration, negotiation and conciliation. It has made progress in Iran, Syria, Lebanon, Greece, Korea, Indonesia and Kashmir. A guard force of 1,000 men is under consideration by the United Nations Assembly and will probably be created. [illegible] will wear United Nations uniforms and pledge [illegible] the United Nations. [illegible] peace making teams to such areas as Greece, Kashmir, Indonesia, etc.

"One of the greatest achievements in the history of mankind was the writing of the Declaration of Human Rights. This means that for the first time every person anywhere in the world has the inalienable right to be considered a human personality. Our biggest responsibility is to make our practices in human rights in harmony with the obligations that we have undertaken under the charter.

"Little publicity has been given to the achievements in the social, economic and cultural fields. Yet last year three were 3000 meetings at Lake Success, 1800 at Geneva, Switzerland, and 1,000 in other parts of the world. We are working on problems of health, finance, agriculture, and many other fields through the World Bank, stablization fund, world health organizations, food and agriculture organizations, international labor organizations, etc.

"Study of the United Nations charter, read about its problems and achievements, learn about other people and how they live. Let us remember that intense personal interest in the success of this organization will enable it to succeed."

Mrs. Edith Allen returned Friday from Iowa City, after going through the clinic at the State University hospital.

New City Ordinance Requires Numbering Permanent Buildings

P T A WILL CONTACT PROPERTY OWNERS ABOUT UNSAFE WELLS, CISTERNS

Attention is called to the Belmond City Council Proceedings of a special meeting on May 17 which are printed in this week's issue of the Independent and to the publication of an ordinance passed and an ordinance amended at that meeting.

NUISANCE WELLS — CISTERNS

Ordinance No. 78 amends section 1 of revised ordinance No. 28 by adding the following, "Open wells and cisterns, uncovered wells and cisterns and improperly covered wells and cisterns are hereby deemed nuisances."

The amendment to the "Nuisance" ordinance was passed by the City Council at a special meeting after a petition was circulated by the P. T. A. and Chamber of Commerce which was signed by over 200 residents of the city and presented to the city council.

The "Nuisance" ordinance provides for a notice to be served upon property owners to abate the nuisance within 24 hours and if not abated within that time the city shall abate the nuisance and certify the costs to the county auditor to be collected as a special tax. The ordinance also provides penalties: for a fine not to exceed $100 or imprisonment not to exceed 30 days for violation of the ordinance.

In connection with the passing of the amendment to the "Nuisance' 'ordinance, a committee of the P. T. A. is making a survey of the city of Belmond for all wells and cisterns with unsafe covers and will get into contact with property owners concerning all such wells and cisterns which need to be either filled or covered safely with concrete.

NUMBERS

Ordinance No. 79 has to do with the establishment of a system of numbering for all permanent buildings facing on public streets, requiring property owners to install and maintain numbers and prescribing penalties for violation. The ordinance provides for the preparation of a plan for the numbering by the City Clerk which will be kept for public inspection so that the owner of any principal building may, by applying and furnishing accurate description of premises and location of building receive a certificate of the correct number to be placed on the building.

Numbers are available at the City Clerk's office.

Legion Auxiliary Sponsors Poppy Sale Saturday

Next Saturday, May 28, is Poppy Day when this memorial flower of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary will be sold in Belmond.

The sale is under the sponsorship of the Legion Auxiliary but the poppies will be sold by Belmond Girl Scouts.

At the time the American Legion Auxiliary adopted the poppy as its Memorial Flower, it pledged the profits from the poppy sales to welfare relief for service men and women and their families, thus fulfilling the true meaning of the poppy—an emblem of faith which is being kept with all who died, through service to the living.

The memorial poppies are made of red crepe paper, by hand, by disabled veterans in hospitals and poppy workrooms in forty states. Workers receive pay for each poppy made, the material being furnished free by the Department in the state in which the hospital is located. Disabled service men and women earn more than $300,000 annually for making the poppies.

Proceeds from the sale of over 25,000,000 poppies annually amount to more than $2,000,000 every penny of which is devoted to rehabilitation work by both the Legion and Auxiliary which includes aid to needy veterans and their families.

Marlyn Dorr and Leonard Anderson were Sunday night supper guests at the Clifford Anderson home in Klemme.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Wallace To Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Hostesses will be the two daughters, Mrs. Edward Wilkans of Alexander and Mrs. Edwin King of Hamill, S. D.

Dr. and Mrs. Wallace were married at the home of Mrs. Wallace's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lindley at Grand River, Iowa. They have lived in Belmond all but 14 years of their married life. Dr. Wallace started his medical practice here about 60 years ago.

Business Places Close Monday for Memorial Day

According to an announcement from R. W. Courson, president of the Belmond Chamber of Commerce, Belmond business places will be closed next Monday, May 30, in observance of the Memorial Day holiday. Possible exceptions may be cafes, service stations and drug stores.

Memorial Day services will be held at the Belmond cemetery next Monday morning, May 30, with the Reverend Alfred B. McKeith, pastor of the Congregational church, delivering the Memorial address.

Visiting around Iowa

by Joe Marsh

Iowans Live Longer

An insurance man told me the other day that farmers live longer than the people in big cities.

It's partly the pace, of course. Partly a person's attitude toward things in general.

We Iowans are fortunate that way. Most of us believe in moderation, a temperate way of life.

Whether we enjoy an evening at the movies, a temperate glass of beer or ale, an ice cream soda on a hot afternoon, or just a good visit with the neighbors . . . our tastes are moderate. That's good for us.

Notice another thing about Iowa people. Their attitude of moderation makes them more tolerant toward the other fellow, too. I may not agree with Cousin Harry on what he thinks, or likes, or where he spends his money. But I respect his rights to HIS OWN point of view. We don't try to push each other around. And all of us lead happier lives.

Yes, Iowa is a grand place to live . . . and to live a LONG TIME.

Decoration Day

Today we join in humility before the great sacrifices that our neighbors and countrymen made in defending our way of life. We are reminded of the debt that all of us owe to them . . . a debt to be paid not only with monuments and wreaths, but with our determination to perpetuate and protect the way of life for which they fought so valiantly.

Thayer Bought Mystery Farm In 1942, Son Gail Lives There

Mystery Farm 37 which appeared in last week's issue of the Independent is owned by Ralph Thayer who bought the 160 acre farm in 1920 and farmed it until [illegible]. His son Orval moved on the farm at that time and operated it until two years ago when he moved to a farm near Burchinal.

Another son, Gail, has been operating the farm the past two years. This year he will have 20 acres in sweet corn which will be delivered to the canning factory at Hampton, 70 acres in regular corn, [illegible] acres in oats and 20 acres in pasture. He has 150 spring pigs, is milking 10 cows and his wife is taking care of 400 spring chickens.

Although the Thayers have a big garden, it is'nt such hard work since most of the cultivating is done with the tractor.

The house on the Thayer farm is undergoing remodelling this year which will make all the buildings modern and in good condition. The barn and several other buildings have been built since 1937 when a tornado struck the farm. destroying all the buildings except the house and a corn crib.

The Gail Thayers have one child, Randall, age two and a half years.

As far as hobbies are concerned Mr. Thayer says he is a fisherman. The family takes a fishing trip to Minnesota about every fall.

Mystery Farm 38 may be found this week in an advertisement sponsored by Elmer Johnson. Occupants of farms shown in the paper are reminded to stop at the Independent office to claim free enlargement of picture and to give information about farm and family for publication the following week.

Mystery Farm 35 Home Of Albert Rabe Family

The 120 acre "Mystery Farm 35", which appeared in the Independent issue of May 12, is owned by August Rabe and occupied by his son Albert and family which includes his wife Goldie and their two children, Gloria, 12 years of age, and Nadine, nine.

The farm is located three miles north of Belmond on the gravel road. It has a completely modern house, built new in 1947. Latest improvement i s a new hen house constructed the following year.

Rabe is putting 45 acres in corn, 30 acres in oats, 10 or 11 in beans and the rest will be in hay and pasture. He milks 10 cows—has a mixed herd—and is feeding 80 head cross bred hogs. Last year they raised 800 New Hampshire chickens, this year they have 500 Leghorns.

Mrs. Rabe takes care of a garden in the summer and does a lot of the canning for family use.

Here's a different kind of dollar . . .

This is a telephone investor's dollar. It comes from countless individuals or business firms who invest money in telephone company stocks and bonds. This is a different kind of dollar because it is the only kind that can be used for telephone expenses. In contrast, the money received for telephone service is used to pay wages, taxes and other operating expenses. It also helps pay for the use of the investor's dollar. By operating on a sound, businesslike basis, we are able to attract the investors' dollars which help to give Americans the world's finest telephone service.

Field Day On Corn Borer-Weed Control June 3

There is a lot more to controlling the corn borer than just applying DDT, Aaron R. Bowman, County Extension Director points out in announcing a Field Day on control of corn borers and weeds and extending an invitation to everyone.

The Field Day will be held at Sheldon's addition, just east of Clarion, beginning at 1:30 p. m. on Friday, June 3.

Speakers from Iowa State College will include Dr. Harold Gunderson on corn borers; Dr. E. P. "Dutch" Sylvester on weed control; and Dale Woolsoncroft on demonstration of sprayer nozzle attachments. In addition to the speeches there will be spraying demonstrations by airplanes and ground equipment.

Stopping corn borer damage requires fast work in June, Bowman states. He further explains, "When you count 50 or more white masses of eggs per stalk in corn 35 inches tall, you have a leeway of five days or less for treating for maximum kill. If there are a lot of black-head masses, you have still less time in which to get most effective control."

Average infestation in the county last fall was 361 borers per 100 stalks. Winter mortality has ranged from 5 to 35.6 percent in the state and Bowman doesn't think that any heavier toll was taken in this county. In other words, he says that enough of the borers have survived to seriously threaten early planted corn.

Say . . What did they assess you?

You have waited patiently for the notice of your 1949 real-estate assessment, and we expect to have it in the mail by the end of the week.

Personal property assessments will follow shortly.

How does your assessment compare to similar property, or to like stocks of merchandise?

How does your assessment compare with that of your neighbor?

Upon close examination you will find the comparison looks good, looks fair and the valuations conservative.

What will your taxes be for each $1,000 of valuation? I sincerely wish that I could answer that question, however, NOBODY KNOWS AT THIS TIME! Millages fluctuate according to the needs of school, city, county, state. If all factors, except valuations, are the same as last year, the millage will drop in the same proportion to any over-all increase in assessed value.

If your assessment is equitable with your neighbor, then you have what you have so often expressed a desire for—EQUALIZATION ! !

There will be errors, but they will be very few, and if you honestly feel that your assessment is out of line, then come in at once and talk it over.

Memorial Day

The general observance of Memorial Day dates from 1868. It began as a ceremony devoted to the decoration of the graves of soldiers only, with special reference to those engaged in the Civil War. The idea originated with the women of the South, who as early as 1863, began the practice of strewing flowers upon the graves of both Union and Confederate soldiers. From the beginning the women of the South referred to the day as Memorial Day. Different women's groups in the South visited different cemeteries in the South each year to lay flowers upon the graves of the fallen soldiers. They visited the cemeteries at Vicksburg, Winchester, Virginia and other cemeteries where soldier dead were buried.

In May of 1865 Adjutant General Chipman of the Grand Army of the Republic, the organization of Union Veterans, suggested to General John A. Logan, the commander in chief of the G. A. R. that similar arrangements be made to decorate the graves of the Union soldiers. The plan was not approved by the G. A. R. until May 30 of 1868, at which time a day was designated for this purpose to be known as Decoration Day. For a good many years the day was known as Decoration Day in the North and Memorial Day in the South.

Within recent years the day has become generally known in the North as well as the South as Memorial Day. For many years the program for the observance of the day in the North consisted of oratorical glorification of the victories achieved by the Northern armies. With the passing of years the flamboyant oratory disappeared, and the day became one of thoughtful remembrance of all departed friends.

Though several wars have been fought since the war of the states, on Memorial Day no distinction is made. The graves of the Soldier dead are strewn with flowers, along with all other graves in all the cemeteries of the land.

Aid To Stable World

The boy who buys his first bicycle with his own earnings, and the man who drives his first car away after setting aside a buck a week from his part-time earnings, and the man who drives his first car away from the dealer's window—they all share a common feeling of pride.

That pride is ownership.

Ownership of property, no matter how small and how incidental to the necessities of life, is one of the greatest thrills of life in a free enterprise of economics.

This would be a much more stable world if more Americans planned their lives to experience the joy which is a part of ownership.—Bulletin-Journal, Independence.

The Little Cattle Feeders met at the home of Cleon and Phil Prestholt May 19 at 8:00 o'clock. 15 members answered roll call by naming an insect. Mr. Olson gave a very interesting talk on soil and the different kinds of fertilizers to use on the different kinds of soil. We also discussed our club tour which will be June 21. Plans were made to have a wiener roast and a ball game with the Avery Hustlers at Goodell on May 31. Carrol made a motion the meeting be adjourned and was seconded by Leonard. Memorial Day
by Evan B. Johnson

We've Liberty—we the living—
Given by those who died,
Who died for us in the giving;
How soon our tears have dried.
God rest the souls of those who've gone,
But grant us not one day,
That's free from tears until the dawn
Of Peace that's ours for aye.

VOL. 30 NO. 33 · OFFICIAL CITY PAPER Belmond Wright County, Iowa Thursday, June 2, 1949 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER The Family Newspaper

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

J. H. Fetrow sends in the following comment for this week: "SUGGESTION—We have two ordinances on the books, but what we need is the enforcement of them and the other Laws we have in the interest of our public welfare. I suggest this enforcement. J. H. Fetrow."

TAXES TAXES TAXES

"How much are we going to get 'socked' for all real estate and personal property taxes?" This is a question which has been uppermost in the minds of property owners around here the last few days since they received their new valuations from the county assessor following the revaluation process which has been underway for several months.

From an exchange paper we learn that down in big Pottawattamie county the board of supervisors hired one of the professional appraisal firms to cover the county and place assessed valuations. Other counties that did not engage such expert workers have been watching carefully and getting pointers.

County Assessor Chet Bowers, of Council Bluffs, says levies in Pottawattamie towns should drop sharply, and estimating on the amount of money such towns collected in taxes last year, comes up with this astounding comparison. Avoca 77 mills lowered to 48; Oakland 102 mills to 51; Hancock 103 mills to 52; Macedonia 76 mills to 32, and Treynor 57 mills to 33.

It may not be too awful, after all!!!

—MS—

From the Northwood, Anchor, we clipped the following little story illustrative of the well known penny-pincher type of man.

"A man too stingy to subscribe to his hometown paper, sent his little boy to borrow a copy from a neighbor. In haste, the boy ran over a stand of bees and, in a few minutes, he looked like a warty summer squash. His father ran to his assistance, and, failing to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that, ruining a $9 pair of pants.

—MS—

Save these dates for a big one for the entire family, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 14 and 15, when the biggest and best summer celebration known is coming to Belmond. The two veteran organization of Belmond: American Legion and V. F. W. are combining efforts this year to make this event one long to be remembered.

FATHER DUANE BRADY CELEBRANT AT HIGH MASS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hanna, Jenette and Francis were Memorial day visitors at the M. J. Kernan home.

OUCH!

CORRECTION

A mistake was made in the story last week regarding Shirley Bohning, which stated she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Bohning. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bohning.

CORRECTION

In the Independent story regarding the Earl Johnson drowning at Lake Cornelia on Sunday, May 22, an error was made in stating that Gene Broderson and Laverne Neuhring swam to shore. The account should have read, Broderson swam toward the [illegible] shore and was picked up in [illegible] deep water by Omar Ersland, 18, who went out in a boat when he heard the men crying for help. Neuhring, who was wearing hip boots, managed to get them off in the deep water and then held onto the boat until picked up by Ersland."

FOR THE MAKING--

SPRINGTIME SALADS

Fresh rolls and tasty vegetable salads—what an appetizing combination to tempt winter-jaded appetites. Fact is, say nutritionists, that one reason garden-fresh foods taste so good is because they do contain many nutrients that winter-preserved foods just don't retain.

The first sprigs of asparagus from your garden patch or along the fence rows, the first green onions that get big enough for salads or eating "as is", and the first "mess" of greens you collect from the pasture or lawn—how good they taste.

Much as we need to can or freeze garden foods for winter months, there's nothing quite like a meal fresh from the garden. And there's plenty of reason, says Mildred Nelson, extension nutritionist, Iowa State College.

Dandelion Greens

Dandelion greens, tender and fresh, provide calcium. Asparagus and fresh peas are noted for the vitamin B-1 they contain. B-1 is the vitamin which adds pep, overcomes fatigue and promotes good appetities. All greens (including water cress) contain iron—the mineral which helps build a rich blood supply — and they also contain vitamins A and C, which build up our resistance to colds and infections.

Thus it's only natural, after missing out on the freshness of these foods, to relish them in springtime meals. They help to satisfy that "hidden hunger" so many folks have, but never realize. "Hidden hunger" Miss Nelson explains is the sort of hunger we don't feel but just keeps us from really good health. It comes from being just under the borderline of getting enough vitamins and other nutrients.

Vegetable Salads

Canned vetgetables, fresh vegetables or leftover ones can make up a wide variety of salads. Just now at the in-between season, a delightful salad can be made by combining water cress, tart apples and nuts. Add avocados if you wish. Use a fruit dressing.

Cooked peas, carrots and beets make excellent partners when marinated for salad. Or combine lettuce, new green onions, radishes, carrots and sweet peppers for a tossed salad. Dandelion greens or spinach along with hard-cooked eggs and crisp bacon serve the purpose well. Likewise asparagus cooked and then combined with other vegetables and marinated is good.

Here is a good recipe for making the marinade for cooked vegtables: Use 3 tablespoons salad oil, 6 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon onion juice and 1 teaspoon celery seed. Toss lightly and let stand in a cold place.

Miss Nelson says this marinade is also excellent in preparing meat, poultry or fish for salads.

Ring-Mold Salad

Perhaps one of the easiest recipes to prepare is a vegetable ring-mold salad. It can be made in advance and put away in the refrigerator until needed.

Use 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin, 2 tablespoons vinegar, ¼ cup sugar, 1 cup chopped raw vegetables, ¼ cup cold water, 1 cup hot vegetable juice and ½ teaspoon salt.

Soften the gelatin in water. Add vegetable juice, sugar and salt. Stir until dissolved. Add vinegar and lemon juice. Chill until syrupy. Fold in raw vegetables. Pour into mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Fill center with potato salad if you wish. Garnish with deviled eggs.

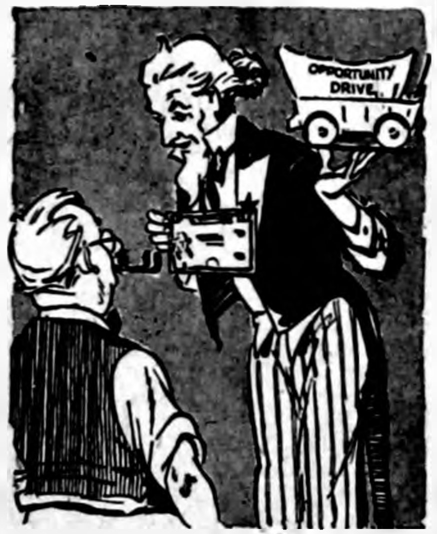
Uncle Sam Says



Everyone will have a part in the U. S. Savings Bonds great "Opportunity Drive May 16-June 30. The armed forces are responding to the call for volunteer assistance by offering to fly a number of covered wagons to Independence, Mo., for a big ceremony marking opening of the drive. They will then transport the wagons to various States. The covered wagons typify the difference between the terrible hardships the original 49'ers went through in their search for riches and security and how easy it is for the modern 49'er to build for a secure future. Today you are given the opportunity to invest in U. S. Savings Bonds—the easy way to pile up riches. In ten short years you will receive $100 for every $75 invested.
